THE KENT NEWS

CHESTER TOWN, MD.

Saturday, May 22, 1847.

Whig Meeting.

The Whigs of Kent will bear in mind that they are to meet, in Chester Town, on Tuesday next to select four delegates, to represent the Whigs of Kent in the Gubernatorial Convention which is to be held at Cambridge on the 16th of June next to nominate a candidate for Governor, to carry out the principles of the party.—They should remember, that the Governor to be elected will hold his office for three years, and that, should he be of adverse politics, all the advances we have made during the administration of Mr. Pratt, towards redeeming the honor of the State, may be lost. Let every good and true Whig, then, be at his post. The Whigs of Maryland are strong in numbers—their principles are worth contending for—the eyes of their political brethren throughout the Union are anxiously directed towards them—hundreds of thousands of patriot hearts are hourly offering up their aspirations, that the Whigs of Maryland may not trifle with their strength, and that they may, in the coming election, set such an example as will vouchsafe encouragement, hope and power, to the Whigs of every State within the bonds of the Union.

CATTLE SHOW.—We see by an advertisement in the last Easton Gazette, that the Agricultural Society of Talbot county, intend holding a Cattle Show and Fair, for the exhibition and sale of live stock, Agricultural Implements and household manufactures, to be held at Easton on Wednesday and Thursday the 27th and 28th of October next.

☞We are requested to state that Eliza beth M. Peart, a minister of the Gospel of the Society of Friends, from Pennsylvania, proposes holding a religious meeting, in the Methodist Protestant Church, Chester Town, to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. The inhabitants of the place are invited to attend.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—We learn from the Centreville Times of Ssturday last, that Mr. Richard Newman, formerly a merchant of that town, was killed in Hillsboro' on Tuesday last. He was assisting in hitching a very unruly horse to a cart, and while passing in front of him, the horse reared up and plunged forward, the wheel striking Mr. Newman in the back, breaking his spine, and causing his death in about an hour's time.

ENCAMPMENT POSTPONED.—We learn from the Wilmington Delaware Journal that the Committee of Arrangement for the contemplated Military Encampment at Elkton, which was to have commenced at that place on the 25th inst., have, for several reasons, been induced to postpone the consummation of that object, and substitute in lieu thereof, a Brigade parade, on the 25th inst., at said place.

Dinner to Com. Conner.

Over one hundred gentleman sat down, on Thursday; to a dinner at the Columbia House, Philadelphia. Hon. J. R. Ingersoll, presiding. Among the guests present, were Vice President Dallas, Com. Stewart and Morgan, his honor Mayor Swift, C J. Ingersoll, Capt. Engles, of the Princeton, and several other officers of the army and navy.

The sixth toast was:

6. Our guest, Com David Conner.—The intrepid sailor, the skilful officer twice tried in successive wars; daring and collected in the short and fierce conflicts of the one, and accomplishing his arduous and patriotic duties in the other by a brilliant example of naval enterprise.

The commodore arose amid loud cheering, and evidently much affected by the warmth and heartiness of his reception.—He asked to return his sincere thanks for the distinguished honor that he had conferred upon him. He felt sensible that he was indebted more to the kindness of his friends than to any merit of his own. Public speaking was foreign to his usual habits, but he could not permit this occasion to pass without the assurance that he should ever cherish a heartfelt recollection of this testimony conferred by so numerous and distihguished a body of his fellow-citizens. He proposed as a sentiment:

Our Country.—May her councils ever be guided by wisdom and justice, and long may she continue her bright career of glory and prosperity—the admiration of all nations.

☞Mr. Chas. Adams, tried last week in Queen Anne's County court, for manslaughter, in causing the death of a negro boy owned by him, was acquitted. It was proven that the result of the punishment inflicted on the boy was entirely accidental.

ARMY NEWS!

Later from the Army.

