SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1914.

THE new Postmaster for Chestertown will likely be made next week!

HEARTY congratulations to you, Bros. Price and Walls, of the Centreville Observer. They issued last week a 32 page edition in honor of their 50th anniversary. It was a fine edition both in workmanship and composition. May you reap a rich harvest.

FARM credit legislation seem to be headed toward a sharp contest between those for and opposed to government loans. The new Bulkley-Hollis bill introduced in the House is the result of the deliberations of the joint sub-committee of two branches of Congress. It contains in part, the principle government loans for the benefit of agriculture, which the large farm organizations have contended for. In this respect, together with the killing of the Moss-Fletcher bill, the new bill can be taken as a partial triumph for the farmers. These organizations were practically united in support of the bill introduced by Representative Bathrick, of Ohio, who has led the fight for government aid during the last two years.

CAN SUCH THINGS BE?

One of our neighbors showed us today a letter he received from Dr. M. C. Ryan of Pennsylvania. The doctor had a conversation with a party from Baltimore who claimed he had traveled on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and found malaria and mosquitoes and especially around Chestertown. He told the Dr. that the horses had caps on their heads made of guano sacks to keep off the mosquitoes—and the roads are being built with sand that make them almost impassible.

Well, well, is it possible that Baron Munchausen is again reincarnated and eminates from Baltimore. Down in the lower part of the Eastern Shore they have some mosquitoes. The land is not very high above tide water and consequently they have some large marshes. That brings mosquitoes and sure enough they have some. There is very little marsh in Kent county and where there is you will find a few mosquitoes but they are very, very local. Malaria is very rare indeed and Kent county is almost exempt from it. What the Baron saw was hats ordinary work hats some very humane people put on their horses to keep the sunshine or glare off their heads and eyes. And it's a question whether its any real service or not.

But when the Baron says the roads are made of sand we simply feel indignant and we think we have cause; after spending many thousands of dollars and having our roads macadamized at the rate of ten to twelve thousand dollars per mile and then told we build them of sand. The Juniata Paving Road Building Company of Pennsylvania has been here some years improving our roads until they are second to none in any state More than one hundred automobiles are owned in Chestertown and our doctors use them the year round. We were in Baltimore ourselves not many moons ago and from the way we were annoyed by mosquitoes in our chamber we thought Baltimore had a monopoly of the mosquitoes, and if you will read the list of "Death Causes" in the Sun paper one might think we were no mean second to some of the extreme southern cities in the line of malaria. The Baron does show he has a little heart by even giving us credit of owning a few mosquitoes and occasionally a case of malaria.

If the Baron would travel around among the farm houses of Kent and see the hundreds of Baltimore people spending the summer in Kent county he would soon learn that the Baltimore summer contingents knew a good thing when they saw it. Dr. Chandler, ex-State Health Physician, says this locality is only surpassed by one other for health and low death rate and that is a spot on the west side of the Altra Mountains.

We really do not believe the Baron ever visited the Eastern Shore as some of the things he told the doctor have no foundation in fact or theory. But just said so to make himself appear big. Baltimore had better get rid of this monstrous disturber of state tranquility or the Eastern Shore will pull in the latch string and then we will only have left Dolly and I.

INCOME TAX OFFICERS NAMED

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced last Friday the appointment of three Marylanders as income tax officials, all of them friends of John Walter Smith. Those named by the Secretary are:

Southey King White, of Salisbury, income tax agent; salary $6 a day.

Col. Joseph L. Wickes, of Baltimore, deputy collector; salary $1,200 a year.

John M. Roberts, of Westminster, deputy collector for the field service; salary $1,600 a year and $1,200 a year for expenses.

Mr. McAdoo will in a few days announce the appointment of another Smith man. At the same time or a little later he will give out the appointment of the remaining three income tax officials for the State, and it is practically certain that they will be friends of Senator Blair Lee.

