At all events he was in the opinion of the board the most suitable we could procure - as we have stated, at the time of his appointment for the small salary we could afford to give. It is possible we might gotten one with more learning and greater mental ability - most likely the supposed writer of the comp-laint to you against us, He would have been glad to have accepted the appointment had it been offered to him. But it is a grave question with the board whether with his greater learning and mental abilities he would have proved a more suitable person than the present teacher, to have the supervision of youths - particularly a school attended by well grown girls. We are not a ware of any general dissatisfaction as regards the teacher. Some talk has been on the streets and corners - instigated mainly we suppose by writer of the complaint against us, and some of his confederates who are envious of the teacher, and consequently hostile to him. But one thing satisfieth the board, and that is this - there is very little grounds for the complaint or charge against us. There are other schools in opperation within the township not more than a mile from our's and some of them well conducted, but though that be the case the Hall school is always full. I assure you Sir that up to this date the Trustees have had no formal complaint from no person or persons

Maryland Historical Society

The Maryland State Colonization Society Papers

VII. Special Funds
C. Hall School Fund

2. August 1875-- June 1893