The New Orleans papers—the Picayune and Delta, particularly—contain a variety of intelligence from Mexico, from which we copy the following:

The city of Puebla had sent a deputation to Gen Scott, and will make no resistance to his occupation of that place.

Arrangements had been made to defend the capital, but after Gen. Pillow was on board at Vera Cruz he received a message from shore stating that an express had arrived with intelligence that the Mexican Government had abandoned the capital, taking with it the archives, and that the citizens had sent a deputation to Gen. Scott to advance and afford them protection.

Proclamations were being circulated by Mexicans calling for the organization of guerrilla regiments, which plan of warfare was to be adopted on an extensive scale.

In consequence of sickness, death, and loss in battle, it is said that Gen. Scott will not have left in his army more than about 5,000 effective men, after the return of the volunteers whose time shortly expires and whom Gen. Pillow states will return almost to a man. Of the seven regiments, he says not a company will remain.

Santa Anna's army was entirely dispersed, and he, wholly without power and influence, was seeking to leave his country.

Gen. Taylor remained at Monterey, and the main body of his army at Buena Vista, without any prospect of an immediate advance. All the new troops recently intended for him were, under a new order, to be sent to Vera Cruz.

A letter in the Delta from Vera Cruz, dated May 5th says:

The British Consul at this place has just received a communication from the British minister Mr. Bankhead, saying that the Mexican government has solicited the friendly mediation of his government to settle the difficulties between Mexico and the United States. I learned this morning that such a letter had been received from Mr. Bankhead, and at once called on the English Consul, who tells me that such is a fact. You may therefore rely on the accuracy of this statement.

Santa Anna is about forty miles from here, with 2,000 men, threatening to march in and sack Vera Cruz. This information comes from a Spanish merchant of this place, who came in yesterday from Mexico—he states that he saw Santa Anna who advised him to take his things out of the city, he should destroy everything in it.—This, of course, we consider as mere Mexican bravado, as it is not likely he would make his plan public, did he intend executing them. We are, nevertheless, practising our men (infantry) at the artillery, so as not to be taken by surprise.

We learn by letter from the city of Mexico that they have stopped throwing up entrenchments around the city, and do not intend standing a siege of bombardment.—For the first time since I have been in Mexico, I begin to think that the war is about drawing to a close.

The surrender of the City of Mexico is no longer a rumor, but is confirmed by an express from Gen. Scott, and we may fairly conclude that our gallant army is now "revelling in the halls of the Montezumas."

I learn from an officer of the Potomac, that the Navy are getting up an expedition to the South, embracing Campeachy, Tabasco and Huasacualco.

Another letter to the Picayune, dated Jalapa, May 4, says: There is a rumor that Santa Anna, with a large force, intends attacking the next upwards train, which will have a heavy amount in specie. It will be a costly experiment to him, for the wagons will be guarded by a force sufficient to keep off every firelock in Mexico.

The road along from Jalapa to Vera Cruz is dotted with the mangled and murdered bodies of our countrymen, who were caught straggling away from the parties with which they happened to be marching. One person counted no less than twenty-one victims of Mexican revenge on the line of road. The banditti which prowles about there, recently attacked a party of infantry, on their way to join the main body of the army. They fell back on the last wagon train, which was close in the rear. The escort charged on the rancheros, who, on the first fire, fled. One American was killed; it was not known how many Mexicans.

The Twelve Months' Volunteers.

THE RECRUITING SERVICE.—It is stated in the Union, that the terms of service of the several volunteer regiments mustered for the period of twelve months, will expire at the following dates:

Twelve months volunteers under Maj Gen. Scott.

Captain Blanchard's company Louisiana volunteers, July 30, 1847.

Colonel Coffee's Alabama regiment, between the 8th and 29th June, 1847.

Colonel Jackson's Georgia regiment, between the 10th and 19th June, 1847.

Colonel Forman's 3d Illinois regiment, between the 9th July and 2d July.

