Colonization.

The American says: The following Circular addressed to the Clergy of all denominations in this State, will receive, we hope, the kind and earnest attention of those whose good offices in behalf of a great cause it solicits. We respectfully ask of the newspapers throughout the State a publication of the circular, that the attention of the various communities in Maryland may be called to it previous to the fourth of the next month:

BALTIMORE, May 15, 1847.

REVEREND SIR:—It has, for many years past, been the custom to conduct the celebration of the 4th of July with the cause of African colonization, by taking up collections in its behalf, on the first Sunday, before or after this time of national rejoicing. As colonization, apart from all its political results, is eminently an agency in the great work of christian missions, there seems a peculiar fitness in the recognition, that, has thus been in the habit of receiving, in the churches throughout the land: and no time for this could be more appropriate, surely, than that, at which, called on to acknowledge the blessings of a free government ourselves, our hearts would naturelly dispose to aid the effort which making to impart the same in Africa, to those who, in America, were freemen in name only.

In the present year, Reverend Sir, the fourth of July falls on Sunday; and the object of his communication is not so much to impress upon you the claims of colonization, as to remind you of the custom above referred, to, and to beg, most respectfully, that on this occasion, it may be observed in the congregation under your charge. I well know how many calls for charity are made through the pulpit—calls for objects, which may be thougnt at first sight, nearer home than that which I present; but I feel sure that, when you recollect, that along with colonization goes the minister of Christ, with the bible in his hand, and that there follows after, all that is estimable and admirable of humanity—and that there are many, very many in Africa, who look with interest to the collections now solicited—I feel sure, Rev. Sir, that when you bear this in mind, the request of this society will not be disregarded.

I am, with the highest respect,
Your friend and servant,
JNO. H. B. LATROBE,
Pres. Md. State Col. Soc.

NOTE.—Collections may be forwarded to Dr. James Hall, General Agent of the Maryland State Colonization Society, Colonization Rooms, Baltimore.

THIEVES ABOUT.—The factory of Mr. William Bacchus, near Chester Town, was broken into on the 11th inst. The burglars were, no doubt, after meal or flour but was prevented by a strong bolt which fastened the door between the Grist Mill and the Factory. They however succeeded in carrying off about twenty five or thirty pounds of wool.

☞The meat house of Mr. Otho Chrisfield, was broken open, about two weeks ago and robbed of one hundred and fifty pounds of Bacon. Our citizens should keep their meat houses well secured if they wish to "save their Bacon."

THE London Times is becoming alarmed at the state of Ireland, and especially at the sympathy and aid her miseries have evoked from every part of the world. It resents the interference of foreign countries to prevent the Irish from starving, as an intrusion upon the special privileges of England. It claims for the Irish the privilege of starving, without let or hindrance. The following is its language—

"Ireland, the sister of England, her ancient conquest and still too much her dependent, is now beginning and receiving the alms of the whole earth. No distance no difference of race or religion, prevents the intrusion of her claims, and, it is fair to add, their ready admission. But can we feel unmixed satisfaction in hearing that our rivals and our calumniators, in whose mouths Ireland has ever been the worst opprobium their jealousy, their malice, or their ignorance could suggest, are now bestowing their charity on our unfortunate fellow subjects? From all parts of the United States have come subscriptions mixed with a sympathy neither flattering nor safe to this nation.

"At Constantinople there had been a subscription, to which the Sultan has largely contributed. The Pope has ordered prayers and collections for Ireland in all the churches acknowledgeing his authority — From the East and West Indies we can better receive such expressions of interest; but we cannot honestly profess unqualified pleasure at hearing that Marseilles had subscribed more for Ireland than for the sufferers by the inundations in France."

A MAJOR Edson is exhibiting himself in New York, who is 39 years old—4 feet 6 inches high—and weighs only 35 lbs.

GEN. VEGA AND LT. ROGERS.—The N. Orleans Times says that Gen. La Vega will be held as a hostage for the safety of Midshipman Rogers, and will be executed under orders from the Government, should any violence befall Mr. R. The Times, in explaining the case, says that the American midshipman was captured by the Mexicans, whilst on a reconnoitering party on shore at night, and that they have threatened to execute him as a spy. Mr. Rogers, at the time of his capture, was in undress uniform, and this fact, of itself, exonerates him fully from coming within the category of a spy, even of other circumstances militated against him.

