The champion cockscomb raiser in town is Mr. Howard Reed. He had one which weighed 15 ounces.

Washington College will play John Hopkins University the annual foot ball game today at Baltimore.

The Rachel Lee property in Fairlee has been purchased by the Kent Land Co., and may be bought of them.

It is said that one of Kent's corn club boys has raised 104 bushels of corn on his acre. How's that for some corn?

Among the donations received this week toward the erection of the M. E. parsonage was one of $100 and one of $1,000.

The stack on the heating plant at the college is 100 feet tall. The builder, Mr. Clark, says he has constructed them as high as 375 feet!

The Kings Daughters of Emmanuel P. E. Church will hold a "Pie Bake" at Toulson's vacant store room today Saturday at 12 noon.

A lady visiting Chestertown from Baltimore lost her pocketbook containing $18 while on a trip to Elkton. Another lady residing in town lost her purse containing about $20.

There is just one thing that has not advanced in price. No, not mending shoes, because this has gone up too. It is the hole in the doughnut. They do say, however, that it is being made larger!

The noted registered stud Star Bingen owned by William H. McKee has been sold to Mr. William M. Beatty, of Virginia. This horse has been in Virginia for a season and was so popular as to cause his sale.

The Wright property at the college has been sold to Mr. Adam Schauber. Col. Wright expects to go West and take charge of his brother's large estate. The price paid for this fine property is said to have been less than $6,000.

The price of canned goods has again advanced, and a good many packers in Kent will profit largely thereby. The rise was evidently anticipated by our canners, many of them have lately put forth their best efforts to increase their output.

The Current issue of the Patriotic Marylander is on our desk in which Kent is well represented. The muster roll of Kent in 1775 prepared by Mr. Percy G. Skirven from the records is important. There are about 750 names in this muster.

The indications are at present that the potato crop will be considerably shorter than estimated. Farmers who have potatoes and can do so are holding for higher prices, and before spring the prices will very likely be much higher than at present.

Owing to the big rush of fertilizer orders the factories along the river have been working night and day. The business of the new firm of Massey & Hines has increased greatly while the Peerless Company, already a big concern, has made greater shipments than ever before.

The Mason sale Thursday near Betterton was a good one. Cows brought as high as $135 while other stock and implements brought fair prices. Speaking of sales, Langwater Maiden, a Guernsey cow, sold at North Easton, Mass., Wednesday, for $6150. Charles L. A. Whitney, of Albany, N. Y. was the buyer.

The County Board of Education has decided that teachers of Washington county need not require of pupils in the public schools a certificate showing that they have been properly vaccinated. The matter was discussed by the members of the board and the decision reached after careful consideration.

As an evidence of appreciation for long and faithful service, the well known grocers, Hopper McGaw & Company, Baltimore, have given to several of their employees an interest in the earnings of the firm from and after July 1, 1916. Mr. Charles C. Hopper, well known in Kent, is one of the men to receive the benefit.

Last spring, when Master Robert Atkinson, nephew of Capt. Edward Emory, put his horse in Mr. Stafford's stable for the day, while he attended school, a hen egg was found in the hay put in the back of the carriage for feed, nearly every day. Robert has noticed the same thing occur every other day since school opened this fall.

If so, please note that Mr. Nick Denny will be in attendance to look after your wants Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 16, 17, 18 at the store of Bordley & Sons. Drop in and see this unusually reasonable line while other goods are so high. It will pay you.

LYCEUM THEATRE NEXT WEEK

The Edna Q. May Stock Company is booked to appear at the Lyceum theatre all next week. This company has been playing for 52 consecutive weeks without a layoff. The leading lady, Miss May, and the manager, Mr. Gould, are not strangers to Lyceum patrons as both have appeared here in former years in the caste with the Mattice Stock Co. Manager Gould announces that he has taken great care in the selection of an excellent company to support Miss May, and that no pains or expense have been spared to have every production mounted in elaborate style as to scenic, electrical and mechanical effects. Feature vaudeville acts will be introduced between the acts. The engagement will open Monday night, Oct. 16th, with the presentation of "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" to be followed with The Mysterious Diamond Necklace, The Rosary, Dora Thorne and other well-known plays. The scale of prices will be within the reach of all.

The wedding of David W. Zearfoss, the great baseball catcher, to Miss Lottie H. Neal, took place at Niagara Falls Monday. An exchange says: "Mr. I. J. Savage has in his possession a pocketbook containing $1200 in paper money which he found at Pen Mar, Pa., on August 5th, and has never been able to find the owner. He kept it all summer and made several inquires about it and has advertised it in several daily papers. Mr. Savage says the pocketbook and and money does not belong to him and will return it to the owner if satisfactory descriptions are given." Who says these are not boom times when a man can lose $1200 and not know it?

The Washington College foot ball team went to Collegeville, Pa., and met a crushing defeat at the hands of Ursinus College. This was expected and it certainly seems a mistake to send our boys up against such a strong team so early in the season. The score was 63 to 0. Bill Wallace suffered an injured shoulder. The W. C. line-up was as follows: Young, right end; Caldwell, right tackle; Davis, right guard; Monkhouse, centre; Schelberg, left guard; Bowen, right tackle; Cain, left end; Frampton, left half-back; Joyce, right half-back; Brown, left half-back; Wallace, full back.

The Kent tax assessors met in the Court House, Chestertown, last Monday morning to confer with Tax Supervisor Owen C. Smith, concerning the work at hand. The State Tax Commission hopes to see the big task completed within three months, and in order to do this the work must be thoroughly systemized. Uniformity and fairness will be the keynote of the 1916 assessment, and property owners are asked to co operate in every way possible with the assessors to bring this about. Work will start in the county immediately.

The Corn Club Boys are looking forward to a pleasant trip thru Kent. They will arrive here Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11th and remain until Monday noon. It is proposed to give the Western Md. boys a royal welcome in Chestertown and Kent. A meeting will be held in the Court House next Friday evening, Oct. 20th at 7.30 P. M. for the purpose of making plans for entertainment, &c. The public are invited and urged to be present.
