Local Notes

THE L. J. Usilton farm near Betterton has been rented to Mr. Moses Cranor. The Fletcher-Plummer farm at Melitota has been rented to Mr. John T. Moffett

THE Still Pond Farmers' Club will meet at the home of Mr. E. A. Covey next Thursday, Sept. 28th.

THE tomato growers in the vicinity of Dover have been getting better prices for tomatoes during the past week or two than for several seasons past, many of them receiving as high as 30 and 35 cents a basket at the station and at some of the canneries.

AN offer of $60,000 has been made for High street property for the purpose of constructing a modern Arcade building. Wouldn't it be fine!

ONE of Kent's best deserving citizens has received a very acceptable cash present from Mr. Cosden, President of the oil firm of Cosden & Co. Mr. Cosden spent much of his early life with this gentleman and remembered him in a substantial way.

A MUSICAL will be held at the Eastern Shore Inn on Monday, Sept. 25, at 8 p. m. Admission 25c.

THE contract for installing the boilers, plumbing, etc, at the college was let this week to out of town parties who guarantee to have heat turned on within three weeks.

THE Graham damage suit came up for trial in Elkton yesterday. A number of witnesses have been summoned here. H. H. Barroll & Son represent the plaintiffs while Wm. W. & S. Scott Beck appear for Graham, Clements & Sutton.

THE 1916 Chautauqua officers were reelected Monday evening at a meeting of the guarantors, as follows: W. F. Russell, president; M. W. Thomas, secretary; Thomas S. Bordley, treasurer. An effort is to be made at once to get pledges for the whole number of tickets so that there will be none for sale on opening day of Chautauqua.

A USE for toads has been found by Mr. Gale, of near Galena. He feeds them to his pole cats who seem to enjoy them. Mr. Gale has about 500 guinea pigs and 20 pole cats.

Twinkle March was started by Mr. Geo. Sutton, the Worton expert trainor, in nine races and failed to get a part of the money in only one race. Helen March, another of Mr. Sutton's pets, is also winning races and this week made a record of 2 17½

THE exhibit of corn in the NEWS office is enough to make every Kent county farmer ambitious. This week Mr. A. H. Covey brought a sample of his crop which looks good for a record-breaker. Already buyers are offering fancy prices for his crop. One ear had over 1300 grains while all the ears are uniform and regular. Mr. John C. Smith picked up a "nubbin" in his field on the J. W. Chapman (Pearce) farm on which there were 1560 grains.

AN IMPORTANT CASE

Justice Vernon M. Barnett was the presiding judge in an important case Wednesday. On its face the suit looks trivial, but when all the facts are known it becomes one of wide influence. Mr. John Gale Usilton brought the test case against the County Commissioners for payment of work done amounting to about $36. The justice rendered a verdict for the plaintiff and the defendant noted an appeal to court. This appeal will be one of the cases tried the third week in October. William W. and S. Scott Beck, Esqs., represented Mr. Gale Usilton while John D. Urie, Esq, represented the county.

It was proven by the plaintiffs that their client did the work authorized by the Engineer which was needed to be done, had not been paid for same and that the commissioners under the law had full authority to exceed the 20 per cent. if necessary. It is upon the final verdict in this case that a number of other similar claims will be settled. These latter debts are held by farmers and workmen all over Kent, and amount to several thousands of dollars.

Jack has killed the ugly giant of debt and worry.
