Local Notes

Fair week will be July 30, 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

The minimun charge for freight on the Chester river boat is 50 cents. Next.

Spencer Biddle had fine apricots in market this week. They brought 15 cents per quart.

The Noland Motor Co. expect some tractors next week. They are being sold to farmers rapidly.

H. C. Faulkner has purchased the Ira Williams farm near Queen Anne, known as the James Mullikin farm.

The home of Road Engineer McMechen, on Queen street, was robbed last Friday night of money and silverware.

Kent county farmettes have been doing their part in gathering the crops. On one farm they outworked a couple of college students, and they left.

A Queen Anne's doctor was "pinched" in Baltimore Tuesday and fined $25 for not having his auto license as driver with him. We note this as a warning.

Lemuel Mark, of Baltimore, has purchased Mrs. Vansant's house in Galena and Mrs. Lucy Crulkshank has bought the house belonging to I. L. Dempsey.

H. Theodore Jewell, representing the Strout Farm Agency, sold on Monday last to A. R. Reburn, of Philadelphia, the Townsend Anthony farm near Kennedyville.

John Merchant, of near Galena, was painfully hurt one day last week when he fell down his hay loft. Dr. Jones rendered medical aid. Mr. Merchant is now able to be about.

Contractor A. M. Culp has his force erecting a large barn on the Vannort farm tenanted by John E. Morris, the old structure having been demolished by the recent heavy wind storm.

While removing an old building on the Leon Brown farm Monday by Contractor Cannon and Frank Lambert the latter was injured in the left hand. He hopes to be all right in a few days.

A farmer near Emporia, Ind., has sold 17 calves, for which he received $4,000. Each of the calves brought 17 cents a pound, or an average of $150 each. They were all 14 months old.

William Malin has put a hip shingle roof on 140 feet of brick wall about the Catlin home on Water and Cannon Sts. Contractor A. M. Culp is erecting a pergola in the beautiful garden. This is one of the most beautiful places in town.

Trainer W. L. Dougherty, of Petersburg, Va., with a string of five good ones, among them being Pony Boy 11, a local raised pacer. Mr. Dougherty will have several more horses here within a few days.

The twenty-third series of installment stock in the Kent Building & Loan Co. was retired July 1, at $99 per share. The new series just opened has been largely subscribed.

Thos. V. Simpson has sold his house on Kent street, Chestertown, where he has resided for about 40 years, to Mrs. Cyrus G. Howard. Possession will be given August 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson expect to remove to Baltimore.

Thomas F. Hubbard carried about a score of Scout Boys to Rock Hall on Saturday and established Camp 73, of Baltimore. They are on the shore at Edward Parsons and Mr. Hubbard's father, Scout Master Thomas M. Hubbard, is with them also, so they are well protected.

Seventy-two farmers, of Grinnell, Iowa, recently sold a carload of hogs to one of the largest packers at the top price of $18.50 a hundred pounds. The amount received was $3,675, which the turned over to the Red Cross. The same men recently auctioned off a rooster for $200.

There are rumors in Kent that an 8-mile tract of land is being marked out as an aviation field for the Government but as yet these rumors have no foundation.

E. Armstrong was selling Early Rivers peaches in Chestertown this week for $1 per basket.

Nation-wide prohibition for the period of the war through the enactment of war legislation and nation-wide prohibition as a permanent institution through the ratification of what will become the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, now seems as certain as sunshine, beginning January 1, 1919.

The fish are on at Rock Hall. A jolly party made up of Col. Samuel Wright, Major Charles Lloyd, J. Biddle Hossinger, Charles S. Smith, the News and Transcript men, went out in the bay off Rock Hall Thursday with Capt. Henry Urie and enjoyed fine sport catching "stone" heads, perch, ells and toads.

Smith Bros. at Edesville have a fine prospect for oats and tomatoes.

Work is progressing finely on the new State road near McClain's Corner.

At a meeting of the committee held in Galena Monday night it was decided to go ahead with the erection of the new school and a contract was signed with contractor Walter T. Pippin for same at $10,800. A number of citizens agreed to finance the needed amount above the sum in hand.

The farm purchased last year by W. W. Seward, of Centreville, from John M. Perry, adjoining the Bloomfield Farm of Hiram Dudley, on the Centreville-Church Hill road was sold this week to William T. Harris, of Carmichael. This farm contains 87 acres of land and Mr. Harris paid $10,000 for it.

The Westmoreland Chemical & Color Co., of Philadelphia, thru their agent, W. H. Gatchell, advertise in this issue their noted medicine "Fer-sul." It is claimed to be a preventative of hog cholera, cure alsyke poisoning and cure the gaps in chickens, ets. This remedy is worth trying.

Driving a horse without breeching cost Emanuel Johnson, colored, an injured face, hands and knees. He was driving Mrs. Costello's team down High street Wednesday when the animal took fright and started to run Emanuel tried to hold him but concluded to crawl out and in doing so slid on the hard road with painful result. The team was stopped at Queen street.

Some days ago Mrs. Bert Atkinson and two small children were driving on the State road above Bennett Willson's, near Rock Hall, when a car containing a man and awoman came up behind and sounded the horn for right of way. As Mrs. Atkinson was pulling out to the right the car shot past her on that side and struck and damaged the front wheel considerably. The car kept on as if nothing unusual happened.

Did you ever see crabs so scarce? "Several explanations for the scarcity of crabs are offered. One is that the ice during the last winter went to the mud bottoms and crushed the hibernating crustaceans. Another is that the demand for hard andsoft crabs during the winter has grown so enormously that crabbers dredge the bottoms of the bay and its tributaries in order to supply the demand at profitable prices."

A rather unusual spectacle was presented one night last week when a Salisbury dealer came through Chestertown with three Vim trucks. He had been to Buffalo, N. Y., to get the cars and conceived the idea of attaching them together by means of steel bars. He drove the foremost car, but as the load proved too heavy, he started the motor in the second car also, and controlled the flow of gasoline by a piece of string. In this way he was able to keep both motors running at the same time. Monday evening a dealer had three Ford cars under his guidance. The touring car was on top a truck while a runabout was being towed.

The Red Cross Lawn Fete held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker, across the river, on Thursday evening was a delightful affair. A feature of the program was the supper and other eatables besides the fancy dancing by Miss Jester, of Wilmington, a guest of Miss Sarah Seney. A large crowd attended. S. W. Granbery lighted the lawns by the Western Electric system.

Foster Parker has sold his fine farm and home in Queen Anne's, near Chestertown, to Frank Price, of Queen Anne's for $20,000. The farm contains about 218 acres and is a splendid property. Mr. Parker and family will move to their former home in Massachusetts.

T. Kemp Bordley and Carl N. Bordley now connected with the Emergency Fleet Corporation in Wilmington, have this week inserted an advertisement on page 5 of the News. Look it up and follow their advice. It sometimes pays to read their ads, onyway, and this one is of particular interest to them, we know. We commend your attention.

wish to make the following

Announcement

So long as the Government does not require our services on Saturdays, we shall both endeavor to be at our place of business every Saturday evening during the business season to look after the interests of our own particular customers, and we wish to suggest to them that, whenever it is possible, they wait for us before going elsewhere to buy. It will be our pleasure to see that all their needs are taken care of promptly as usual.

We wish also to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the many kind inquiries and good wishes that have come from our customers since our temporary withdrawal from the firm.

Think up all your needs in the hot weather wear and run in Saturday evening and let the "boys" look after you. We shall always see that the newer and best goods are still handled in this shop and you can always find them at slightly lower prices than elsewhere.

Yours very cordially,

BORDLEY BROTHERS.
