Dear Medora. Your letter to me & to the Agent at Cayboney are received & read. I regret that you should feel so much anxiety about ~~them~~ your people for you may depend upon it there is no occasion. I seldom ever knew a colored person arrive out in that country but they at first felt homesick & disturbed a thousand times & they most naturally look back to their former owners & friends to supply them. My experience of thirty years in sending people to Liberia is uniform & the brief to this effect. On first landing they are delighted beyond measure. After a few weeks they find that they must assume responsibility & with that comes care. to which through their whole lives they have been strangers.

Very respectfully yours [illegible]
