THE Byron sale will take place next Monday, near town.

FIVE dollars will be the minimum price for women's shoes," said R. M. Coombs, a shoe manufacturer. at a meeting of the Baltimore Shoe Retailers' Association at the Rennert this week. Mr. Coombs, Ottmar Marcus and other local shoe men gave the alarming shoe situation a general discussion, the gist of which was, "Stopping letting the manufacturer and jobber grab all the profits and grab some yourselves while the grabbing is good."

WINTER dropped in on us this week. A snow storm prevailed Wednesday morning and Thursday the mercury dropped to 26°.

THERE is some talk of building the new bridge across Chester river at the foot of High street, in 1918. The biggest barrier in the way of this plan is the objection which might be raised by the Md., Del. & Va. St'r. Co.

DON'T forget the "bake" in Toulson's vacant store room this morning.

THE gunners were out in force last Friday and some fine sport enjoyed. Birds are plentiful as are rabbits. Jeff Ferguson killed 9 rabbitts and only had one fox hound. Mrs. Isabel Cranston, of Ramapo, Rockland county, reported to the police, Monday, that while driving an automobile home early on Sunday the car struck and killed a deer in the darkness in Barryville. The deer, emerging from a patch of woods, dashed across the road in front of the machine and bounded against a wire fence. Turning back it got into the rays of the headlight and was evidently dazzled by them for it plunged headlong against the engine of the car. It was dragged underneath. When Paul Flewellyn, of Mohegan, brother of Mrs. Cranston, got out and examined the deer, it was dead.

To lose a flock of 21 geese and ducks, valued at $30 to $35,, from a mysterious source, resembling poison, was the hard luck of Nelson Slaughter, a St. Jones Neck farmer, Friday. At four o'clock in the afternoon the poultry were as well as could be, but by six o'clock that evening they were dead. A flock of younger ducks in a pen were not affected. One of the dead geese was sent by Mr. Slaughter to the State bacteriologist for analysis.

IT is likely that the State authorities will shortly try out a ferry between Claiborne and Annapolis or some point near Annapolis. State officials propose to convert one of the two State steamers—the Governor McLane and the Governor Thomas—into a passenger boat, and to buy a large barge or scow for the transportation of automobiles and other freight. The steamer would tow the freight boat.

"KENT NEWS" $1 per year.

VERDICT OF $1400 AWARDED

The case of Joseph T. Ford vs. Perry C. Othoson was tried in the Queen Anne's court at Centreville this week and a verdict of $1400 was rendered for the plaintiff. This was a damage suit for assault and battery committed by Othoson on Ford, near Sassafras, in Kent county, in October, 1915. A great many witnesses were present from Kent and Cecil counties. William W. Beck and J Harry Legg, Esqs, represented the plaintiff, and Hope H. Barroll, L. Wethered Barroll, J. Frank Harper and Thos. J. Keating, Esqs., represented the defendant.

SUED FOR $3,534

To prevent a verdict for the defendant a non pros, was taken for the plaintiff Monday in the case of Walter H. Hadaway, of Kent County, against John J. Fahey, in the Superior Court, of Balto., to recover $3 534.80, which, it was alleged, Mr Hadaway had advanced his son, John M. Hadaway, and which Fahey, it was charged, wrongfully received from the younger Hadaway between September 1, 1912 and May 31, 1914, in payment of debts.

The ruling of Judge Ambler taking the case from the jury was because of a discrepancy in the dates when the money was alleged to have been lost and the assignment of the claim for it from the Old Town National Bank to the plaintiff. Barroll & Gill were attorney for the plaintiff and Harry B. Wolf appeared for the defendant.

115 BUSHELS TO ACRE

Travelers along the State road to Chestertown during the past few months looked with interest at the fine field of drilled corn on the Wickes farm, owned by Mr. Frank Jarrell, and tilled by Mr. Page Hickman. This four-acre field yielded by actual measurement 460 bushels of corn, or 115 bushels to the acre. Messrs. Isaac Gibbs at Massey, H. Clay Lusby, R. G. Nicholson, A. H. Covey, near town, and E. M. Bonwill, near Still Pond, and other big-corn-growers are yet to be heard from.

THE well-known play, "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works," will be given at Chestertown P. E. Church, also supper and bazaar, on December 6th and 7th.

W. H. KRUSEN, of Still Pond, has placed some fine marbles at the Georgetown, Galena, Sassafras, Shrewsbury, Union and Chester cemeteries and has a big contract in competition with New York and Philadelphia parties.
