Note No. 2

Mr. Thomson, — I need not say that my heart bleeds at what I have heard — What a prospect now does our Mission assume! — Christ — my Saviour, your Savior wounded in the house of his friends! — Be careful that your sorrow be not that which arises from fear of detection and exposure. O fallen degraded human nature — not afraid of the heart searching God, but more vastly afraid of this wicked, weak, dying world! —

This ends my censure — May God, the eternal — omnipotent God forgive you as I now from the heart forgive you! — Your family henceforth, so far as they shall sustain a good Character shall be the object of my tender care — So long as your wife shall sustain an irreproachable Character, so long shall have support — abundant support from the Mission provided she desires to remain in its connection. — I restrain all further inquiry abroad, in regard to your conduct —

You must remain here till some decisive steps can be taken, such steps as will be for the best interest of yr. family — In order to do this, your wife must know all and express her wishes — Whatever I can be convinced that you have advanced in behalf of the Mission must be refunded, and every thing done for the best interest of your wife and child — Your connection with the Mission is henceforth dissolved — How you can best leave to heal the wound caused in the body of Christ must be an after consideration —

I must have your confession in your hand writing — written in ink and signed by yourself — The world will not know it — The Board must — God already knows it — Yr. friend Thos S. Savage over —

You cannot loose any thing by confessing all — I wish to have your solemn declaration that your conduct has either been, or not been exceptionable towards the girls in this house, or not — Write all you have done and sign your name to it, addressed to me — It shall be sacred. If you have committed murder (which of course I do not think) confess that only to God — Any thing else affecting the Mission, I desire you to confess if you be truly penitent you will not hesitate to do it — May God forgive you for Christ's sake

Again your friend — T. S. Savage.

I wish you to give me a paper stating the instances of crime that I may send it to the Board — It of course will be sacred with them —

Note No. 3.

Mr. Thomson, You had better come down, and appear about the house as usual — It will be necessary for you to make preperations to leave — And this will take some days. My advice is that you disappear and go to some of the West India Islands — perhaps to Demerara, and there endeavour to get into some business — and establish your Character anew — Let your family remain here — Mrs. T. be engaged in the Mission, till you shall think it proper for her or shall be able at some future day to re-unite — Seek constantly in agonizing prayer, and brokeness of spirit pardon from your offended God through the atoning blood of his Blessed Son, and endeavour to be useful with an amended life in some other calling and country.

You therefore, had better appear immediately, and settle over the matter, and make up your accounts, and such arrangements as will enable at once to carry into effect some plan for the future —

Your friend — T. S. S.

No. 4

Mr. Thomson, Your letter has been received & duly noticed. You have long had my forgiveness for any wrong you may conceive to have done me personally —. I have, I trust, never entertained any revengeful feelings against you or yours — I have on the contrary tried to pursue such a course both personally with you, and whenever I have been called before a court as I have been, you that I loved justice, truth and mercy. You justly attribute all that may befal you to your own doings — So far as

Maryland Historical Society

The Maryland State Colonization Society Papers

XI. Liberian Colonization
B. Miscellaneous Affairs

1. Trial of James Thomson, 1837