A REASONABLE REFORMER.

EXECUTION OF NEGRO NED.—The Annapolis Republican, gives the following account of the execution of negro boy Ned, 19, years, at Prince Frederick, Calvert county Md., on the 28th ult., for the murder of Mr. Cracklin, in May last.

Before his execution he made a full confession of his guilt, and assigned as a reason for committing the crime, that he did it to obtain money to frolick on at the ensuing Whitsuntide holidays. We learn the scene was distressing beyond description, and calculated to make a lasting and appalling impression on the minds of the spectators. The rope used on the occasion, not being strong enough, parted when he was turned of, and the miserable wretch fell to the earth stunned, but not dead. An involuntary thrill of horror, accompanied by a stifled moan, passed through the assembled multitude, and for an instant, all recollection of the heinous crime of the doomed, and the justice of his sentence, was lost. After a brief space he revived sufficiently to speak, and remarked to a person near him, "I told you the rope was not strong enough" He was suspended a second time, and keep hanging until was completely extinct.

The Marlboro' Gazette says that every the second drop his neck was not broken and that he struggled for near forty minutes. He met his fate with composure.

CHOLERA ON THE PLAINS — The Glasgow (Mo.) Banner has a letter dated on the 8th June, eighteen beyond Fort Kearney, which represents that the cholera had broken out among the emigrants and made fearful ravages. In the short distance between Fort Kearney and the place where the letter was dated, he passed many companies encamped, to take care of the sick. The letter was brought to St. Joseph by a emigrant whose company of four persons had died.

UNLIKE WEBSTER.—On the 4th instant Ritchie Johnson killed Daniel Kane in a quarrel, near Carmel, N. Y., on their return from a village celebration. He immediately confessed of the homicide and surrendered himself to the authorities.

FATHER MATHEW arrived at Little Rock, Ark., on the 16th ult., in impaired health.—He was to leave in a few days for the Sulphur, or the Hot Springs.

HEALTH OF PHILADELPHIA.—The death in Philadelphia last week numbered 264, of which one was by cholera and one by cholera morbus. There were also 58 by cholera infantum, 14 by dysentery and 10 by diarrhea. 143 were children, of which 127 were actually under one year of age—The deaths the week before last in Philadelphia were 229 only.

NEW VARIETY OF WHEAT.—The Marlborough (Md.) Gazette speaks of a new variety of wheat, called "Florence," which has been introduced into that county, by R. McGregor. It is said to ripen earlier, to branch better, and be less liable to disease than the kinds usually cultivated.

ANOTHER SUICIDE, growing out of a love affair, took place in New York on Saturday. A German named Carlos Kone, ended his existence by taking a dose of arsenic. Because his lady-love Hoboken with another person.
