Farmers!

If you want to solve the labor question, one of the most effective ways to help do so, is by the use of the Farm Tractor.

With a 10-20 Tractor and 3 Bottom Plow, one man can do the work of 9 horses and 3 men and do more work in the same length of time.

We represent the I. H. C. line which has passed the experimental stage and shown beyond doubt their ability to perform steady and constant service.

Remember too that these machines use the cheapest kind of fuel reducing the cost of operation to the lowest point.

Now if you are thinking of buying a Tractor anytime this year, better see us and get your order in now, as it will be impossible for all customers to be supplied on account of shortage in material and labor.

We will be glad to furnish any informotion.

JAMES E. POTTS KILLED

Raised In Wm. E. Clark's Family At Betterton—Enlisted In Capt. Robt. Gill's Company From Baltimore—Kent Is Proud Of Him.

The Germans have killed the first man of the unit of which Maryland is so proud—the Trench Motor Battery of which Robert J. Gill is captain. They have severely wounded another, and it is possible that still others have fallen on the western front from the bullets or bayonets of the Huns.

In the casualty list forwarded to Washington by General Pershing, and made public Wednesday, was the Betterton name of James E. Potts, who was killed in action.

Describing an engagement, which was preceded by artillery action, a bulletin of the War Department the other day mentioned the fact that a trench motor battery had been engaged, and that all the men composing it came from ———, but here an alert censor used his fountain pen, and the name was deleted from the dispatch.

James Potts lived with his cousin, Ira T. Clarke, at the house on West Lafayette avenue. He was an orphan, his parents having died at their home in Church Hill, before he was two years old. He was then taken and reared by an aunt, Miss Julia E. Clarke, of Betterton. With her he resided until six years ago, when he went to the city and secured employment with the Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power Company. He gave Miss Clarke's name as next of kin, as she was his foster mother.

In the department of the gas company where he worked, Potts was a popular young man, and his work as a bookkeeper was winning him promotion. His associates received a letter from him recently, in which he told them he was "in the pink of condition." Surviving him are two brothers, Earl Potts, of Wilmington, Del., and Olin Potts, whose home is somewhere in Ohio.

"You need not worry; I'll get through all right."

With these simple words, James E. Potts bade good-by late last August to Mr. and Mrs. Ira T. Clarke.

NO PRICE LIMIT FIXED FOR TOMATO GROWERS

Herbert Hoover in Letter to Senator Smith Explains Letter Issued.

Truckers And Canners Can Now Get Together On Contracts—$30 A Ton Looked For.

That the letter issued by the food administrator fixing the price of tomatoes was not intended as fixing the price per ton at which producers in Delaware, Maryland and other states mentioned, must sell their tomatoes, the price quoted being $21 a ton, Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, has informed United States Senator Smith.

Mr. Hoover the Food Administrator and representatives of the growers and packers of Maryland and New Jersey discussed the situation, and it was thought best to issue a statement repeating prior statements that as far as the Food authorities were concerned, there was no intention or ever had been of fixing any price.

"The purchacing department of the Army and Navy made a statement that they would receive from the canners based upon the price of tomatoes, which should not exceed $21 per ton, for Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey.

"There was nothing compulsory upon the canners making an offer to the Army and Navy based upon this price. The price of tomatoes is entirely between the growers, the packer and the consumer, and the Food Administrator has no disposition whatever to say what the price shall be.

The Universal's Wonder Picture
JULES VERNE'S
20,000 LEAGUES
UNDER THE SEA

Filmed at the Bottom of the Ocean.

PRESENT day thrilling submarine events were foretold fifty years ago by Jules Verne, the greatest imaginative writer who ever lived. Today they are pictured down to the minute in the Universal's startling photoplay based on "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

When you see this epoch making drama you will have seen the most daring, the most sensational and most revolutionary achievement in cinema history.

You will see Jules Verne's "monster" that terrorized the seven seas.

You will see the mighty commander, Captain Nemo, who followed the path of vessels 20,000 leagues on his voyage of vengeance.

You will see the torpedo fired and photographed under the ocean while speeding on its deadly mission, and then see a full-rigged ship blown to atoms.

Through the magic window in the submarine "Nautilus" you will see the victims sinking to the silent depths. Through this window you are shown all the amazing wonders of the deep.

You see the "Nautilus" in a tropic ocean dive to mysterious depths and human beings emerge exactly as Jules Verne wrote.

Hunters descend to the floor of the ocean and mingle among man-eating sharks.

They require neither life lines nor air pipes to connect them with the surface. With a supply of oxygen in condensed air tanks, they visit the wonderful marine gardens and coral caverns where human feet never ventured before.

Century old wrecks are found and searched for lost treasures.

