Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOBL, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. YOST, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUERRING, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

IF you are a business man, if you are a professional man, if you are employed at a daily wage, make up your mind to deposit weekly a certain sum of money in the bank. You'll be surprised how the sum will grow. Cash in bank gingers up the man who has it there. He has more confidence in himself. The business man is ready for a dull season. He is ready for an opportunity.

So is the professional man. The man who is working for a daily wage and who hasn't any money in bank frequently is fearful of a loss of his situation. He does not work as well or with the confidence in himself as does the man with something laid aside for a rainy day.

A HAPPY OCCASION AT KENNEDYVILLE MANSE

A memorable event took place Saturday evening at the Presbyterian Manse at Kennedyville when a large company "broke in" upon the popular pastor and family. The design of the raiding party were far from evil, however. It was inspired by love and devotion for their pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Georgetown, Worton and Kennedyville. Rev. Mr. Clews had declared that he would present his resignation when Presbytery met on Monday. It appears that the members and friends of above churches had united to so show their love and devotion to Mr. and Mrs. Clews as to make Georgetown and Kennedyville live in their memories, not by gloomy regrets, but by pleasant and happy recollections. If Mr. and Mrs. Clews ever lamented coming to Kent that lament has now been turned into joy.

After the above party had settled down some one suggested a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Clews. This was followed by a solo by the Rev. Mr. Schauer, which was very acceptably rendered. After a few more pleasantries, Mr. Will Hurlock arose, and addressing Mr. and Mrs. Clews, said: "In behalf of your Georgetown and Kennedyville friends in appreciation of the great work you have accomplished, I find great pleasure in presenting you with these." Then he handed to Mr. Clews a solid gold watch and chain and to Mrs. Clews a gold lavaliere, studded with a diamond and two pearls. Mr. Clews was too embarrassed to reply at once, but after a few seconds he said something along this line: "It is a verity of life that with the bitter is mingled the sweet, and with the sweet the bitter." He spoke of the first two years of his ministry there as promising a strong Presbyterian church—that was sweet. But that through the attitude of certain ones, all hope had been shattered, rendering the last two years of his pastorate far from a happy one, as well as almost crippling the church—that was bitter. Then he spoke of the event of the evening as not only sweet in itself, but as turning all past bitterness into sweetness. Mrs. Clews said "Ditto."

After refreshments the various members of the party departed to their respective homes.

Thus an evening passed, the tender memories of which will ever remain vivid in the hearts and minds of the parson and his wife. It was learned that Miss Blanche Redmile and Mrs. John Hessner were the committee appointed to carry above through, and Miss Kathryn Hessner the one assigned to select and purchase the presents. All of which was admirably performed. It is needless to add that Mr. and Mrs. Clews are filled with gratitude at above evidence of love, devotion and appreciation.

FRANKLY SPEAKING, it will be pretty hard to find anyone who will believe the following fish story, which was told as the "positive" truth the other day by a well-known local fisherman: He stated that he caught, the evening before, a large basket full of the prettiest trout he had ever seen, and that he had caught them, one by one, without hook or line. It was very simple and easy, if one only knew how. Shortly before dusk, he took a good trout fly and made it fast a short distance above the water, the trout swimming about saw it, and jumped out of the water in an endeavor to catch it, and when they jumped he simply moved the crab net which he was holding so that they would fall into it. He says he believes he could almost have broken them up if he had kept on, but that when he got three dozen pretty fellows, ranging from 15 to 26 inches long, he decided to stop.—Next.

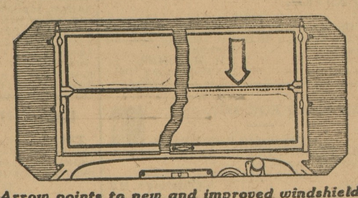
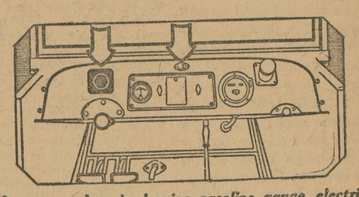
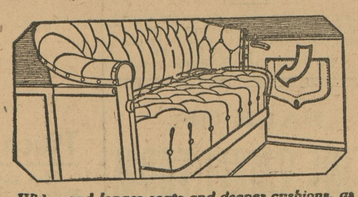
4 New Refinements



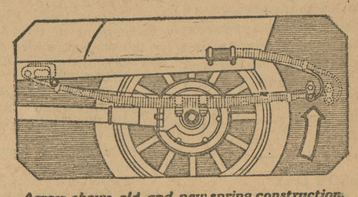
Arrow points to new and improved windshield. Upper half overlaps lower half. Absolutely rain-tight.



Instrument board, showing gasoline gauge, electric dashlight, speedometer, electric starting and lighting plugs and ammeter.



Wider and longer seats and deeper cushions, as indicated by arrow.



Arrow shows old and new spring construction. New springs much longer and more flexible.

MAXWELL Motor Cars are now equipped with a new and improved windshield, still longer and more flexible springs, wider seats, deeper and softer cushions, dashlight, gasoline gauge, and other equally important refinements.

To the generous value heretofore present in the Maxwell product, these extra improvements have now been added.

This is in line with the Maxwell policy—so widely advertised—not to change the Maxwell in any essential detail, but to continue improving it so that it will always be a standard, recognized product, constantly abreast of the best practices of the industry.

Notwithstanding the superlative and sometimes confusing claims that are made in behalf of various automobiles, we restate our sincere conviction that Maxwell Motor Cars offer more real value per dollar than any other car in the world.

This too, is the belief of the thousands and thousands of Maxwell owners. And these beliefs are supported by actual and tangible facts. We actually know that within the entire history of the automobile business, no motor car—in any class or at any price—has equalled the Maxwell in honest dollar-for-dollar value.

And if you will examine a Maxwell, ride in it, compare it with other cars, consider its splendid record, reputation and past performances, you too, will know it.
