Local Notes

A New Year full of good work is the wish of the News to all.

Tuesday was the last day this season for rabbit and partridge shooters. Trapping for muskrats begins January 1st and lasts until April 1st. The high price of fur will make the muskrat a much-sought animal for three months. The exacting of a license has done much to help the game situation.

Edward Robinson bagged 24 rabbits in Morgnec Tuesday. He gave out of shells and then used bricks.

The Arlington Hotel, Centreville, has been purchased by Daniel M. Alexander, of Warrenton, Va., and he is busily engaged improving same so as to reopen next week. Mr. Alexander has been for 10 years keeping hotel at Warrenton. The house will no longer be known as the Arlington, but will take the name of the new owner and proprietor "Hotel Alexander."

W. P. Newnam, of Chestertown, donated a sewing machine to the Lynch Red Cross this week. A fine Xmas present.

The Sudlersville Bank of Maryland, at Sudlersville, was closed two days last week on account of the officers being ill with influenza. The cashier, John F. Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O. Stokes, of Kent, has a severe case of "flu," while Miss Emma Gillespie, the assistant cashier, has developed pneumonia. On Monday morning Spencer Wright, of the Centreville National Bank, and Wm. Troy, a former employee of the Centreville Bank, went to their assistance, and have since been attending to the business of the bank. They have been assisted by Mrs. George Hart, of Sudlersville.

William Fortner, a local timber dealer in Delaware, has purchased the "Ginn Tract" of timber in Blackbird hundred, considered one of the best tracts of timber in that section. It contains considerable heavy material, suitable for boat construction. The purchase contains about fifty acres and the price paid was $2,000.

George Hewett, who was captured by Sheriff Carter and the other local officers in this section about a year ago—charged with the murder of a colored man in Virginia—and who was taken to that state, but broke jail and escaped, being later recaptured in New York State, was brought before the bar of justive in the Old Dominion State recently and was given a term of life imprisonment.

The famed New Jersey weather prophet says that the fur on the muskrats the goosebone, the nut crop, all speak of balmy zephyrs instead of wintery gales, and also declares the buttonwood tree, which is the surest barometer of approaching winter, has joined the "piece chorus." He says the buttonwoods are shedding their old bark this fall instead of next spring, and that this is an infallible sign of the warm weather.

A. S. Turner will accept our thanks for a calendar of elaborate design and beauty. The Maple Avenue Garage, C. Arthur Bacon, proprietor, Dobler & Mudge and J. S. Kreeger have also sent us pretty calendars.

Hail Point and Ringgold Point Ducking Clubs are having some good duck shooting these days.

Charles Schreiber is conducting a wholesale and retail confectionery business in the Edwards' property.

Henry Worrel, one of Kent's most highly respected colored men, died in Chestertown Monday, aged about 90 years.

John Spiecher, the local dealer of the Delco-Light in this section, has sold a plant to the Jr. Order United American Mechanics of Rock Hall to be used for the moving pictures that are shown in that hall. Mr. Speicher has also sold several other plants since he became the Delco-Light dealer here.

Fred. H. Davis has caught 19 rabbits, an opposum and two squirrels in a trap this season.

Mrs. J. Fletcher Pratt, of Millington, sold her Christmas turkeys last week and received $700 for 107 of them. They averaged 16 pounds dressed or 43 cents a pound. This lot was a pretty good investment from nine turkey hens.

Chester river was frozen over last year on Dec. 11th and the Md., Va. Ry. steamers were tied up for a week prior to Dec. 19th, because of ice embargo. They were also tied up for some months after Xmas.

Two Kent ladies at work in Washington were robbed last week of $70. Their room was entered in their temporary absence and the money taken.

Leroy Simpler's horse died last Saturday. This is the horse that became frightened at a fire-cracker which some boy threw in the road near the High School causing the animal to bolt into a passing auto and injuring several persons.

In another column mention is made of a cut in steamboat service. The company is too poor to advertise their schedule so the public are expected to find out these changes as best they can. Queenstown has been temporarily abandoned as a stop. Steamer will leave Baltimore Thursday at 12 noon and returning leave

The roadway at the Chester Cemetery has been improved and the unsightly vines grubbed up from several lots so that the city of the dead has taken on a new appearance. Edw. Newton is taking quite a pride in the keep of the cemetery.