REINFORCEMENTS.—It is calculated that nearly 7,000 regulars, old and new regiments, will soon reinforce the main army via Vera Cruz—of which between 2,000 and 3,000 doubtless have arrived at Vera Cruz in April and May; and, of the residue, a large proportion will reach that place, by the middle of June.

ARMY NEWS!

Later from Mexico.

Gen Scott's movements—Gen. Twiggs at Puebla—Resignation of Santa Anna—American forces expected to enter the Capital on the 15th June—Death of Col. Sowers confirmed—Further Robberies—Report of the death of Col. Lawrence, bearer of Despatches—Later dates from Gen. Taylor—Arrival of part of Col. Doniphan's Forces—Release of Prisoners—Santa Anna gone to the Capital—Herrera Elected President—The Clergy in favor of Peace—Sickness at Vera Cruz and Jalapa, &c., &c.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., June 14, '47.

The New Orleans Picayune published an extra at noon, on the 7th instant containing the intelligence brought by the arrival of the steamship New Orleans, from Vera Cruz, bringing dates to the 1st inst. She also touched at the Brazos on the 4th.

Gen. Scott had left Jalapa at the head of six thousand troops. Gen Twiggs with his division entered Puebla on the 29th.—It was not positively known what General Scott's intentions were, but the general supposition was that he would advance upon the capital with his present force.

Accounts from the capital state that Santa Anna resigned the Presidency on the 28th, but it is not known whether Congress had accepted it or not. This step was taken by him in consequence of the opposition to his views in relation to the defence of the capital, as well as the defamatory articles in the public prints of Puebla.

The American Army was generally expected to be at the Capital by the 15th of the present month, and but a slight resistance anticipated.

Santa Anna had commenced the fortification of Guadaloupe in person, and ordered the same measures at Mojicatzingo, near the suburbs, but this causing general disapprobation, his resignation followed. It was believed that it would be accepted and Herrera nominated. The troops at the Capital were but three thousand in number.

An exciting rumor prevailed at Vera Cruz to the effect that the citizens of Puebla had rizen upon General Worth, and cut off six or seven hundred of his men. The rumor was in every man's mouth and much credence given to it, though the Picayune's Vera Cruz correspondent is sceptical.

The murder of Col. Sowers appears to be confirmed.

A wagon master, and a Quarter Master's clerk, supposed to have been murdered between Camargo and Monterey, are now ascertained to be prisoners in the city of Mexico.

Suspicions are entertained at Xalapa, that an attempt will be made to retake that place.

Further robberies have taken place between Vera Cruz and Xalapa, and the Rancheros between those points are estimated at 500.

A private letter from Xalapa states that Colonel Lawrence, a bearer of despatches, and one of his escort, had been killed on the road. This report originates probably through mistake Colonel Sowers's murder is no doubt alluded to.

There are later dates from General Taylor, but very little of importance. The Massachusetts regiment had started for Monterey. Lieut. Col. Wright had been elected to the vacant Colonelcy; Major Abbott chosen Lieut. Colonel, and Captain Webster, Major of the regiment.

Part of Col. Doniphan's force had arrived at Saltillo, and the remainder was expected in a few days. A speedy movement by General Taylor towards San Luis was still anticipated.

About 800 officers and men came passengers in the steamship from Vera Cruz and the Brazos.

Major Hammond, U. S. Paymaster, died on the passage.

We learn with great pleasure that Major Gaines, Borland, Cassius Clay, Midshipman Rogers, and all the other American prisoners, had been released, and were at liberty in the city.

Santa Anna had gone to the capital, and had resigned all his military command — The enemy were actively engaged in fortifying the Rio Frio Pass.

Herrera had been elected President and the Clergy were in favor of peace. It was said he would immediately make a public declaration to that effect.

We saw a letter by the last arrival, from an officer in Gen Scott's army, and whose situation was highly favorable for obtaining correct information, which said peace would shortly be made.

We regret extremely to learn that sickness prevailed to a great extent at Vera Cruz. There were 49 deaths the day of the departure of the New Orleans, and 1500 to 1800 were in the Hospital; these, however, included the wounded and others—those that had been sent from Cerro Gordo.

