THE STORE WITH A SMILE

No, the store itself does not smile, but everybody in it does.

We have here a Store Family of nearly 1400 contented, happy people. Contented, because they are receiving a fair compensation for their service — a compensation which they themselves regulate in proportion to their own effort and efficiency.

Happy, because they are fairly treated, and because their only concern is to see that every customer is given courteous, honest, helpful service.

It is a store which you will like to visit — not the cold, awe-inspiring business machine which many department stores are, but a human store — a store with a personality—an organization of nearly 1400 souls with but the single purpose of serving you well—and smilingly.

SAVE YOUR HOGS! PREVENT CHOLERA!

Hog cholera has caused a loss of thousands of dollars to Kent county farmers during the past few years. Farmers themselves can do much towards preventing the spread of this disease, thus placing swine raising and feeding upon a firmer and more profitable basis. With this end in view, the following suggestions are offered:

To Keep Hog Cholera From Reaching Your Herd.

Locate your hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways and do not allow the hogs to run free range.

Do not visit your neighbor or allow him to visit you if either of you have hog cholera on your premises.

Do not drive into hog lots when returning from market, or driving on public highways.

Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons or farm implements.

Do not place newly purchased stock, secured or loaned for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at County Fairs with your herd. Keep such stock quarantined for at least two weeks, and use care to prevent carrying infection from these to other pens in feeding and attending stock.

Burn to ashes or cover with quick lime and bury under four feet of earth all dead animals, and the viscera removed at butchering time; because they attract buzzards, dogs, etc., which are liable to carry hog cholera infection.

Confine your hogs and do not keep pigeons unless you confine them.

If Hog Cholera Appears In Your Herd

Isolate the sick hogs. Confine the others to unlimited quarters that may be cleaned daily and spray three times a week with disinfection (one part compound cresol solution to thirty parts of water) until cholera has abated in you herd.

Treat them immediately with Anti-Hog-Cholera Serum, after which they should be kept on light diet and pure drinking water.

Post a notice at the entrance of your farm, Hog Cholera—keep out!

Notify your neighbors that your herd is infected, that they may take the necessary precautions to prevent hog cholera from reaching their herds.

To Rid the Premises of Infection.

Remove all manure and saturate with quick lime.

Burn all litter, rubbish and old hog troughs.

After premises are thoroughly cleansed, spray walls, floors and other surfaces with disinfectant.

Wallow holes should be filled in, drained, or fenced off.

All runs underneath buildings should be cleaned and disinfected and then boarded up.

Destroy all hogs that do not fully recover, they may be carriers of cholera infection.

Caution.

Remember, you can't cure the disease, so get busy and prevent it.

Don't be fooled into buying quack remedies.

When cholera appears in the neighborhood have your hogs treated with Anti-Hog-Cholera Serum.

The serum contains no cholera germs, and there is absolutely no danger in handling it. It is simply a preventive.

Under normal conditions, hogs treated at this time will be immunized until butchering time this fall.

Approximate Cost of Treatment.

5 to 50-pound hogs, 10 to 35c
50 to 100-pound hogs, 55c to 70c
100 to 150-pound hogs, 75c to 85c.
150 to 200-pound hogs, $1 10 to $1 15
200 to 300-pound hogs, $1.20 to $1 40

Obtain all serum from State Biological Laboratory, Maryland Department of Agriculture, College Park, Md.,
