THANKSGIVING.

"O Sovereign King!—for all the wealth
Of gifts Thou hast bestowed;
For peace, and happiness and health
With which we are endowed;
For faith to know the onward way,
And strength to onward plod;
For grace which guides us day by day
Nearer to Thee, O God!
For all Thy gifts, O heavenly host!
One gift alone have we,
And one which Thou will cherish most—
A heart of love for Thee."

"Oh, give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good. Let all the people praise the Lord."

THE teachers of Kent county have been gladdened recently by an increase in their pay as provided for by Act of the last Legislature.

WAR with turkey has been declared. Active operations will be begun next Thursday, or as soon as the turkey comes within range of our guns.

IT is said that last Sunday was the first rainy Sabbath since February. Throughout this section there has been no rain of consequence for three months and it was badly needed. This rain is one thing for which to be thankful.

HON. J. CHARLES LINTHICUM, former State Senator, now Congressman from Baltimore, and well-known throughout the State, has made his announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Maryland. Mr. Linthicum is the first candidate in the field and from his interview announcing his intention to run it would appear that he will be a very aggressive candidate. Jump in, boys, the water is gettin' fine!

THE effort to make the Employes Liability Act unpopular does not meet with much success among those for whom the measure was passed. The oysterman does not come under this act any more than does the cook in your kitchen or the boy who rakes up your leaves. The law says "extra hazardous" occupations. We advise all employes of labor to write to the office of John B. Hanna, Baltimore, Md., and find out for himself whether he comes under the act, etc The law was not made for insurance companies but for the laboring man.

A SERIOUS CONDITION

The NEWS has given much space to the disease which is playing havoc among cattle realizing the importance of this matter to our farmers. The latest report shows that two farms in Queen Anne's have been quarantined so that it is highly important that every precaution be taken to prevent its spread.

This disease is the most difficult to guard against of any known. The infection can easily be carriad by men, dogs, cats, pigeons' and English sparrow. Every farmer should realize that it is very greatly to his interest for him to keep away from all opportunity to become infected, and more than all else every farmer should be exceedingly watchful to discover any suspicious cases of sore mouth, drooping or slobbering at the mouth, or lameness. If any of these things are noticed in a herd, call a skilled veterinarian at once and have the case determined.

Danger will come mainly through the stupidity of ignorant men who don't know the danger and therefore don't believe there is any danger. One such ignorant, stupid farmer in Indiana had a large herd of healthy stock. He learned that a herd in a near township was infected, so he went over there, examined the sick cattle, opened their mouths, and then went home like the fool he was and examined his own herd. The first thing he knew his whole herd was sick with the infection he brought himself. It has been well said that Providence cannot provide against the dangers of stupid ignorance. We must all be patient, watchful, and vigilant to guard our cattle. To do this we must fall in with the regulations prescribed by the government until the danger is past. The man who kicks at such regulations should be considered a public enemy.

THE special emergency war tax will begin to be realized here in a few days. It strikes at banks, amusement halls, beer, whiskey, perfumery, deeds, insurance policies, telegraph and telephone messages, &c.

THE Postoffice Department at Washington we are sure will give to the scores of patrons in lower Kent better service if the matter is presented in a business way. There is no fault to find with Mr. Ashley, the rural carrier. He does five times the work of the average carrier and for very much less pay. The service to Rock Hall and community is simply terrible and should be improved. In these days of automobiles and quick service there is no reason why there should not be a change. We would suggest that the Town Council of Rock Hall take the initiative in the matter and the NEWS will co-operate with all the influence it has at command.

Now is the time to ACT!

NOTICE

All Studebaker owners are invited to bring their 1914 cars to the STUDEBAKER SERVICE STATION at Townsend, Del. In order that our factory inspector as well as our own mechanics may look them over.

We know that all your cars are running in good shape but we want to see them just the same, as it is my desire to keep your cars running in the best possible condition without your having to go to some other garage to have your cars inspected.

I have the mechanics here and want to take care of you, I have had your money, and want you to have the service that belongs to you.

This service does not cost the car owners any money and the time will not even be charged against your (50) hours service cards.

We are adding a few of the 1915 features to the 1914 cars without any charge to you.

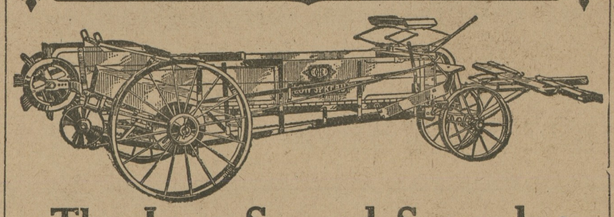
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES



The Low Spread Spreader Will Appeal To You

EVERY detail in the construction of the Low Spread manure spreader, you will be certain when you have examined the spreader, was designed because it increased the efficiency, the strength, or the simplicity of the machine.

Thus, it is built low—only waist high—to save you a vast amount of energy. It is built of best steel, except for box sides, apron slats, etc., to make it stand all strain and all loads for years. The end gate to keep the beater from clogging, the heavy steel rear axle, the shields to cover working mechanism, the extra strong beater and apron drive mechanism, all tend to give you many years of perfect service.

But you cannot really appreciate the features that have built up Low Spread reputation until you go over the spreader yourself. Come in and examine it as thoroughly as you like.