The news, on the whole, we think, is favorable as regards peace, or at least of a disposition on the part of the enemy to make it if the terms should be admissible.

We take the following extracts from the Picayune:

From Capt. Lauman, of the Pennsylvania volunteers, who has kindly communicated to us various information, we learn that the work of fortifying Rio Frio was going on rapidly The English courier, who arrived at Vera Cruz the night before the New Orleans left, said positively, there were 20,000 Mexicans engaged in the work. Other accounts reduce the number to 12,000; but on this subject, the explanation we take it, is, that any number of men can be raised to defend the city—that there is scarcely a limit to the hosts that can be concentrated, if the means of feeding them can be procured. But that these hordes are well armed and equipped, or possess any discipline, we have no faith. Their very numbers will prove an encumbrance when the day of trial comes.

Although it is not mentioned positively, we presume that Gen. Scott reached Puebla on the 29th ult. Capt. Laumen estimates the total of effective men whom Gen. S. could muster at Puebla, at 4,600 men at the farthest. This is, of course, independent of the recruits which have arrived in such numbers lately at Vera Cruz.

We have before given the composition of the garrison left at Jalapa under Col. Childs. At Perote, five companies of the 1st Pennsylvania regiment have been left, with some dragoons and artillery—about 850 in all.

The steamship Telegraph arrived at Vera Cruz the morning of the 1st inst., with Gen. Cadwallader, and a portion of his command:

The Mexican guerilla parties have laid waste all the ranchos on the road up, and driven off all Mexican proprietors disposed to be peaceable. The road is not deemed safe for travellers unless under a very considerable escort.

In the hospitals at Jalapa there are 800 sick.

The Arco Iris, of the 30th says, that a private letter, dated Jalapa, the 27th ult., stated that on the previous day, a private express reached that city from the capital, with the intelligence that Herrera had been elected, and positively taken possession of the President's seat, when he immediately declared that he would indefatigably employ himself in making peace with the U States. He had appointed Gen. Valencia commander in chief of the army, and ordered the arrest of Santa Anna and Canalizo. In the same paper, it was again stated that the peace party were divided in their choice, between Santa Anna and Herrera, for the chief magistracy, and its effect, that the former had obtained a viciory over his adversary, and had been elected.

Newspaper Postage.

The Union of Saturday night publishes an official certified copy of the law of the law of the last session of Congress, regulating the postage on newspapers. An error had been made in the publication of the law, in the punctuation, so that it read as if all newspapers not sent from the office of publication were to be carried free of postage in the mail, whilst those sent from the office of publication were to be charged postage. As the law is now published, all nhwspapers not sent from the office of publication must pay three cents each, and the postage must be prepaid, or the postmaster will not send them.

Another important correction has been made by the Postmaster General in regard to the construction put by him on the law. He issued, soon after the law was passed, a circular requiring all papers to be pre paid that were not sent from the office of publication to subscribers. The words to subscribers was an interpopulation of his own, there being no such words in the law. He has now issued another circular, directing postmasters to forward in the mail all newspapers sent from the office of publication, without reference to the prepaying of postage.

The reasonableness of this distinction between transient papers sent by individuals and single papers sent from the office of publication, will be understood by every one who has ever had anything to do with newspaper publishing, where cases are continually arising requiring that single papers should be sent to particular individuals—as in the case of distant advertisers, to let them see that their advertisements have been published, and like cases.

We had occasion to call the attention of the department to the error in the construction of the law on this subject in the first circular of the Postmaster General; but understood that he was satisfied that he was right. How long it is since he discovered his error, we are not advised, but are glad that he has discovered and acknowledged it.

So that it is now the duty of all Post masters, to forward in the mail all newspapers sent from the office of publication. Patriot.

RELIGIOUS.—A series of religious meetings have been held at the Methodist Protestant Church of Centreville, the past week. The Times says:

"The President of the Maryland Conference, the Rev. Mr. Ward, of Washington city, the Rev Murray, of Baltimore, the Rev. Mr. Moore, of Talbot, the Rev. Mr. Henkle, of Kent, besides the Rev. Mr. Wilson and the Rev. Mr. McFaden, of Queen Ann's circuit, were in daily attendance. The exercise consisted of preaching and of prayer meetings. Large and attentive congregations gave evidence of the interest taken by the public in the exercises, which have resulted we trust profitably to all who attended."

