MR. MEARNS INTRODUCES THE PROHIBITION BILL

The Measure is Offered By Delegate Mearns, of Cecil County—Provides For The Submission of The Question to The Voters of Maryland at The Regular Election Next Year.

In the House Friday Mr. Mearns, of Cecil county, introduced a bill providing for the submission of an amendment to the constitution at the regular election in 1915, prohibiting the sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors in Maryland.

Rev. Dr. Hare, superintendent of the league, was here. He said he is not at all discouraged by conditions there, apparently unfavorable at this time to the Prohibition cause. On the contrary, he said, he had made more progress than he had expected when he took charge of the work here. "The egg was scrambled before I came to Maryland," said Dr. Hare.

President Price, of the Senate, said that he would see to it that the prohibitory amendment bill is introduced in the Senate. He has promised Superintendent Hare that the bill will be submitted and the Antisaloon Legue given a hearing. If necessary to make good his promise, Mr. Price will himself introduce the bill.

The following is the main clause of the prohibitory amendment embodied in the bill introduced in the House by Mr. Mearns:

"On and after the first day of May, 1917, the sale, manufacture for sale and transportation for sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the State of Maryland shall be forever prohibited, and the General Assembly of Maryland shall have power to regulate the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors for sacramental, medicinal, mechanical, pharmaceutical or scientific purposes or for use in the arts, and shall, without delay, enact such laws as may be necessary more fully to carry into effect and enforcement the provisions of this section. And until such enforcement legislation is enacted by the General Assembly each and every violation of this section shall be punishable as a misdemeanor in all courts of this state having criminal jurisdiction, and any place used for purposes in violation of this section is hereby declared a nuisance and shall be abated as such."

THE OYSTER

Autobiography of An Oyster—One of Those Genuine, Juicy Thoroughbred Kent Bivalves.

I am born without teeth, but I've got muscles, a liver and a heart. In each year of my life I produce over a million eggs. Each of my children are 1-120th of an inch in length, so that nearly two million of them can be crowded into a space of one cubic inch.

I am ready for the table in from one to five years after birth You will never find me in very cold parts of the world. I dislike cold.

In Ceylon I sometimes grow a foot in diameter. One of me makes a stew when I am half a foot broad.

I am not of much account in England unless I am imported there from America. It makes me feel very sad fetching me up on the Strand in London, I who was discussed by Tyberius and Julius.

I have been the cause of much bloodshed. Men fight fierce battles for me all along the coasts of Kent and Sussex in England.

I have set the legislative halls of Maryland and Virginia on fire with hot debates in my behalf. The Shellfish Commission of Maryland will lose a lot of sleep about me before the present year is out.

If you eat me raw you are not likely to regret it, for in a raw state I am very nutritions, especially for invalids, as I am easily digested.

As a fry I am somewhat, heavy, and often cause severe indigestion, so few know how to fry me. I am the only animal thing that can be eaten with impunity in a raw state.

I have been a good friend to man and woman, giving him my shell or house for roads and lime to enrich his land, and to women I have given many lovely pearls.

Thackery has compared me to a new baby. Yet I have never kept him awake at night.

I am not half so bad in a stew, but as a roast in the shell all the poetry in me comes out. Then I sizzle with emotion in butter, red pepper and a little sauce.

When you buy me stewed at a restaurant in cities you have to hunt for me, for you will find only about six or seven of me the size of lima beans drowned in a bowl of water and milk, and you pay 25 cents for me.

As a fry you receive the same number of me clothed in batter or cracker dust, and you pay 25 cents for me. The poor old oystermen who catches me only receives 25 cents a bushel for me, which shows very plainly the middlemen are making fortunes on me.

What an enormous revenue the state of Maryland and Virginia derive from me. Without me both would be as poor as Job's turkey hens.

And last, but not least, what could the church workers substitute in my stead at suppers held forchurch benefits if I were not in existence? Why should I not be proud of my existence as well as my classy record?