Colonel Baker's 4th Illinois regiment, between the 9th July and 2d July.

Baltimore and District of Columbia battalion, between the 30th May and 8th June, 1847.

Colonel Thomas' Tennessee mounted regiment, between the 6th and 15th June, 1847.

Colonel Campbell's 1st Tennessee foot, between the 28th May and 2d June, 1847.

Colonel Haskell's 2d Tennessee regiment, between the 4th and 18th June, '47.

Volunteers under Maj Gen. Taylor.

Three regiments of Ohio, between the 23d and 29th June, 1847.

Three regiments of Indiana, between the 18th and 26th June, 1847.

Two regiments of Illinois, between the 17th and 30th June, 1847.

Three regiments of Kentucky, between the 17th May and 16th June, 1847.

Mississippi regiment, between the 3d and 15th June, 1847.

Arkansas regiment, between the 30th June and 3d July, 1847.

The Union gives a list of sixty two companies of the ten new regiments, numbering in all 5,315 men, which are now at Point Isabel or en route to Mexico.

The Union add that the reinforcements for Gen'l. Scott's army, which for several weeks have been en route, including those that must reach Vera Cruz by the end of May, will be fully equal to number of twelve months men who are to be discharged in June and July, as they will of course remain in the field of service up to the end of the twelve months for which they are engaged.

☞Every battle field is the source of inexpressible grief, and woe, and agony. To say nothing of the gory victims that in such fields yield up their latest breath, who shall attempt to portray the agony that must pierce the hearts of their surviving friends! The battle of Buena Vista may be consecrated to fame, and poets may hymn its glories and attune their harps to sing the praise of the suvivors and to chaunt mournful requiems over the graves of the gallant dead; but that bloody field will also be consecrated to human woe. Each one of the thousands that were martyred to the fell spirit of war, had his friends, by whom his loss will be mourned. Many fathers there fell, leaving helpless children to struggle with the stormy tides of life, without the protection of the parental arm. Many husbands there died, leaving trusting wives to lament in bitterness of soul their loss. The dearly beloved sons of some hoary headed sires there sighed their last breath away, to be mourned awhile and soon to be followed to the land of spirits by those to whom their loss is irreparable. When we reflect on the desolation that will be carried to thousands of firesides—the gloom that will hang like a cloud over numberless homes, lately bright with the hues of happiness—the tears of orphans, the shrieks of wives, and mothers, and sisters, the groans of fathers, and sons, and brothers—the wide spread and lasting grief that will result from the carnage of the field of Buena Vista what heart can refuse its sympathy with the bereaved, or refrain from cursing the infatuation which renders such scenes of blood necessary?—Louisville Journal.

TEN DOLLARS FINE FOR KISSING!—Among the indictments tried before the Sussex Over and Terminer last week was one against William Snyder, of Stillwater, for an assault and battery on Miss Phoeba L Allen, with intent to kiss. The offence appeared by the testimony of the young lady to have been committed against her will. The court charged the jury, that this thing having been done against the will of the young lady, it constituted an assault and battery, of which, if they believed the testimony, they must find the defendant guilty, which they did, and the court imposed a fine of $10.—*Newark (N.J.) ☞Twenty States have voted for members of Congress. Eighty eight whigs and sixty nine locofocos have been elected, with eight vacancies to be filled. Should there be no change in the States yet to vote, there will be a tie in the House of Representatives. But it is almost impossible that such can be the case. The Whigs will gain in almost every State yet to elect. Their majority in the House will be ample for all useful purposes. The whole matter may be summed up in a few words. The locofocos had a clear majority of seventy in the last House of Representatives.—Twenty States have voted, and their majority has been entirely annihilated! The people have spoken and the acts of the Administration have been condemned.

Santa Anna Pass.

