Rheumatism

Just put a few drops of Sloan's on the painful spot and the pain stops. It is really wonderful how quickly Sloan's acts. No need to rub it in—laid on lightly it penetrates to the bone and brings relief at once. Kills rheumatic pain instantly.

Mr. James E. Alexander, of North Harpswell, Me., writes: "Many strains in my back and hips brought on rheumatism in the sciatic nerve. I had it so bad one night when sitting in my chair, that I had to jump on my feet to get relief. I at once applied your Liniment to the affected part and in less then ten minutes it was perfectly easy. I think it is the best of all Liniments I have ever used."

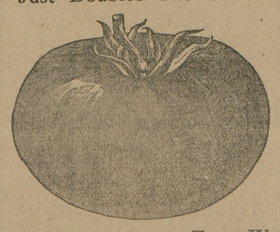
Bolgiano's "Greater Baltimore" Tomato

Just Doubles The Yield



Better Than Stone Ever Was

Bolgiano's "Greater Baltimore" Tomato just doubles the yield of many of the best Canning Tomatoes you have ever grown. Smooth, well-formed and deep from stem to blossom. Ripens evenly to the stem and is entirely free from ridges, cracks and blight. Unrivalled shipper, due to its solidity and firmness. Fruits in large clusters at every second joint. Joints are short and sturdy. Vigorous, compact, healthy vines. Brilliant red color, one of the handsomest tomatoes you have ever seen.

THE NEW STANDARD

"It is largely the EARLINESS and UNIFORMITY with which the plants bear a LARGE NUMBER of LARGE, SMOOTH FRUIT throughout the ripening season, that makes Bolgiano's 'Greater Baltimore' superior to Stone which has been the Standard canning variety for many years."

"During our Picking Season from July 25th to October 1st, Bolgiano's 'Greater Baltimore' yielded nearly 22 Tons Per Acre.
PROF. J. C. BOYLE,
Dept. Hort. Purdue University.
Lafayette, Indiana.

TREMENDOUS CROPS YEAR AFTER YEAR

—1913—

T. A. SNYDER PRESERVING CO., Chicago, writes: "Enter our order for Thousand (1,000) pounds 'Greater Baltimore' Tomato Seed. Bolgiano's 'Greater Baltimore' produced the largest, the most Tremendous Tomato Crop we have ever had in our lives at Fairmount, Marion and Tipton, Indiana."

—1914—

T. A. SNYDER PRESERVING CO., Chicago, writes: "We have been so busy with our Big Tomato Crops, we have neglected writing you in regard to Thousand Pound Bolgiano's 'Greater Baltimore' Seed for our 1915 crops.
"We feel satisfied you are going to have a lot of good-sized orders this year from the canners of Indiana, because they have seen our fields of 'Greater Baltimore' growing."

TWO TONS PER ACRE MORE

On January 30th, Mr. Wm. B. Plummer, of Kent Co., Md., writes as follows: "I have planted many varieties of Tomatoes, but have not found any other to do as well for me as the 'Greater Baltimore.' The past season we gathered over two tons per acre more than any other varieties. It is one of the best varieties that can be planted for canning purposes on account of firmness, standing drouth or wet weather. They are the first to ripen and continue firm and good-sized until frost."

EPITOME OF BILLY SUNDAY

By A. H. Covey.

[WRITTEN FOR THE KENT NEWS]

Billy Sunday, judged by the crowds he draws, compares most favorable with the great men of all times. Perhaps none have been his equal in this respect unless it be he Apostle Peter, who preached in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, when 3,000 souls were converted in one day. Today the most gifted men of all denominations are preaching to a few hundred say twice a week. He is a man who is preaching to as high as 60,000 souls a day. He has not only drawn this multitude of people once, but for seven weeks his tabernacle has been crowded, and to date more than 25,000 souls have been converted.

Every student of history who attempts to size up this movement which centers in this wonderful personality, and which is a direct result of his message will turn almost instinctively in his thought to the great awakening which took place in this country almost 200 years ago under Jonathan Edwards, to the Methodist revival under John Wesley and Geo. Whitefield, the reformation under Martin Luther, and Pentecost under the Apostle Peter.

Many indeed and varied have been the attempted explanations on the part of his critics of his marvelous drawing power. I shall attempt to answer only the most conspicuous one. Pastor Russell says the crowds who clamor to hear Sunday are attracted for three reasons, 1st, the novelty of his methods; 2nd, his acrobatic feats, and 3rd, it has become a fad.

Each and all of these factors may and doubtless do contribute their little mite to Billy's drawing power, but Pastor Russell fails completely in that he is absolutely silent on Billy's transforming power. The most praiseworthy fact about Billy Sunday is not that thousands go to hear him, (though to gather such a multitude in the name of religion has a deep significance), but that thousands of lives are transformed by his message. And Pastor Russell, before he has explained Billy Sunday, will have to take into account not the fact that thousands hear him, but that they go away transformed to bear witness to a new life. During the last few years over one quarter of a million souls have been led by this man to confess Jesus Christ. And every conceivable type of humanity are included in that number. The college professor, the business man, the politician, the farmer, the lawyer, the editor, the doctor, the author, the athlete, the criminal, the drunkard, the woman of society, the day laborer, the college student, the boy and the girl; the whole gamut of life is covered by this stream of life which has hit the saw-dust trail." The most significant thing then about Billy Sunday is not his methods, not his athletic performer, not his acrobatic feats, not even in the crowds he draws, but in the multitudes who go away determined to live a new life. It is the almost universal testimony of the cities and towns where he has worked that the drunkard has forsaken his cup, the gambler has burned his cards, the wayward and the outcast have gone back home, while every department of a community's life has been quickened to the attainment of a higher ideal.