The mercury registered 89 degrees in the sun on Hon. James A. Pearce's porch Monday.

While returning from Chestertown to Elkton in an automobile on Saturday evening, Edward Woodrow, William Jenness and the latter's son, George, all of near Rising Sun, were injured when the machine overturned near Peach Creek. They were taken to Union Hospital for treatment.

Charles H. Johnson, of Aberdeen, formerly of Elkton, has been acquitted in the Circuit Court of murder in causing the death of Major William R. King, of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, by shooting him at the Johnson home in July last.

The winter schedule of the Tolchester Company's Sassafras river line is published in this issue effective Jan. 2. It provides only one trip a week—on Thursday. The Saturday steamer to Tolchester will be continued, leaving Baltimore at 7 a. m. and 2.30 p. m., and Tolchester at 9 a. m. and 43.0 p. m.

Among the splendid feature photoplays booked for showing at the Lyceum Theatre in the near future are: The Grain of Dust, The Million Dollar Dollies, Lest We Forget, Romance of Tarzan, Pals First and Eye of Eye. The last named, a Nazimova production is being shown for the first time in New York this week and has made a tremendous hit. Watch for schedule of dates.

The Red Men paid to Mrs. A. N. Stavely on Thursday the sum of $135,-50 death claim for her son, Hanson, who had been a member for 5 months.

Alfred A. Crew has purchased from Geo. W. McWhorter the Wheeler dwelling property on High street.

The board of directors of The Peoples Bank at their regular meeting last Wednesday declared the annual 3 per cent semi-annual dividend on the capital stock of the bank. At the same time a substantial amount was added to surplus account and a liberal advance made in the salaries of the clerical force.

At a meeting of canners held in Wilmington recently it was agreed that the past season had been a satisfactory one and that the coming year offered fine prospects.

The mercury was down to 26 degrees yesterday morning.

The merchants express their pleasure at the big business done. There seemed to be plenty of money and it was spent freely. Moffett & Son say they could have sold 30 more turkeys at 40 cents per pound. Many had to buy chickens because turkeys were scarce.

The patrons of the Chestertown Electric Light Company appreciate the fine service given this week. The plant has started about 4 p. m. and continued until 8.30 a. m. All day service is very much needed during the winter especially.

Harvey and Alvin Brown took a truck load of holly and mistletoe to Wilmington, Del., one day last week and sold the same to a street hawker for $50.00.

The Order of Red Men elected the following officers at their meeting on Thursday night. Prophet Jesse J. Hurd; Sachem, George Latham; Sr. Sagamore, Thomas Bryan; Jr. Sagamore, Charles Elburn; Keeper of Wampum, Walter T. Bennett; Collector of Wampum, Joseph Dwyer; Collector of Records, William F. Malin.

A service flag with 13 stars has been presented Sacred Heart Church. One of the stars is gold.

The first snow squall of the season visited this section Thursday.

Owing to uncertainty of boats and condition of roads the Chestertown and Tolchester automobile schedule will be discontinued until March 15th. Last Tuesday night it was about 11 o'clock when the last car got to Chestertown owing to the muddy roads.

Christmas Day was enjoyed by Kent countians in family reunions, etc. The weather was clear and bracing with the thermometer around 40 degrees.

H. M. Clarke has sold his farm and equipment, on road from Rees' corner to Swan Creek, to P. H. Westfall, of Cumberland, Md., for $7,500. Sale was made by H. T. Jewell.

"Peace on Earth Good Will To Men"

WE know your Christmas has been a happy one. Happy, because you could enjoy your seasonable goodies without being haunted by the fact that "Over There" men were being slaughtered like cattle. Peace again reigns on earth, and we are certain that on this Xmas morn "Glory to God in the Highest" was sung before the throne on high with more enthusiasm and more meaning than on any Xmas morn since the Saviour was born.

We thank you for your business in the past and take this opportunity to wish you good health, prosperity and happiness during 1919.