The following is a published as a copy of the pass granted by Mr. Polk, authorizing the admission of Santa Anna into Mexico to take command of the army in that country:

"The commander of our naval forces in the Gulf of Mexico is hereby notified NOT TO OBSTRUCT THE PASSAGE of General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna and suite to Mexico, should he desire to return thither.

JAMES K. POLK.

May 15, 1846."

How it has been made public it is not stated. Probably through the Instrumentality of some naval officer. We have no reason to doubt its genuineness, and should be glad if the Union would enlighten us with its present opinion as to the blunder in diplomacy, of which Mr. Polk has been accused in granting this document.—N. Y. Gen.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

HIS Excellency, George Bancroft, (says an English paper,) has returned to St. James after a short sojourn in the French capital. While there, he was engaged in making researches amongst the archives of the Foreign Office for materials to complete the forthcoming volume of his History of the United States. AN instance of the almost incredible results of the Magnetic Telegraph occurred to-day. Tribune.*

SANTA ANNA CLOCKS.—A witty auctioneer of Norfolk, a night or two since, finding his company slow at bidding for Clocks, put up "the last," and said.

A FRENCHMAN had his arm amputated at Woonsocket, R. I., while under the influence of the newly discovered Letheon or etherial anodyne. It was done in a half minute and with but slight symptoms of pain.

EXPLOITS.—The Balto. American says comparing these aggregates of exports from the whole Union, with those made from the port of Baltimore, it will be seen that of all the Flour exported abroad our city has shipped more than one third; of all the corn-meal, Baltimore has shipped one seventh; and of the wheat, about one fourteenth.

These statements, the general accuracy of which, may be relied on, speak well for Baltimore, and they also indicate, what the development and increase of her trade will be, under the wise policy which shall push her Railroad extension to the Ohio river, with the least possible delay.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ARRIVAL

OF THE BRITTANNIA.

14 Days Later.

Decline in Cotton—Advance in Bread Stuffs—depression in the Money Market &c. &c.

The steamer Britannia, which sailed from Liverpool on the 4th inst., arrived at Boston, on Monday afternoon.

She had a pleasant trip over, and has made the passage in about 13 days, and brings intelligence two weeks later than previously received.

A large number of passengers arrived in her, as well as an immense sum of specie, which is floating into our country by every arrival now from Europe.

There is a great depression in the English money market, which, however, is somewhat strengthened by the Russian government investing 2 millions of pounds sterling in English funds.

This, however, was counteracted on the 3d inst. by the reception of intelligence from the Continent raising the prices of Corn prodigiously.

The large quantity of breadstuffs and provision received in Ireland from the United States, for the starving poor, is the universal theme of eulogy through the Emerald Isle, while the unbounded generosity of the American people has elicited the admiration and applause of all Europe.

There has been some fluctuations in the prices of grain and flour during the month, but prices have settled down in the Liverpool market to 40 shillings for Western Canal flour.

American wheat is quoted at 10s. 6d. to 11s. 9d.

White wheat is quoted at 12s. to 12s. to 3d. per bushel.

On the 3d inst., in Liverpool, foreign wheat advanced 4s. per quarter.

Indian corn prior to the sailing of the steamer, was selling at 51 a 52 per 480 lbs. for white, and 52a53 for yellow.

During the last few days it apvanced 2s. per 70 lbs, and at the sailing of the steamar white corn was worth 56s to 58s per 480 lbs. and yellow at 58s.

Philadelphia and Baltimore flour was 6d. higher in Liverpool.

A few days ago not less than two thousand emigrants sailed from Hamburg for New York. In some parts of the country emigration is carried on to an alarming extent. Whole villages go away en masse, and entire districts become depopulated.

The latest accounts from Ireland represent the mortal career of the Lord Lieutenant as rapidly drawing to a close.

The potato blight has reappeared in the neighborhood of Belfast.

O'Connell is sinking daily. The accounts which came to hand through the medium of the French papers show that his earthly career is drawing to a close.