Scenes from under the ocean, on the earth and in the sky combine to make this first and only submarine drama truly the most amazing wonder picture of all time.

HAND OF DEATH

Mrs. Mary E. W. Janvier died suddenly at her late home on Turner's Creek Wednesday afternoon, aged 88. Mrs. Janvier had been conversing with her devoted son and daughter and had gotten up to go in another room when she was stricken with apoplexy and died shortly afterwards. Beautiful was her life and her death like the reaping of the golden harvest. She leaves a faithful son, Wm. E., and a dutiful daughter, Miss Mary, a niece, Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, and nephew, Dr. John L. Wethered. She was a daughter of Peregrin and Hannah Medford Wethered.

The funeral will be held Monday at 12 o'clock, interment at Shrewsbury.

Mrs. Lilly D. Kelley died at the Baltimore hospital Saturday after a long illness aged 67. The deceased was a Miss Derringer and a lady of remarkable accomplishments. She was the faithful and loving wife of Dr. J. Horton Kelley and for many years lived at Kennedyville and Locust Grove. For the past ten years or more she resided in Still Pond where she took an important place in the church and town. She loved good society and was active in Grange and other club work.

Funeral services were held at late home in Still Pond, Tuesday, at 11 o'clock, Rev. R. P. Nichols, officiating, interment in Still Pond cemetery, Undertaker W. H. Krusen in charge. The bearers were Messrs. Thelin and Thatcher, of Baltimore, J. Herman Ireland, Wm. L. Ford, Horton Silcox, John M. Comegys.

George W. Walker, an old Civil war veteran, died at his home in Chestertown on Thursday. He was 83 years old.

Postmaster William Rutter, of Locust Grove, died yesterday morning. He has been ailing for some time but attended to business until Tuesday morning. The funeral will take place from his brother's, Henry Rutter. He was one of Kent's best citizens.

Miss Mary Jane Boston died last Saturday at the home of her brother, Robert N. Boston, near Goose Hill, aged 74 years. The deceased was for many years a resident of Baltimore, and came to Kent several years ago to make her home with her brother. The remains were taken to Baltimore on Monday via Chester river steamer, for interment in Greenmount cemetery. Mr. Boston, the brother, and undertaker Charles L. Dodd accompanied the body.

Eugene Downey died at the Cambridge hospital on Tuesday, March 5th, aged 62 years. He was a lifelong resident of Rock Hall and had been ill for several months. The funeral was held at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Taylor, on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, being conducted by Rev. J. W. Prettyman, of the Rock Hall M. E. Church, of which deceased was a member. The P. O. S. of A. was represented. There are two other sisters, Mrs. Jackson Coleman, of Chestertown, and Mrs. John Dowling, Sr., also four brothers, Joseph, William, John and Marion Downey. The funeral was directed by Casey & Co. The bearers were two brothers, Joseph and John Downey, John Dowling, William Leary, William Taylor and Henry Urie, interment being made in Wesley Chapel cemetery.

Thomas Nelson Colyer, Sr., a well-known waterman of Rock Hall, died suddenly on Friday afternoon, March 7th, while oystering alone on his boat. Charles and David Ayres saw the boat adrift and upon going to it found Mr. Colyer already lifeless. Mr. Colyer had a serious illness about a year ago and since then had complained of some shortness of breath. It is supposed that a sudden attack of heart failure was the immediate cause of his demise. He was 63 years old and leaves a wife, formerly Miss Mary Jones, and three sons, Thomas, Henry and Richard, all of whom have the sympathy of many friends. The funeral was held at the late home at Rock Hall on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. J. W. Prettyman. Undertaker C. L. Dodd in charge. The bearers were David and Charles Ayres, Oregon Leary, Robert Lewis, C. Frank Wheatley and Henry Urie. Interment was made in Wesley cemetery.

Mrs. Susie Trail Hempstone Watts, 57 years old, wife of Chas. W. Watts, of Church Hill, died Friday evening at 4.30, at the home of her son-in-law, Thomas E. Walls, Church Hill. Death was due to diabetes.

The funeral will take place this Sunday at 10.30, interment Chester cemetery, Rev. Edwin Gardner officiating. The pall bearers will be her three brothers, William, Robert and Harry Goodman, James H. Brown, Clarence Hadaway and W. C. Townsend. Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

BARRED ROCK EGGS FOR HATCHING

My experience has been that Barred Rock Chickens are the best all-around chicken for the farmer. They are easy to raise, easy to keep in good condition and lay well. My breeders are in particularly good condition and have made egg records that are hard to beat. From one flock of 60 I gathered an average of slightly over 200 eggs per pullet in one year. From this pen my prices are $1.25 per 15; $6.00 per 100.

From my other hens—no doubt almost as good—my prices are $1.00 per 15; $5.00 per 100.
