Children Should Have Good Light for Studying

A poor light strains the eyes, and the injurious effects may last for life. An oil lamp is best. The light from the Rayo Lamp is soft and mellow. You can read or work under it for hours without hurting your eyes.

The RAYO is constructed scientifically. It is the best lamp made—yet inexpensive and economical.

The Rayo Lamp, made of solid brass—nickel plated. Lighted without removing chimney or shade. Easy to clean and rewick. Made in various styles and for all purposes.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

The Endeavor Society hopes to get some active members as a result of the great soul-winning revival in Chestertown, under the leadership of Dr. W. R Graham, as some of our young people are among the large number saved. May the mighty tidal wave continue to rise and spread until hundreds are won to Christ and the church.

Mr. Mullineaux, pastor of the M. P. Church, is exceedingly solicitous for the full amount of his benevolent contributions for the annual conference, and urges his people to hand in, through the envelopes and literature distributed among the church people, their contributions at an early date. Enclose in the accompanying envelopes and drop in the collection plates on Sunday, or hand to the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman Shafer had with them, as their guest, the end of the past week, and over Sunday, Mrs. Phillips, a cousin of Atlantic City.

Misses Nellie Othoson and Mabel Hague have been having a most delightful visit with friends in Sassafras.

The pie and box social, under the auspices of the Kennedyville Christian Endeavorers, in Weer's Hall, on Friday evening last, notwithstanding the dark, threatening weather, was attended by a very large company, mostly young people. The contents of the many packages were very tempting to the appetite and found ready sale. All seemed to have a very delightful social time.

REMINISCENCES RECALLED.

COLORA, Cecil County, Md., February 2, 1913.

MY DEAR NEWS:—I take the hint so gently given, and provide for the continuance of your weekly visits, which have become well nigh indispensable to me. Fifty two years ago I first made your acquaintance, and like the last rose of summer, I am left to bloom and blush alone, for all the companions of that day have faded and gone. What memories and emotions your presence awakens, are known only to him who is reminded of the friends and familiar faces your very name never fails to recall. But recently your columns recorded the passing to the vast unknown of the first groom I ever met at hymen's altar, leaving this side the invisible line, that divides the sun-lit land from this land of alternate sunshine and shadows, the woman to whom I joined him in holy wedlock. In your town in the little brick church around the corner on the morning of May 23rd, 1861, William H. Blakeney and Charlotte Robinson pledged their troth each to the other, declaring the same by joining hands, and were by me as the officiating parson declared henceforth to be husband and wife, until death do them part. That day has come. Death hath done its work. After more than half a century of happy married life they are parted, but only for a little season, for after awhile face to face they will meet again in the prepared place all the better prepared and more home like for the loved ones entering there. Nor will it be so hard to follow them, for they cannot be where God is not, and where He is, is heaven.

Standing today beside the grave of the old year and the cradle of the new, only a month old, not knowing what it has in store for us, we take courage and feel confident that if God be for us He is more than all that can be against us.

With best wishes for the future of my old familiar friend, I am fraternally,

JAMES EARLE MALOY.

PENITENTIAL SEASON BEGINS

Easter Comes This Year Nearly as Early As Possible.

Lent began Wednesday.

For the next 46 days—with the exception of Sundays—fasting, abstinence and penance will be practiced in preparation for Easter, the Feast of the Resurrection which will fall this on March 23.

In considering Lent as a period of 40 days many persons lose sight of the fact that only the fast days are to be considered. Thus 40 weekdays and 6 Sundays must elapse before Easter.

The rule for determining the day on which Easter falls, as set forth in the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer, is as follows:

"Easter is always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens upon or next after the twenty-first day of March, and if the full moon happen upon a Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday after.

"But note that the full moon * * * is the fourteenth day of a lunar month, reckoned according to an ancient ecclesiastical computation and not the real or astronomical full moon."

Incidentally, the astronomical full moon in March this year falls upon the 22d.

Only once with the last 125 years has Easter fallen earlier than on March 23 In 1818 it was on March 22. In that period it has come on March 23 only three times, in 1788, 1845 and 1856. Generally Easter comes in April. Last year it was April 7, and in 1791 it established a record for lateness by falling on April 24.
