The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has finally decided that the automobile is no longer to outdo the locomotive in the matter of headlights. Every locomotive is very soon to be equipped with an electric headlight three times as powerful as ordinary headlights. A small turbine dynamo placed just behind the stack, and operated by steam, will furnish light.

Last Sunday was Candlemas (ground hog) day. According to an old superstition if the day be fair and the little rodent sees his shadow he will return to his den for six weeks longer, during which period we may expect stormy weather; but if the sun does not shine "piggy" will abandon his winter quarters, thus signifying the passing of winter. Sunday was a bright and clear day and we suppose the ground hog saw his shadow and the wintry blasts will now blow for 40 days or more.

Wild geese have been heard going northward the past week. This is said to be a sure sign that the winter is broken and that the good spring time will soon be upon us.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our darling baby, WILLIAM CLAUDE BURRIS, who departed this life 2 years ago to day, Feb. 2.

In a little snow-white casket,
Resting all among the flowers,
Lies our darling little baby,
Who such a little while was ours.

Oh! could we see our pet once more,
And press him to our hearts,
And feel his loving arms around our neck,
Oh! how could we from him part.

Our hearts are sad and lonely,
Our grief too deep to tell,
But the time will come we care not when,
That we may with him dwell.

LOVING MOTHER AND FATHER.

In sad but loving remembrance of my husband and our father, CHARLES H. JONES, who departed this life five years ago February 7, 1914.

Tenderly I nursed and cared for him,
Trying in vain to restore his health;
And prayed he might longer stay,
Which to me meant more than wealth.

Somewhere in the land of flowers,
Just beyond the gates of tears,
My husband waits for his companion,
Who is broken with the grief of years.

BY LOVING WIFE.

His suffering days are over;
His pain and misery ceased,
God called him to the heavenly throne;
With him to live in peace.

WILLIAM.

No words will ever be so sweet,
As the words he used to say;
No hour will ever be so sad,
As the hour he passed away.

DELLA.

The rose that is dearest and rarest,
Is the one that is killed with the frost;
The love that was purest and fairest,
Is the one that I have lost.

BERTHA.

February once more is here,
To me the saddest month of the year,
For it was just five years ago yesterday,
That my dear father passed away.

FLORENCE.

By the beautiful gates he stands and waits,
My dear father from pain set free,
I shall clasp his hands and feel his kiss,
When the things turn for me.

HELEN.

Oh father thy gentle voice is gone,
Thy warm true heart is still,
And on thy pale and peaceful face,
Is resting death's cold chill.

CHARLES.

A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a vacant chair,
The world can never fill.

MAURICE.

Dear is the grave, where our grandfather is laid,
But sweet is his memory, which never shall fade,
Roses may wither, or come back and bloom,
But in our hearts your memory will always have room.

The following is taken from a Wilmington paper: One of the largest private building operations that has been started in this city for a long time is being planned by William H. Bramble, of No. 6 West Ninth St. Mr. Bramble recently acquired all the land between Harrison and Franklin and Twenty-second and Twenty-Third Sts. On this plot Mr. Bramble will build thirty-two houses. Each house will contain nine rooms and two baths and hot water heat. Each lot will be 27x80 feet and there will be room for a garage. Plans for the operation are now being prepared by Brown and Whitside, architects. The operation will represent an outlay of about $250,000." William H. KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Do Your Part

There are three parties in every telephone conversation---the person calling, the operator and the person who answers. All three share the responsibility for quick and accurate service.

The person calling should give the number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the mouthpiece, and wait at the telephone until the called person answers or the operator reports. The person called should answer promptly.

Care and promptness on the part of both telephone user and telephone operator are essential to good service.