FIRST DISTRICT DEMOCRATS

State Senator William W. Beck, of Kent county, is looming up as the strongest possibility for the Democratic First District Congressional nomination to succeed J. Harry Covington. Having been named a federal judge, Mr. Covington will, of course, resign from the House within a short time.—Baltimore American of Tuesday.

DR. SAMUEL CHILES MITCHELL, who has been president of the Virginia Medical College, and an educator of high ability and experience, unanimously was elected president of Delaware College by the trustees. Dr. Mitchell is to receive $5,000 a year, and will succeed Dr. Geo. A. Harter, president for many years, who resigned to devote his time to class-room work as a professor.

VERY large sums of money were spent in the recent Pennsylvania primaries. The campaign of Mr. Dimmick, who tried to defeat Mr Penrose for the senatorial nomination, cost some $30,000. In Pennsylvania nominations by primaries have not opened the door to the man of ordinary means who aspires to high political office and honors. The same is true in Maryland. The remedy is found in letting the people select the candidate instead of the Boss!

NEXT Saturday should be a safe and sane fourth in Chestertown for many reasons. But more especially from a business standpoint should the day be made safe. Merchants who sell fire crackers, etc., should think of the large number of persons who drive to town and who desire a safe place to come. Think of this matter and cut out the business of selling those things which will interfere with the comfort and safety of scores of customers.

AFTER a conference with Secretary Bryan, President Wilson authorized the statement Thursday that the outlook in the Mexican situation was more promising than it had ever been before. It was intimated by officials close to the President that his feeling was based on the signing of protocols at Niagara Falls and on the expectation that the internal affairs of Mexico would be satisfactorily adjusted between representatives of the Constitutionalists and the Huerta delegates. Administration officials made no effort to conceal their pleasure over the reports of the taking of Zacatecas by General Villa. It was admitted that in the view of the Administration the victory at Zacatecas increases the importance of Villa in the Constitutionalist cause.

A NUMBER of the merchants of Chestertown are endeavoring to have a united action on closing the stores at 7. P. M. every night but Saturday. The question, however, is one of fairness to employers as well as generosity and consideration for employes, and all the arguments for early closing properly recognize this fact and the duty and the responsibility of the shopping public in regard to it. There will be no difficulty in securing this extra rest for clerks if shoppers will make it evident that they are in real sympathy with the movement by showing shop-keepers that there is no demand for keeping their places of business open after 7 five days in the week. It may be a little inconvenient sometimes to shop early, but it involves no real sacrifice, and it offers the opportunity to confer a great benefaction at no personal cost. Early closing depends mainly upon the shopper, and we do not believe there are many shoppers who are selfish enough to deprive hard-working men and women of the little opportunity for pleasure and rest which early closing would give them.

The Kennedyville School.

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS:

The Chestertown Transcript blowed its horn last week relative to the efforts of the good people in and about Kennedyville to have an up-to-date school house erected for the education of our children.

The Transcript editor gave Mr. John Medders letter his juicy sarcasm and conveyed this splendid representative citizen "way back to sit down" in the very humble home that at one time in the long ago stood alone, and whose occupants never dreamed that so beautiful a village would occupy the site.

According to the Transcript editors' logic the inhabitants of Kennedyville and vicinity have not survived the growing and spinning of flax; the weaving and making of home-spun trousers and the "Comly" spelling book. The Transcript editor does'nt think it amusing that Kennedyville asks for an up-to-date school, oh no, it is bald presumption on the part of the people, and, for such presumption, he gives us an unstinted rebuke.

Maybe some day this Transcript editor will learn that Kennedyville is on the map, and, that we expect to maintain our right to apply for public improvements and the education of our children. These are our children, and Tommy may just as well now learn we are minding our own business regardless of his juicy sarcasm and unasked-for suggestions. We hope to have our offspring under our own vine and fig tree whilst taking the different grades in their school life; meanwhile we will endeavor to impart some rules which should govern their attitude toward the critic who is not sending his own kids to public school.

