MR. AND MRS. JOHN V. KILBOURN AND CHILDREN

We are indebted to the Baltimore Sun and our contemporary, the Enterprise, for the use of the above splendid photo etching of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kilbourn and twelve children. Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourn are former Kent countians spending their early married life at Lankford and Edesville.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourn look entirely too young to be the parents of the 12 children who are shown with them in the photograph. But here are the children to prove their own existence and here are the parents. Very substantial folk, too, are both parents and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourn were married October 6, 1885, 31 years ago next October. They are now residents of South west Baltimore. The father is 50 years old, the mother slightly younger. They look hardly older than their older children.

The names of the children are: Frank V., John H., Wallace, Blanche (Mrs. Price Kenton), Collins, Arthur, Paul, Mary, Catherine, Rachael, Hannah, Maurice and Helen.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Let's Make Our Town Attractive, Sanitary and Safe.

An editorial by BRUCE BARTON in "Every Week."

I HAVE in mind two towns. Entering one, the railroad runs between two rows of dirty back yards filled with tin cans and rubbish. Entering the other, it passes houses neatly painted, back yards with flowers in them, and streets swept clean.

These two towns had the same population five years ago. But recently two new factories have moved to one of them; real estate values have advanced; new houses are being built; everybody is prosperous and happy.

And the residents of the other town cannot understand their "bad luck."

A real "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign would have taken the "bad luck" town out of its rut.

This year more than 6,000 cities and towns in the United States are conducting "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns.

Many men and women go through life without ever doing anything for their community. "Clean Up and Paint Up" offers you your chance.

The greatest miracles of modern times have been performed with bonfires, drain pipes, soap and paint. The Philippines have been made a healthier place to live in than the average American town. Typhoid has been stamped out of Serbia. The Panama Canal zone has been transformed from a dismal unhealthy swamp to a wholesome place for homes.

Last year Cleveland, in its "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign, disposed of refuse sufficient to fill a train three and one-half miles long.

Another middle western town gathered its boys together, and, by offering a reward for each 100 tin cans, abolished its unsightly back yards in a single day.

"There is no better test of the civilization of a community than this: How much paint does it use?"

A wise man said that.

It is not given to you to found a religion or make a great invention or discover a new continent.

But you can make your town a cleaner, better place to live in. And by so doing you give a little push to the chariot of civilization.

LOWER KENT

Mr. Charles Coleman, who has been ill for many months past, remains about the same.

Mrs. Leo Droll, spent a short time in the city this week. She is the guest of her mother.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith have become settled in their cozy parsonage near Wesley Chapel church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith extend a glad welcome to all those who attend each service. They are fast winning their way into the hearts of the people; Mr. Smith's method of instructing his Sunday school class being especially approved and very instructive.

Miss Elizabeth Davis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis, will be one of the graduates of the State Normal School.

Mr. Hilary Ackers, who injured his foot some time ago by falling from a scaffold while at work in Baltimore, has so far recovered that he was able to return to Baltimore this week.

The funeral on Sunday morning at 10.30 of Louise, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gale took place at her parents home near Edesville. Many relatives and friends came to pay their last respects, showing in what loving esteem she was held. Louise was a timid child yet made many friends, the secret of this was she loved everyone, being a general favorite with playmates and teachers, and also a member of Mrs. Jos. Stine's sabbath school class of Rock Hall church. She was so bright, her lips were hardly free from laughter or song, yet no place will her loss be so keenly felt as in the home where she simply radiated sunshine, she was almost a constant companion of her father about his work or drives. Four young girls in white acted as pall bearers, Misses Alice and Mary Dowling, Edith Moffett and Kathleen Hubbard. Several appropriate hymns were sung, all being favorites of Louise Revs. Prettyman and Smith had charge of the service. Louise was so fond flowers, her friends remembered this and it required four autos to carry their tributes of love. Both Mr and Mrs. Gale and the foster grandmother have the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Charles Davis is quite ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ayres.

Mr. James Middletown is very ill.

Owing to a misunderstanding and the absence of Rev. Mr. Prettyman who was officiating at the Gale funeral, the M. E. Church service was very slimly attended Sunday morning only about 24 being present. Mr. B. F. Legg conducted the prayer service. The veteran leader, though feeble because of the years on his back, was very enthusiastic in his delivery, and pronounced the service a victory over all obstacles. The M. E. church is handicapped by the lack of qualified men to substitute the pastor on occasions when he is compelled to be absent. There are a number of men who have been in the church for many years who ought and could be qualified for substituting for the pastor on any occasion. The church years back had no lack of such men, and such men had no better attainments than those of today. Why this lack? Isn't it because of the tendency to saddle the work of every department on the back of the pastor, while we taken our ease in Zion?

The Ladies Mite Society, Knights of Pythias and Sons of America observed Decoration ceremonies at the cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Prettyman did the oratory. It was a hot old tramp but everybody seemed to be well pleased with the result. A large number were present at the service, while the dead still retain a claim on our affections. Let's not forget that reverence for the dead is best shown by care for the living, then, perhaps we can excuse ourselves 12 months hence from similiar service if Old Sol should be on such a rampage as he was last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Crew, of Worton, were with us on Sunday and as usual, it rained.

Max and "Hon" are highly elated over the fact that they are the first in this section to have on display home-grown sweet peas.

Capt. W. H. Harrison is having his pretty home newly dressed with a handsome blend of paint.

Mr. R. J. Harrison is also applying a fresh coat of paint to his dwelling.

THE Hackers or Davis farm in Chapel district, Talbot, was offered for sale in Easton and purchased as a whole by Hiram G. Dudley, of Baltimore, at $45 50 an acre, the total price being $43,657.70. The price was considered very satisfactory.

AMPLIFYING on the scar escrow scheme, the Rev. R. D. Roller, rector of St. John's Church, has adopted a scare-bird with success. Observing the birds destroying the cherries on a tree in his rear yard, he hit on the idea. At a downtown shop he bought a pair of canton flannel spotted cats, such as are used to gladden the hearts of infants. He placed these in his tree and the birds now give it a wide berth.
