scholars, who have made considerable progress in their respective studies, the good result of attending regularly. The second class consisting of seven scholars are likewise making progress in their studies. The 2 Division of the second class mentioned above, are composed of sixteen scholars. The third class now five in number, owing to the formation of the new class is doing well. The fourth class consists of seven scholars, who are making progress; some of them will be advanced when the school is opened again. The conduct of the children has been satisfactory. They have been more prompt in their attendance during the last term than formally. which has been greatly in their own favour as well as that of the school generally. I have endeavored to discharge my duty promptly; and strictly enforcing the rules of the school. As far as my ability has allowed, I have endeavored to adorn the scholars generally.

The School House is in a good condition, and is pleasant and healthful, owing to its situation.

over

Maryland Historical Society

The Maryland State Colonization Society Papers

VII. Special Funds
C. Hall School Fund

2. August 1875-- June 1893