Local Notes

The cost of living is still soaring Eggs are quoted at 65 cents in Chestertown and creamery butter at 75 cents. Whew!

All persons having marshes, which are the abode of the wily muskrat, are getting ready for trapping. The advanced price of furs this year will make the business very attractive for many people. The government uses large amounts of muskrat fur in winter for uniforms for its soldiers, and a great deal will be sold for this purpose.

The prevailing rate in Chestertown for good oranges is $1.50 per dozen, the highest price known for years. Considering the situation that prevails—hundreds of influenza patients in need of oranges and many of them unable to buy freely at even fair prices—these high prices make it impossible for many to have this very necessary fruit.

The total sales of War Savings and Thrift Stamps at the various postoffices in the county during the month of October are as follows:

Chestertown	$4,633.51
Betterton	2,857.92
Black	8.46
Galena	755.49
Golt	351.72
Kennedyville	546.72
Lynch	246.80
Massey	1,303.16
Millington	853.60
Rock Hall	947.89
Still Pond	189.06
Worton	102.11
Total	$12,813.44

The total sales of War Savings and Thrift Stamps since the campaign opened in the county December 1, are War Savings $30,359, Thrift $71,461, representing a total value of nearly $150,000. The county's quota is $339,400.

The Kiker place at Betterton has been sold at private sale to Thomas E. Brice.

The sugar allowance of two pounds monthly a person for householders was increased to three pounds monthly by Food Administrator Hoover, effective Friday. The sugar regulations also are revised to permit the purchase of the entire month's supply for a family at one time. This relaxation of the restrictions placed on the use of sugar four months ago was made possible, Mr. Hoover's statement said, through the rapid manufacture of the beet sugar crop in the West, the new cane crop in the South, reductions of consumption in manufacturing, freer transportation contitions and patriotic conservation by the public.

Edwin Hurtt, Duncan Derringer and several other had fine sport ducking Saturday bagging 45. S. Scott Beck, Esq., James E. Woodall, Jr., and Andrew Wilson got 16 on Monday.

John W. Kendall has sold the Wm. E. Keyser farm, near Fairlee, to Ex-Senator Harvey L. Cooper, of Denton. S. Scott Beck, attorney. The price is said to be around $10,000.

Several serious accidents are noted. William T. Nicholson, of Fancy farm, near town, had two of his toes on the right foot badly mashed, Friday, by being run over by a dray loaded with cows, which he was shipping. William T. Hague, of Kennedyville, who has been working with Shafer, Redmile & Co. for a number of years had the ends of several fingers cut off by getting his hand caught in a planer last week. He was brought to Chestertown where his wounds were dressed.

KENT NEWS $1.00 PER YEAR.

The corn market starts off with $1.12 to $1.14 for cob corn offered by local buyers.

The milk station posted $4.03 as price of milk for November. This is the high water mark in the history of the milk business in Kent.

The Ringgold-Aldridge farm has been rented to William French. Mr. French tenants the smaller farm and will not have far to move. Mrs. Aldridge will likely remove to town.

October 29th was the hottest day the fall has seen. The mercury registered 81 degrees.

The Chestertown Public Library will be open Saturday, November 9th at regular hours. All patrons having books out will please have them in by November 12th as fines will begin from that date.

During its six weeks' reign as the king of all diseases Spanish influenza struck down nearly 50,000 persons in the city and State and killed 5,160, according to official figures available, and which do not include those for the military camps and other Government reservations. The record of deaths is not complete, for 87 districts in the State are yet to be heard from. Nor are the officials of thecity and State departmentof health certain that the reported cases truly represent the number of persons who were ill.

In the city alone the cases reported by physicians during the epidemic aggregated 20,392 and the deaths 3,414,including those from pneumonia.

The reported cases in the counties totaled 26,714 and the deaths 1,746, with 87 districts to be heard from. The figures show that the death rate was very much higher in the city than it was in the counties. In Kent there were estimated to be 400 cases and 50 deaths.

Edward Newton, keeperof Chester Cemetery, says the average numbers of yearly burials in that cemetry been 45, and that there were 46 burials during two weeks of the last month.

MR. GEORGE BETTER

John E. George, Democratic leader of Queen Anne's county, and a prominent State figure, is seriously ill at his home in Sudlersville. Last Monday he was removed to Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, but Thursday evening he returned home. Tuesday at noon he was reported considerably better. He spent a comfortable night and during the morning was much brighter. Mr. George has always been an unusually active and energetic man, and this summer he threw himself heart and soul into the work of road building. As assistant to the Chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission, he determined that his position should not be merely a political sinecure. In order to acquaint himself thoroughly with road construction work, he labored incessantly and was constantly on the job.

It is believed that the continued and uninterrupted activity which his numerous business connections required, finally undermined his health.

Mr. George's many friends are hopeful that his usual rugged health will stand him in good stead in his present illness, and expect a speedy recovery. Attending physicians are confident that the improvement showed Tuesday will now continue daily until complete health is restored.

He went to a Baltimore hospital on Wednesday for further treatment. He was well enough on Tuesday to go to the polls and vote but he is considered a very sick man.
