Local Notes

A COHEN will have something to say to the public in his adv. next week.

The Kent County Teachers Association met yesterday in town and an interesting program carried out.

A FLOCK of hen hawks passed over Kent county Wednesday morning. They looked like a string of wild ducks.

ROCK HALL district comes to the front this week with a fine specimen of corn grown by Mrs. Milton Maslin. One ear contained over 1500 grains.

MR. B. W. ANSPON of the Maryland Agricultural College will talk on the Improvement of High School Grounds at the Eastern Shore Inn on Monday, Oct. 2nd, at 3 30 p. m. Open to public.

A MEETING of milk producers will be held at Kennedyville school house this Saturday night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as the question of milk prices and tests of milk will be considered.

THREE families have left Chestertown this week for Chester and other places. They are Messrs. Harry Coleman, Brodie and Briscoe. Others arrive to take their places as there is plenty of work of all kinds here.

THE canneries in Kent closed this week. The yield of tomatoes in Kennedyville district has been above the average. The best yield yet reported is that of Mr. Louis E. Grantlin. He picked 45 tons from five acres.

WITHIN a few minutes of the hour and on the same day that the big fire of six years ago occurred, an alarm of fire was sounded in Chestertown—Sept 26th. It proved to be curtains on fire in a house on Cross street which was soon extinguished.

THE tomato market in Dover Tuesday was out of sight. As high as 85 cents per basket was paid by Baltimore buyers. Local canners released their contractors so that they could reap a harvest. The price dropped to 25 cents next day.

AT the cattle sale of Mr. John K. Lynch, in Caroline, on Monday stock brought record-breaking prices. One thoroughbred Holstein sold for $175, while others brought from $100 to $130. Mr. C. L. Jarrell, of Chestertown, who will engage extensively in the dairy business, purchased 12 of the prize cattle, including the herd Holstein bull, for which he paid $130.

THE Hebrew New Year began on the evening of September 27th. The Day of Atonement being the 7th day of October. On account of these religious holidays the Hebrew business houses of this town will be closed on September 28th, and 29th, and on October 7th. Mr. Abe Cohen, the Sandy Bottom merchant, has had a fine business the past week. He will return from his holiday next Monday night.

THE Foster Sudler sale advertised in the KENT NEWS is said to have been the biggest personalty sale held in Queen Anne's for many years. Cows and heifers sold from $100 to $310. Two auctioneers kept the bidders active and a large crowd was present. Dr. Sudler is going west on account of his health.

Among the jurymen for Queen Annes court are the following: William C. Hall, Oliver C. Newnam, D. Edgar Hurlock, E. Rumsey Anthony, Joel T. McGinnes, Charles E. McKee, Daniel R. Woodall, George H. Bowers, John Barnes, Robert Brown, David L. Bamberger, Charles W. Clements.
