SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1914.

THE Senate Finance Committee has adopted a favorable report on the Tax Reform bill, with an amendment by which the members of the State Tax Board are named in the bill. Those named are Arthur P. Gorman, chairman; Lewin W. Wickes, of Kent county, and Oscar Leser, Baltimore. The members of the board will receive salaries of $3,000 a year. The members of the first board are to serve two, four and six years, respectively; their successors to have terms of six years. The board will have an annual appropriation of $30,000. The secretary of the board gets $2,400.

THE COLEMAN MURDER

In another column will be found a full report of the trial of the murderers of our esteemed citizen, James R. Coleman, which took place in Elkton last week. To say the least, most of the citizens of Kent are disappointed at the outcome. State's Attorney Vickers did his whole duty from beginning to end, and those who attended the trial are enthusiastic in praise of his aggressive and indefatigable prosecution of the case.

In the Mabel case the evidence was very positive and without equivocation. Twelve men were chosen by the defense from 60 to try his case, and these twelve were picked with a view of saving the prisoner's life. Five of the twelve decided from the first to give him the second degree sentence, and these finally won over the seven. We are confident these men did not fully appreciate the gravity of the crime as did the citizens of Kent, else their verdict would have been different.

In the Paraway case the Hon. Albert Constable, Chief Judge of the Circuit, voiced the sentiments of our people when, in his dissenting opinion, he spoke these strong words:

"Gentlemen: So much misconstruction has been placed upon the remarks made by this court, from the beginning of this case, that I hesitate to express the views which have led me to dissent from the sentence imposed by the majority of this Court, for fear that what I have to say may be again misconstrued, and lead some to believe that I am showing disrespect for the opinion of my associates. I hope such a construction will not be placed, for I want to say here and now that I have the greatest respect for any views that may be held by them; but in this particular case I must dissent from their views with all the power I possess, for, with the opinion as held by me from the facts in this case, I never could consent to any penalty other than the death penalty. A few years ago, under the law, the only penalty that could be imposed upon a verdict of murder in the first degree was that of death. The Legislature has seen fit in cases of this character to permit the Court to exercise a discretion between the death penalty and life imprisonment. My construction of that Act is that the Legislature intended this discretion to be exercised only in cases where there are extenuating circumstances. In this case I can see not one solitary extenuating circumstance which would authorize us to exercise this discretion.

"The only extenuating circumstances urged by counsel for this defendant are: First, the youth of the defendant, and second, his feeble mindedness. The best testimony as to his age fixes it at seventeen, but conceding that the testimony of the defendant is true, that he is only fifteen years of age, I see in that no reason for leniency. The appearance of the defendant and his cool recital of the methods used by him in the perpetration of his brutal crime show absolutely that his was a mind as fully conscious of the enormity of his crime as a person of maturer years would have been. The testimony on feeble-mindedness fell of its own weight. Penalties are imposed not only to punish offenders, but to deter others who have like minds. Can any one seriously contend that mere imprisonment for a crime of this brutality will deter others? I feel deeply that the people of Kent are entitled to the lesson that will be brought home to its criminal class by a death sentence in this case.

"I hesitate very much to say this, but I think the circumstances warrant it. If the majority members of this Court intend in the future to exercise the discretion given us upon facts no stronger than in this case, then I hope from the bottom of my heart that the bill which has now passed the Maryland Senate, tanking that discretion out of the hands of the Courts of this State, will soon pass the House of Delegates and become a law of this State."

All good citizens are glad this awful chapter in the history of the county is closed and trust it may never occur again. We question, however, whether the outcome will act as a deterrent to future crime.

TO INCREASE SALARIES.

Annapolis, Md., March 6.—Senator Maloy's bill increasing the salaries of the judge throughont the State passed the Senate today with comparatively little trouble. The vote was 16 in the affirmative and 8 in the negative.

Those who voted for the bill were President Price and Senators Archer, Benson, Campbell, Cooper, Curran, Hammond, Harrison, Holmead, Jones, Maloy, Milbourne, Ogden, Speicher, Watkins and Zihlman.

Those voting in the negative were Senators Beck, Collier, Duke, Emmert, Harper, Shepherd, Snader and Williams.

The bill makes the salaries of the judges of the Court of Appeals and the members of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City $7,500 a year and the salaries of the associate judges in the counties $5,000 a year.

IN another column will be found the report of the triumph of the oystermen at Annapolis ofter one of the hardest battles ever fought in the Legislature. The Kent representatives fought for repeal but not being able to accomplish this, they joined the Shepherdites and got the next best thing. The city press say the oystermen got a repeal bill, only the Shepherd Bill is somewhat slower than what was originally proposed.

IT is reported that Ex-Congressman Joshua W. Miles, of Somerset, will be the next Collector of the Port. There is not a truer Democrat in the State than "Josh" Miles nor one who is more deserving of recognition. Besides, he is an Eastern Shoreman, and that is sufficient as to his fitness. Hon. Samuel K. Dennis as United States District Attorney would also make a most excellent official and a popular appointment.

THAT Home Rule Bill has a emphonious sound but where does the economy enter? If the Legislature would meet every four years for two months, reduce the number of elections, then Home Rule would mean something. There should be some way by which all purely local bills not in conflict with State laws should be put in force by some local authority. If the Home Rule Bill does this, then let's have it.

Order of Publication

Joseph W. Peacock,
vs.
Edwin H. Trinks.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County in Equity. No. 1873.

THE object of the bill is to procure an Injunction directed to the said Edwin H. Trinks, enjoining and prohibiting him, his agents or employees from interfering with, or preventing your Orator in any way, from cutting and removing the timber from the farm, under the terms of his contract.

The Bill states:

1. That on the 7th day of June, 1911, Joseph W. Peacock purchased of Oscar Clark by contract of sale, a copy of which is herewith filed, marked Exhibit "A," the merchantable gum and poplar timber then standing on the John S. Walters farm, in Kent county, Maryland, situate on the county road leading from Golts to Millington, then tenanted by John George, together with the right of ingress and egress over said farm for the purpose of cutting and removing said timber.

2. That on July 15, 1911, the said Oscar Clark conveyed to Edwin H. Trinks, the defendant, the farm on which the aforesaid timber stood, subject to the rights of your orator under his contract, to cut and remove said timber, as will appear by a certified copy of said deed, herewith filed, marked Exhibit "B."

3. That in said deed the right is reserved unto your orator to cut the timber sold unto him as aforesaid, but the said Oscar Clark and wife, the grantors in said deed, inadvertently failed to reserve the right of ingress and egress for the purpose of cutting and removing said timber, but your orator charges that the said defendant purchased said farm with the full knowledge of and subject to all your orator's rights under the contracts of sale aforesaid.

4. That your orator cut a part of said timber purchased as aforesaid, and remove same from said farm with this defendant's full knowledge and consent, and continued to cut and remove said timber for a long time without any interference or molestation from the defendant until a short time ago, when the said defendant interfered with and still continues to interfere with and prevent your orator and his employees from cutting and removing said timber, even going so far as to cause the arrest of your orator and his employees for trespass on said land.

Your orator is advised, believes and so charges, that the defendant, Edwin H. Trinks, resides in the State of Pennsylvania, and is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon this 13th day of March, 1914, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent county once in each of four successive weeks before the 13th day of April next, giving notice to the said Edwin H. Trinks, non-resident defendant, warning him to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 30th day of April next, to show cause, if any he has, why an injunction ought not issued as prayed.