The weather in England and Ireland has, of late, undergone a favorable change.—Vegetation is making rapid progress. The account of the wheat and oat crops are highly encouraging, and even in regard to potatoes very favorable accounts are received.

Great distress continues to exist, where bread is exceedingly dear, and it is feared that during the month of May and June, provisions of all kinds will be dearer than they have hitherto been. Vegetation is very backward, owing to the cold during the last fortnight.

Diabolical and Murderous Act.

Sixty Persons Poisoned—Ten or Twelve Dead—Eighteen or Twenty others despaired of.

The New Orleans Delta of the 11th instant says that a friend of their's has received a letter from his brother, who resides in the parish of Sabina. It is dated on the 2d instant, and besides some reference to matters of private business, contains the following startling extract:

"There has been one of the most unexampled acts of poisoning committed in Shelby county, Texas, that I have ever heard of.

There was a wedding at old Mr. Wilkinson's of an orphan girl he raised, at which all the invited guests were poisoned, including the bride's-maid and groom's-man. Out of sixty persons poisoned, thirty Dr. Sharp says, will certainly die. Ten or twelve are already dead, including two sons of preacher Britton, two Castleberry's—the one a young man and the other a young woman—one of the Slaughter's and his wife.

Strange to tell, none of the family was injured, nor yet the bride and groom; yet one of the bride's maid died in the house.

Old Wilkinson has absconded. This portion of Texas is in arms, and woe betide the guilty! What I write you is the fact without exaggeration.

It is supposed that the negroes were hired to administer the poison in the coffee, or food, by a disappointed suitor, who was present at the wedding."

We also find in the Delta and Picayune, a variety of articles of interest, some few of which we annex:

Passengers per James L. Day from Vera Cruz—Maj. Gen. Pillow, Col. Anderson, Capt. Scantlane, Capt J. B. Blanchard and Lieut. Scott, with 60 privates; J. B Lane, G. Manning, Dr. H. B. Larry, D. Baldwin, J. D. Costa, E. Daggett, S. Abbott, J. H. Cosley and daughter, L. Kin, and 46 Quarter Master's men and discharged soldiers.

Passengers from Brazos St. Jago.—Lieut. Col. May, Col. Morrison, Capt. Chilton, Lt. French, Dr. White, Dr. J Felix, Mr. Rice and lady, Mr Stanbeck, A. Frovena, and 12 discharged men from the Quarter-Master's department.

Col. May.—The Picayune of the 11th inst., says:

The observed of all observers in the city yesterday was Lt Col. May—his tall military figure towering above his crowds of friends wherever he was seen.

Major General Pillow.—It gives us great pleasure to state, that although the wound which Gen. Pillow received in his right arm is a severe one, it cannot be called dangerous. No apprehension that amputation will have to be resorted to need be entertained. This is information which his numerous friends will rejoice. Two other balls than the one by which he was wounded, have left their traces in the General's blue frock. The Mexican ball seemed really anxious to scrape an acquaintance with him.

General Shields.—The Picayune says "Gen Shields is still recovering—unless he gets a relapse, his life may now be considered out of danger."

DIED.

At his residence, in Quaker Neck, on the 16th instant, of Pneumonia, Mr. Samuel Merritt, aged 46 years. The deceased was a good and excellent citizen and his loss will be felt and lamented.

At the residence of her husband, near the Head of Sassafrass, on Monday night last of Pneumonia, Mrs. Harriet, consort of Ebenezer Welch, Esq., Register of Wills of Kent County, and a daughter of the late John Frazier dec'd. The deceased was highly estimable for her social and domestic virtues and benevolence to the poor. Her loss will be deeply felt and lamented by her affectionate husband, household and neighborhood.

DROWSINESS, Swimming of the Head, a roaring noise in the ears headache, palpitation of the heart, &c. The only original and genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the signature of William Wright written with a pen on the top label of each box. None other is genuine, and to counterfeit this is forgery.
