It has been the standard preparation for bronchial affections for nearly 50 years.

Those who have used it longest are its best friends. It gives grateful relief in stubborn coughs and colds. Try it.

GUNNING MISHAPS

Walking behind his brother, who was carrying a loaded shotgun across his shoulder, Robert Gould, a 16 year-old colored boy, received the contents of both barrels in his body, when the gun was accidentally discharged. Gould was immediately taken to a physician, but died shortly afterward.

Littleton Pusey, of Indiantown, accidentally shot himself Saturday, dying instantly. He had gone into his house to get his gun. As he opened the door to come out, the trigger of the gun was caught by the screen door, the load entering his abdomen. A coroner's Jury gave a verdict of accidental death.

Benjamin Howard, a farmer, was accidentally shot in the stomach, in Denton, Saturday, while preparing to take a gunning trip, and died shortly afterward in Easton Hospital.

John Sharpless, on Saturday, stood his gun against a tree. In some manner the brush pulled the triggers, causing both barrels to discharge, slightly burning the side of his face and destroying his hat.

A Negro known as "Jack," who accompanied another party of gunners, tried to crawl through the under-growth of a thicket, dragging his gun after him. His left arm received a portion of the contents of his gun, but no bones were broken.

Alexander Wayman, a farmer on Tuckahoe Neck, was shot by his son while hunting rabbits, Saturday. The gun his son was carrying was accidentally discharged, and 26 shot entered the elder Wayman's foot and leg.

A party of Boy Scouts, while gunning near Houstons' Branch, Saturday, stopped at a dwelling in the woods, which they supposed was unoccupied, and proceeded to make an investigation. Suddenly an arm was thrust from under the edge of the house and several revolver shots were fired in their direction. The boys left without further inquiry.

CECIL CRESWELL, of Cowentown, Cecil county, while gunning for rabbits Saturday afternoon was fatally shot by Walter Marcus, of Elkton, and died on Sunday night at Union Hospital. Mr. Creswell, who was a baseball player, was out gunning with his father, and in coming up a hill Marcus, who was standing at the top of the hill, fired at a rabbit, the shot striking Creswell in the head. He was 30 years of age and is survived by a widow and brother, Prof. William Creswell, of Elkton High School.
