Quite a few friends from Georgetown and Kennedyville Presbyterian church visited the home of Rev. Wm. Clews and family Saturday evening and presented Mr. Clews with a gold watch and chain and Mrs. Clews a very pretty necklace. This was indeed a surprise but greatly appreciated.

The Ladies Aid of Kennedyville Church are arranging for a big supper on Oct. 21st.

ROCK HALL

"Pernell's" electric light system was out of commission the early part of Saturday night. As a consequence complaint was loud and long, and merchants and residents were compelled to place in commission their retired gasoline and oil lamps. The darkness of the town caused much inconvenience to the town people and visitors. The town had the appearance of the political campaign of last year. Many politicians, some candidates and office-holders were much in evidence, among whom we noted Representative J. D. Price and Mr. Harper, of Wicomico, State's Attorney Vickers, ex-Senator Beck and our hustling friend, Mr. Dodd, of Chestertown. Mr. Price was the drawing card of the night and his coronation address in Junior Hall was rich and hugely received by a big audience.

The darkness and cool weather was decidedly a detriment to the church supper and festival.

Saturday seemed to be an unlucky day here. An automobile smash-up occurred betwern here and Coleman's Corner, in which a number of persons were injured.

Mr. W. T. Carter's horse dropped in his tracks and died in the town as Mr. C. was driving to Tolchester. This is the third horse that Mr. Carter has lost this year.

Our well beloved pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Rev. Mr. Shadell, has been transferred to Hagerstown to serve a flourishing church in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ryan moved from here to Baltimore on Wednesday.

Mr. C. H. Elburn has been spending a few days here among relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ashley's youngest son is reported to be in a precarious condition, a victim of the White Plague.

Mr. Frank Hartman found a child's gold bracelet a few days ago. He will be glad to restore same to the owner.

Beneficial suppers and festivals are crowding one another these days in this section. The R. C. Church festival for this evening (Saturday) promises to be a top-notcher in sumptuousness and management. The P. O. S. of A. Lodge is formulating plans for a festival on the 20th, advertisement of which will appear next week.

The wrapper factory of this place has shut down indefinitely, we hear. This is regrettable to not a few operatives and others.

Reports are in circulation that, owing to the mortality of oysters in the bay and tributaries, from the Potomac up, our oysters will be selling on the bars at a dollar a bushel before cold weather sets in.

STILL POND

Mrs. Emma F. Wilson, of Philadelphia, Pa., has returned home after a week visit in the home of her brother, Mr. W. H. Kusen.