And while we wait for Pastor Russell's explanation for Billy's transforming power, let's ask him to equare his message by the same practical rule. A proof of the pudding is the "eating thereof." In this practical age men want to see results. How many drunkards has Russell turned from their cup? How many young men has he saved from the bocze joint? How many feet has he turned from the forbidden places of sinful amusement? How many men and women has he inspired to forsake sin of any kind, and to lead a holy life?

Thousands of men and women today who are living lives of open shame are being rocked to their eternal damnation in the cradle of carnel security by Pastor Russell's psuedo religious teachings.

These things concerning Sunday being true every thoughtful man looks for the characteristic emphasis of his message. In giving an analysis then of Billy Sunday, I would say first of all, he is too great and wise a man to regard the minor distinctions of denominations and sects. He belongs to all the churches, except Unitarian. He presents no partial or contracted message. He does not walk in a beaten path. But he is for all that a dogmatic preacher. He is absolutely orthodox according to the old standards. For while he is intensely practical, making his message throb with actual life as you see it every day, he has gone to the very core of christian philosophy.

An epitome of his message there is:

1st, The sovereignty of God.

2nd. The exceeding sinfulness of sin.

3rd, The absolute certainty of Hell as the only place for the incorrigibly wicked.

4th, Jesus Christ—the Son of God—not of man, but revealed in the flesh as man's only Saviour.

5th, Heaven as the eternal home and resting place of all those who accept Christ by faith as their personal Saviour.

His Future? Billy Sunday will go down in history as one of the greatest evangelists of all time. There is no means of tabulating the number who have already been turned from sin to righteousness through his influence. His preaching will have a tremendous influence in shaping American theology. His message is a death warrant to the new thought—the new theology of this age. Affiliated Unitarianism is almost infinitesmal compared to any of the leading Protestant denominations. But as a matter of fact a large per cent. of the so-called scholars of the Protestant denominations have become Unitarian in thelogy. I did not say Catholic and I am no Catholic, either. But hats off to the Catholic Church for her loyalty to the fundamentals in religion.

A significant lesson taught by the almost unprecedented religious phenomena attending this man's preaching is that the world is just as hungry for the Gospel as it ever was. During the last few years there has been no vital interest on the part of the masses in religion. Men of scholarly attainments have been preaching to empty benches, and men had come to think that we had outgrown the christian church. But this man's success is a proof that the Gospel, stripped of the spirit of "higher crticism" and of the churehly conventionalities in which a modern ministry have lost it, is still "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." Because his message delivers the goods Billy Sunday has the unqualified endorsement of nearly all the best people, regardless of denominations, wherever he works. From every city where he has conducted a campaign comes the universal testimony that he has improved social, political, industrial,, civic and religious conditions. His most active, determined and uncompromising foes are the distiller, the brewer, the saloon-keeper and the Unitarian. My friends, before you pass adverse judgment on this fearless man of God stop and think on these things.

TO SAVE CHILD'S LIFE

A Virginia Girl Undergoes Serious Operation at Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore.

In an effort to save the life of little Eunice Painter, the 11-year-old daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Painter, of Virginia, who has been confined to the hospital since November suffering from an intestinal trouble, she was operated on last week by Dr. Herbert Blake, assisted by Dr. John D Blake, and Dr. J. E Dull, with Dr. Warfield, Dr. J. Page Strong, and several other physicians present during the operation. An avenue was created through the abdomen to the infected intestine, into which they made several incisions. Every method devised by the surgeons to effect a cure without operating was resorted to during the child's confinement to the hospital, but all efforts were unavailing.

Nearly five months ago the little girl was stricken with appendicitis at her home in Virginia, the case being so serious that she could not stand the trip to Baltimore, and she was taken to a local hospital and operated on at once by one of Virginia's best surgeons. Following the operation paralysis developed in the intestines which necessitated a second and more tedious and serious operation.

It was while the child was recuperating from the second surgical operation that an infection was found secreted about the stitches used in closing the wounds, and her parents and physicians decided it was best to bring her to a Baltimore hospital where they were better equipped for treating such a serious case. The little girl's patience and cheerfulness under her suffering up to the time she was operated on Wednesday of last week has been remarkable. During the past two weeks her condition was such that an immediate operation was imperative, and through all this time the child has suffered intensely, and yet has borne her suffering so bravely.

At this writing the little sufferer is doing as well as can be expected in her condition. She had undergone four operations previous to this one, her unusual vitality mainly pulling her through these trying ordeals.

IN MEMORIAM

Asleep in Jesus! peaceful rest!
Whose waking is supremely blest!
No fear, no woe shall dim that hour
That manifests the Saviour's power

And thus we say of MRS. CHARLOTTE WICKES STRONG, wife of the late Hon. T. Romie Strong, and daughter of the late James Page and Charlotte Spencer Wickes, and a representative of the oldest and most prominent families of Maryland, who died Tuesday, Feb. 16th, 1915, aged seventy-three years. The deceased was well known and beloved by all who knew her, for her gentle, tender nature and great depth of character. She was a grand high-minded christian woman, and a most devoted wife and mother, wielding an influence over all about her in such a manner that all who came in contact with her could be aught but uplifted. Too much praise cannot be given her, and here we are prone to give special mention of the training of her children, of whom it may be said by all who knew her best, "They are most truly a living monument to her memory."

She had been an invalid for some years, but her health began to fail rapidly in the past few weeks, and these devoted children were constantly at her bed side, and everything was done for her that careful nursing and medical skill could do. She had the skillful attention of Drs. W. O. Selby, J. Page Strong, Merritt Brice, and also Dr. Pearce Klutzing, a specialist of Baltimore. But never the-less, God called her to His own and she fell—

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wakes to weep."
