Baker is Staging His Old Act.—Frank Baker is staging his annual "hold-out act." Prior to the closing of the 1918 season the veteran slugger from Trappe, Md., told his annual tale, that never again would he don the spiked shoes and base ball raiment. But this is an old story with him and reports have it that he is weakening and may sign up.

Connie Mack always had trouble getting the big third baseman's John Hancock to a contract and when Frank retired in 1915 he remained on the farm until the Yankees coaxed him from retirement with a contract for $29,000 for three years, to start during the 1916 season. Baker was lured back to the diamond and Mack was handed a tidy sum by the New York Club for the release of Frank, who still belonged to him. This was said to be $37,500.

Huggins expects to make a trip to Baker's home in a short while and is confident he will carry Baker's signature calling for him to play third base for the Yanks in 1919 and possibly a few more seasons.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of RAYMOND C. HERBERT, died Jan. 19, 1917.

Two years have gone dear Raymond
Since thou was taken away,
But I still think of it,
As if it were but yesterday.
I could never understand
Why God taken a life so young
But His will, and not ours be done.

A LOVED ONE.

CHURCH NOTES

Sunday was monthly missionary day in Christ M. P. Sunday school and nearly $29 was contributed. The bible class won the banner which was presented on behalf of the Society by Fred. G. Usilton.

Services at Wesley Chapel—Sunday school 9.30 a. m,; preaching "Hiding from God." Kesley—Sunday school 2.30 p. m., preaching 3.30 p. m.

The pastor of Wesley Chapel, Rev. A. F. T. Raum, was given a splendid donation, supper and purse of money Tuesday evening. An enjoyable evening was spent.

Rev. L. E. Barrett, who for the past two months has been a patient at Union Hospital, Elkton, has sufficiently recovered to return to his home at Townsend, Del., where he will resume his church duties.

The Booster Choir under the leadership of Prof. Frederick Balmond, paraded the streets on Saturday afternoon and sang in the Park, the Court House, jail and at other places.

Christ M. P. Church, Rev. J. L. Ward, pastor; Sunday services—Union service, preaching by Rev. Dr. Warren a returned missionary of the M. E. Church, at 10.30 a. m.; Sunday school Fred. G. Usilton, supt., 2.30 p. m. Union evangelistic service, preaching by Rev. T. F. Beauchamp, at 7 p. m., Prof. Frederick Balmond, misical director. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend these meetings.

This has been a great week in Methodist circles. The Union evangelical meetings have been largely attended and the interest increasing as each night came. An old-fashion experience meeting was held Sunday morning in the M. E. Church and a men's meeting, with 75 present, held in the afternoon. At night the scene shifted to the Methodist Protestant Church. Rev. T. F. Beauchamp preached. The singing by the big choir was very inspiring. A solo by Prof. Balmond and male quartette by T. D. Bowers, F. J. Balmond, A. L. Sparks and Fred. G. Usilton were appreciated.

Rev. James A. Leach, of Sudlersville, preached a strong sermon Tuesday night and Rev. Avery Donovan, of St. James, preached a cheerful discourse Wednesday night. There have been 24 conversions most of whom were young folks who are the future of this community. The cottage prayer meetings grow in interest, as many as 63 being in attendance.

Tuesday was "You and I" night and some brought as high as 11 with them. The church was filled.

The men's meetings at the stores have been an innovation, as many as ten men being in the meeting Thursday.

Thursday night was Booster and Birthday Night. More than a hundred little Boosters were crowded on the stage and gave a magnificent program before a packed house. Prof. Balmond showed his wonderful skill and proficiency as a leader in this presentation. Every number was perfect and the training received by this Booster Club will remain as long as they live. Miss Grace Nickerson was pianist. A book was presented to Master Francis Hurlock as the youngest one present at the night service and to the oldest, Frank Crew, aged 85. Col. W. J. Vannort was a close second, aged 83. The offering amounted to $101. Rev. T. F. Beauchamp gave a heart-to-heart talk. Rev. Peter Schaurer, of Kennedyville, preached last night.

The Union meetings will continue next week in Christ M. P. Church.
