WEDDING NOTES

A marriage license was issued last week for W. Bruce Usilton and Katie E. Clothier, of Kent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, of near Still Pond, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Emma Bascomb, to Mr. Bert Winfried Anspon. The ceremony will take place Thursday evening, Nov. 11th, at Elmwood, the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Hall have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Alice Mae, to Dr. George Loutrell Timanus, on next Wednesday, Nov. 10th, 1915, at 8 p. m., in Memorial P. E. Church, Baltimore. The groom's mother is well known in Kent as Miss Mae Zimmerman, formerly of Washington College.

The wedding of Mr. W. Bruce Usilton and Miss Katie E. Clothier took place at St. James parsonage Monday evening, Rev. H. B. Jester officiating. They will reside in Smithville.

Mr. Walter Kelley and Miss Cora Canan, of Still Pond, were married at St. James parsonage by Rev. H. B. Jester on Wednesday evening. They will reside in Still Pond.

The interior of Stam's Drug Store is being renovated and a new metal ceiling being put in. When completed the place will present a fine appearance.

The festivals in Kent have been well attended and the suppers fine. If the Baltimore Sun critic could attend one of the Kent suppers he would apologize for all the bad things said. Not only do they serve palatable food but it is cooked to the queen's taste and served by attractive and winsome maidens,

Reports have reached us from persons who have been in search of chestnuts in the nearby woods, that they have found as high as five dead squirrels under a chestnut tree that were supposed to have been killed by eating nuts from the trees that were blighted.

A Young Man in Chestertown answered an adverisetment of an Iowa girl looking for a companion. Time will tell whether he was successful.

The Glee and Mandolin Clubs, of Washington College, Chestertown, will give an informal subscription dance in the college gymnasium on the evening of Saturday, November 13th, for the benefit of said clubs. Invitations and tickets may be had for the sum of fifty cents per couple, upon application either written or personal to Jas. W. Dykes, chairman. Since arrangements have been made for a program dance, no single admission will be sold.

Getting the Most for Your Money In Boys' Clothing

IT is because we know where and how to buy boy's clothes, and because we know what makes for good style, and what kinds of material and tailoring will stand up under the hard knocks boys give their clothes, that you get the most for your money here.

YOU like to feel that your boy looks well dressed even if his clothes don't cost as much as those of your neighbor's boy. And so we've looked out for the smartness of design even in the lowest-priced boys' clothing, and we've seen to it that GOOD STYLE is combined with GOOD WEAR.

WONT you let us show you how well we can dress your boy for little money?

Suits, $2.50 up to $8.00

Overcoats, $3.50 up to $10.00

AND there are his underwear, hosiery, Shirts, all kinds of sweaters and gloves, little raincoats with caps and school bags to match—and a hundred other things that the boys need—AND NOT ONE OF THRM AT WAR PRICES. Bring your boy in and let us fit him out.

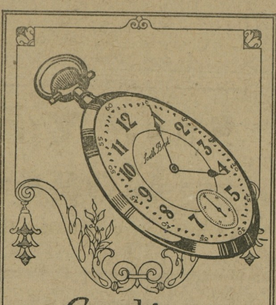
The home of Herbert, Benjamin and James Bowers, between Church Hill and McGinnes, was burned last week having been set on fire by lightning. Herbert Bowers was awakened by the heat and James Bowers awoke a few minutes afterwards. Benjamin Bowers, the other brother, slept on and was only aroused in time to get out of the building before it collapsed. Thinking that perhaps he could get his trousers, which had $40 in money and a check in one of his pockets, Herbert entered his room and upon reaching it, however, the entire ceiling fell and he fled without any clothing. The house and contents were consumed and a dairy and meat house were also destroyed. The home was insured for $1200; there was $300 on the furniture and $85 insurance on the outbuildings. They were protected in the agency of James G. Beck, Chestertown.



Combines Style and Beauty with Accuracy

This is a rare combination for it has been a generally accepted fact that, to obtain thinness in a watch, a certain amount of accuracy must be sacrificed.

But the South Bend Watch represents a new epoch in watch construction.

"The South Bend Watch"

It possesses both of these qualities to such an extent that we are glad to guarantee it to keep accurate time or refund your money.

You certainly will like its trim-shapely build.
