year in the Cor. Secy's letter to me.
This entry of course prevents a settlement of the affs of the Ship Eg for Sheet Enclosed - I are only now seen the entry through our books, not even balancing it by profit & loss without confusion - We also enclose you an a/c Curr with the A. C. S. in which there appears a small bal. due us of $166 77/100.
The balance due on a/c of the two voyages of the Ship Eg appears by the a/cs enclosed, deducting the $3010 for passage of Emigrants Eg $2082.34 (Two thousand eighty two 34/100 dollars) - This you will say scarcely appears on the face of the a/cs. I know that, & would make a counter entry of the $3010. & strike the actual balance, but then, some Cons would say, that does not do well, & here the expenses & receipts of the Ship - I am & have ever been anxious to make every thing as plain as possible, so that all may - having books might not err therein - but possibly the hurry - The plan I adopt the two first years & regular journal entries & an effort or appearing of expenses & receipts seems to me as plain & at the same time as safe as any thing can be - but do it is, it does not seem - Please examine & say your say at leisure - Very truly yours Thomas Stalle