On Commercial Fertilizers By The Use Of

CRIMSON CLOVER

Read Farmers Bulletin No. 579 on Crimson Clover Its Free - Address U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Washington, D. C.

A bushel of Crimson Clover Seed sown on four acres of ground will increase the succeeding yield of Corn or Cotton about the same amount as would a ton of complete fertilizer applied at the rate of 500 lbs. per acre. A good stand of Crimson Clover turned under will ordinarily double the yield of the crops which follow. The physical condition of the soil is also materially benefited. The Sandy Soils are Increased in Humus and Nitrogen Contents. The Stiff, heavy clay soils are rendered more open and friable.

Crimson Clover makes an excellent grazing crop, hay, ensilege and pasture for all classes of live stock. Milch cows make considerably more milk, when pastured on Crimson Clover. It is also valuable as a honey plant, furnishing an abundant supply of nectar in the spring.

Crimson Clover is valuable as a Winter Cover crop. It is especially valuable in Orchards where it is generally plowed under as a green manure crop. The plants retain for the use of the trees the following season much of the plant food, which would otherwise leach out of the ground during the Winter and early Spring. A good stand of Crimson Clover not only reduces the erosion and the gullying of the fields, but on sandy fields, the blowing of the soil by the wind is greatly lessened. The Plants also serve to hold the snow to a greater extent than if the field was left bare during the Winter. More and more each year farmers are realizing the importance and great value of Crimson Clover.

Important Letter To Farmers

The Co-operative Produce Exchange, launched by the members of the Rich Neck Farmers Club of Queen Anne's county something over a year ago, and which has been profitable to the farmers of Kent and Queen Anne's doing business through their Exchange, are addressing the following communication to those who are not stockholders. Should you not receive a letter the management request you to communicate with the Secretary just the same and become one of them. The following is the letter:

CHESTERTOWN, MD., June 16, 1914.

Dear Sir: Just a word or two in relation to the Farmers Co-operative movement within your reach.

The aim and objects of this organization, as set forth in the articles of incorporation are "to co-operate in the cultivation, consigning, marketing, buying, selling, and otherwise dealing in all kinds of farm products; to purchase, sell and otherwise deal in all kinds of farm machinery, seeds, phosphates and implements, tools and appliances of every kind used in connection with the cultivation of the soil; to carry on any business which may seem to the corporation to be calculated, directly or indirectly, to facilitate it in the transaction of any other business that may be calculated to enhance the value of its property."

Considering the methods and means followed by the individual farmer, is it not obvious co-operation in the purposes as above set forth should prove profitable and wise?

There has been a special meeting of the stockholders called for Saturday, June 27th, at 2 o'clock P. M., at the office of the corporation in Chestertown, to consider further methods for the development of the movement and the advisability of increasing the number of directors from five to nine.

We want every farmer in Kent and Queen Anne's counties interested. No matter where you reside the Exchange management can be of value to you, as much so with us as in other parts of the country.

Doesn't the proposition appeal to you sufficiently for you to subscribe to a few shares of stock at $10 per share?

Does any one doubt that by bulking your orders with fellow farmers the merchants will give us better prices on phosphates, seeds, implements, &c.? Or by combining farm produce the buyer will give us the advantage of saving of his expenses in running over the country to gather it? Or our demanding better prices and getting them? Stop and think for a minute what a small saving on all your phosphate, farm supplies, &c., or increase of a few cents per bushel on grain and farm produce handled by you will amount to, and see if you are not wise in placing yourself in a position to take advantage of such saving, by subscribing to some of the stock of the Exchange.

It is about time we were practicing some of our preaching, so let more of the community spirit be displayed by joining hands with the sixty or more of your neighbors now subscribers to the Exchange, by filling in the enclosed blank and mailing it in time to participate in the election of the new Board of Directors on the 27th.

By order of the Board of Directors.
