A SPLENDID AFFAIR

Tom Thumb Wedding And Mr. Bob Greeted By Crowded Houses In Chestertown—Proceeds For Worthy Cause.

The Chestertown Lyceum was filled Tuesday evening with an appreciative audience to see the Tom Thumb wedding and a play entitled Mr. Bob, given for benefit of Old Peopel's Home. The little folks were just perfectly beautiful and acted like grown-ups. Cute, winsome and charming were all the characters, but little Miss Mallalieu brought down the house with her hearty applause when the audience applauded. The acting of Master Perkins Woodall as grandfather also was conspicuous but each character from the preacher to the guests played his part to perfection even Jack Reed, the smallest full-dressed gentleman in the party. The cast follows:

After the "wedding" came a laughable comedy "Mr. Bob" which kept the audience in an uproar for over an hour. The characters were well chosen and each "starred" bringing out the fun in most striking manner. The characters follow:

Philip Royson, Miss Rebecca's Nephew..... ....Mr. Frazier Russell

STILL POND FARMERS' CLUB

The last meeting of the Still Pond Farmers Club was held at the home of A. L. Harris. In his address he gave figures showing the cost per acre and the value of the crop per acre for last year on the following crops:

	VALUE	COST	NET
Oats..... ..	$36 00	$12 00	$24 00
Hay.....	24 00	3 50	20 50
Corn	26 00	13 00	13 00

Keifer Pears.....	43 00	13 00	30 00
Bartletts (40 years old)....	120 00	60 00	60 00

Mr. Burrell spoke of the potato scab and what to do to prevent it. He recommended spraying after they are cut for planting. Seed corn and seed tomatoes, he said, should be selected in the field so as to know it is taken from good plants. He said that all tomato plants should be sprayed in the bed as the cost of spraying them there is very small.

Permanent pasture was discussed by Mr. Hepbron, Mr. Jarrell, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Willis. All agreed that a permanent pasture is profitable. It saves much cost for tilling, fencing and seed and can be pastured early in the spring.

Mr. Burrell told the advantages of the Boys' Corn Club and the Dairy Association.

Walter B. Harris and wife were elected members of the club.

The next meeting will be held at Mr. Harry Williams, Thursday, May 25th. The subject for discussion will be, "Does it pay better to farm as a tenant or to buy land to farm?"
