KILLED IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

Earle Palmatory, aged 16 years of 304 Monroe St., Wilmington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmatory, of that city, but formerly of Chestertown, fell down an elevator shaft, used during operation of the Du Pont biulding addition, last Saturday and had his neck broken and shoulder mangled. Palmatory was a pipefitter's helper and was carrying radiator fittings when he fell. He was said to have been on the seventh floor when he dropped down the shaft. His remains were brought to Chestertown by train Monday morning and interment is Chester Cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The following young men acted as pall bearers: Edgar Chaires, Clarke Davis, Clarence Armstrong, Floyd Coleman, Albert Cranor and Bates Chaires; Rev. T. F. Beauchamp officiating.

Mr. Palmatory says the company are to pay him $10,000 and that he would not think of bringing suit for damages.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

At a meeting of the Council of Defense held Monday afternoon at the Eastern Shore Inn, matters connected with the interest of the organization were discussed by the various chairmen who were present.

Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, chairman for the county presided. She spoke of the difficulty in securing efficient chairmen for the different branches of work. Their difference, I will not say, their indifference, to take responsibility hitherto has retarded the progress of the work. She congratulated herself, however, that now chairmen, only another word may be looked for.

Baby Welfare.

100,000 babies to be saved this year, is the slogan resounding through the United States, so the chairman told us. How is it to be done? Ask our efficient County Nurse. Cards are distributed for registration of babies, their age, weight and measurements. President Wilson desires this. Will you disappoint him by not co-operating in this so important matter. Oh, ye wilful mothers, when it is for the lasting welfare of your child? Shall we have registered stock and not registered babies? Are they not of as much value that you take so little thought for them? It is said more babies die i a year than men are killed in the war.

Food Conservation.

This important war measure was discussed with Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, chairman of that department. Many and various methods of saving and substituting were debated. Syrups for sugar had been found by many an excellent substitute. Extracts from papers were read showing the wide spread interest in the question. One from Nevada read "Use only one level teaspoonful in your coffee. Don't be a U-Boat, so stir like hell for we do not mind the noise." This from a mining district.

Woman In Industry

This question also received great attention, although the chairman, Mrs. Lecates, was absent. She would have been much encouraged had she been present, at the interest manifested. Women engaged in any kind of work were requested to register and chairmen of the various districts were requested to see that they did. Let there be no slackers in this matter.

Liberty Loan and Thrift Stamps

Allan A. Harris, Chairman of the Men's Council of Defense, came in before the close of the meeting and talked of the Fourth Liberty Loan. Thanking the women for active interest in the last three loans he asked for a continuance of same in the Fourth, not doubting but what the same results would follow from their earnest participation in the campaign.

His able and timely remarks were received with enthusiasm and plans outlined by which fewer and larger meetings might be held in the interest of the Loan, thus saving time and strength. This will be decided by the Men's Committee. Mrs. Harry Willis, Chairman of the Fairlee District and others promised their hearty co-operation.

After the wonderful things told us of our Country at Chautauqua, what are a few billions of dollars for Aemrica to raise? America home of the Free! Free to spend her billions for humanity.

The chairman said that Mrs. Walter Morris had accepted the chairmanship of the Y. W. C. A. drive, which was not under the control of the Council of Defense. Knowing the comfort this organization affords "our boys" as well as all soldiers at the front, the drive should meet with overwhelming success.

The county chairman asked for full reports to be brought in at the October meeting after which the meeting adjourned.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Mary R. James, 3615 Roland avenue, Hampden, was so badly injured in an automobile accident between Easton and Centreville last Friday night she died an hour later at a hospital in Easton, where she was taken immediately after the accident occurred. Three Easton women who were riding in the automobile were also injured, one of them probably fatally. The injured are:

Miss Hazel Dyott, whose scalp was almost torn off. Her condition is serious.

Miss Florence Lane, broken ankle and cuts about the face.

Miss Grace Spencer, a few cuts and bruises.

The steering gear of the machine broke and the car plunged headlong into an embankment, throwing the occupants out.