HON. Thomas Perry, of Allegany county declines a re-election to Congress.

ITEMS OF NEWS

THE Mississippi regiment of volunteers who covered themselves with glory at Buena Vista have returned to New Orleans, their term of service having expired. One of the New Orleans papers says—"Gen. Taylor was extremely affected, on bidding adieu to this gallant regiment. When the time arrived for their parting, and the men were filing past him, almost choking with emotion, he exclaimed—"Go on, boys—go on—I can't speak."

It was his intention to address them on their return home, but the recollection of the trying scenes in which they had stood by each other, quite overpowered him."

FARMING BY STEAM.—The leading article of the London Agricultural Gazette of May 8th is on the employment of steam in farming, to which the editors are favorable, considering it a most docile and less costly power than either man or horse.—Every hundred acres of ploughing involves the passing over 1,000 linear miles by 500 consumers of food. They calculate the saving by steam on every ploughing at $1 per acre, or $100,000,000 on as many acres.

HAIL STORM.—The New York Herald says:

At half past seven o'clock on Monday morning, our city was visited with one of the most violent hail and rain storms we ever saw. For about half an hour the rain in sheets, and appeared as if we were about to be deluged. The hail was not of a large size, but what it lacked in that respece, it made up in quantity. The streets were beautifully washed, and present a clean a healthy appearance.

THERE was a dreadful storm and hurricane at Cincinnati on the 9th inst. blowing off the upper works of the new government steamer lying at the wharf, by which M D. Stoddart and two other men were dreadfully and it was feared fatally injured, being crushed by the falling mass. Mr. Stoddart died the following day

NEW COMET.—A Cincinnati paper announces that Professor Mitchell has receives of the discovery of a new comet by Prof. Colla, of Parma, and that the stranger was seen at the Cincinnati Observatory, on the night of the 8th instant. It further states that this new comet is near Lumbda Ursa Majoris.

AWFUL MURDER.—At Pulaski, Tenn, last week, a man, named Kercheval, killed his own father by a blow on the head with a hatchet. They had a few angry words about some corn, which resulted in this dreadful deed. The paricide fled for Mexico.

THE DIVINITY OF THE GALLOWS.—Sir Fitzroy Kelly of England, has stated, that since the year 1800, no less than 14 persons have suffered death for crimes in that country, for which it was afterwards clearly shown that they were innocent.

THERE is a man in jail. at Pittsburg, charged with having three wives, all living within ten miles of that place. What a blessing it must be for him that there are such institutions as prisons, to shut his wives out.

HOGS.—The Gennesse Farmer says that "the hog crop in the United States, this past year, is three times the worth of the cotton crop. The 'standing army' of swine consumes annually two hundred million bushels of corn."

DISTRESSING.—The little daughter of Mr Geo. Taylor, near Upper Marlboro', was burned to death, a few days ago, by her clothes taking fire. She was about 14 years of age.

A NEW field of supply for the Cincinnati market, has lately been found in a number of operators from the north appearing there, purchasing fresh and print butter, to send by the northern route to the city of New York.

☞The great delicacy requisite to introduce another competitor among the thousand and ode now before the public notice, is felt in its force when we make the attempt.—Without farther preamble, the attention of the reader is called to another part of this paper, where will be found statements of truths relating to Pulmonary and Scrofulous Diseases and their cure by Brant's Balsam, which are worthy of attentive perusal.

THE AGE OF IMPROVEMENT.

One of the most important discoveries of the age, in ameliorating the condition of this large large class of suffering humanity, consumptives, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. What time establishes and consecrates, what experience adopts a confirms, what all men in all places unite in saying is good and valuable, is so, doubt. A popularity of this sort fixes in society its roots so deep and so strong, that time cannot destroy it. The success which has attended this medicine for several years past, has overcome the prejudices of all respectable and sensible men and the the article has taken a stand among the first class of discoveries and blessings of the age; and when resorte to in season eradicates the diseases for which it is recommended.
