LOCAL NOTES

A lady from Rock Hall had a basket of eggs in her carriage enroute to Chestertown Tuesday but fearing she might break them got out from her vehicle and lead her horse! She evidently was profiting by the experience of a farmer near town who started to the store in his automobile, with 20 dozen of eggs with which to purchase groceries for the coming week. His car ran into a bad rut in the road, causing the basket of eggs to jostle from the floor of the car, fifteen dozen of the eggs being smashed, causing a loss of $6.

A $60 bonus is to be paid to soldiers discharged since April 6, 1917. Those who have been discharged and have received their final pay without the $60 bonus, should write a letter to the Zone Finance Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., stating their service since April 6, 1917, the date of last discharge and their address to which they desire their bonus checks to be sent and enclosing with this letter their discharge certificate or military order for discharge and both, if both were issued. The discharge certificate will be returned to the soldier with the check.

William E. Leary has purchased the home of Mrs. J. Leary, in Rock Hall.

On Friday a delegation from Betterton visited Baltimore to see Chairman Zouck, of the State Road Commission in behalf of the Betterton-Still Pond State road. The delegation consisted of George Harper, Bayard Harper, William Medders, E. M. Bonwill, Will Bonwill, Samuel Roseberry, Howard Turner, John N. Bennett, Harry Taylor, Thomas Silcox, Ernest Briscoe, Clarence Newsome, C. H. Price, Henry Price, Geo. W. Mann, E. Cordray Loud, G. Wm. Owens, Howard Owens, Harvey Brice, Arthur Brice, Charles Brice, Alfred Bowman, Harvey Moore, Edward Meyers, W. H. Crew. The Commission promised to give an early decision as to what they proposed to do.

The Young Men's Club of Christ Church met at the home of J. Waters Russell Wednesday evening. A mock trial was an entertaining feature of the evening. Jos. N. Wheatley represented Buddy Rattler, the criminal, charged with stealing money. Attorneys, clerks, judges, sheriff, etc., were well taken. Ice cream and cake was served.

Robert Raeke, of Baltimore, formerly at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., but who has been recently discharged from government service, has been employed by E. D. Jones, at the Chestertown Bakery.

William Brown and Jesse Hurd, and Henry Hughes have been busy the past week hauling logs from Quaker Neck, Queen Anne's and near Tolchester for the Marvil Package Company. The makers turned out 25,500 baskets last week.

Robert Gordon, colored, of Chestertown, dropped dead on Friday last at the farm of William and Frank Lamb, Morgnec, where he was emeployed as a farm hand.

Lee Robinson and James Everett with a small drag net caught three tomato baskets of fine yellow perch, ranging from 10 to 14 inches in length at Brice's mill pond one day last week.

Grover Coleman, residing on the Vickers farm, near town, lost a valuable mare on Saturday last. The animal got caught in the stable and in an effort to free herself broke a leg and had to be killed.

"Hearts of the World," D. W. Griffith's great production, will be shown at Lyceum Theatre Saturday March 29. Two performances, afternoon at 2.30 and evening at 7.30. All seats will be reserved and sold in advance at 50 cents. Seats now on sale at the Lyceum every evening, and at office of The Enterprise during the day. This picture has been showing in the larger cities at prices up to $2.00, and recently was shown in Dover, Del., at $1.50.

The interest in the firm of Hadaway & Hadaway formerly owned by Grover C. Hadaway has been purchased by Wm. C. Hadaway, who took charge last week. The new firm will be known as G. M. Hadaway & Bro. These two young men are hustlers and keep a clean and neat up-to-date grocery and meat store.

The Civic Study Class will meet with Mrs. H. Benge Simmons at her home on Spring avenue next Tuesday March 18th, at 3 p. m.

A partnership has been formed between Sidney Turner and George Baldwin for the conduct of the machinery business. They have rented the Voshell House ware rooms and put in a big supply of machinery.

A dog fight is a frequent sight on High street. Two thoroughbred Airdale dogs belonging to Dr. H. C. Hughes and Carl N. Bordley get together frequently and make a great contest. Tuesday morning they fought like tigers. They held each other by the throat in deathlike grip and could not be separated until buckets of water were thrown on them.

The net proceeds of the pie soical held at the High School on Friday night, for benefit of the Athletic Association was $39.15.

Teachers' Association.—An association of Kent County Teachers will be held at the High School Building on Friday, March 21, 1919, the programme being continued until Saturday, the 22nd, 12 m.

On Friday at 11 a. m., Rev. Edmund Coe, principal of the school at Millington, will speak on School Consolidation. This is a question which should interest the county generally. Therefore, the citizens of Kent are cordially invited to be present to hear the discussion. At night William J. Holloway, State Supervisor of Rural Schools, is expected to make an address on "What constitute a standard rural school." This is also a subject of general interest, and the public is urged to be on hand to hear Mr. Holloway.

The public school question is one that is prominently before the county at this time, and, it is safe to say, drastic action is necessary to raise our schools to the required efficiency.

Farm Sales.—The "Kent Fort Manor," or John E. Bright farm, on Kent Island, containing 246 acres, was sold at public sale by James T. Bright, trustee, and purchased by Senator E. Kirwan, of Chester, at $62.05 per acre.

The farm known as "Dungannon," or "Nasby's Addition," situated in the upper part of Queen Anne's county and containing 324 acres, was offered at public sale Tuesday by Herbert E. Perkins and William W. Beck, trustees, and sold to John P. Ahern for $10,025.

Wm. S. Tarbutton has purchased from N. Wiley Thomas, of Philadelphia, the farm now occupied by Harvey Morris, situate near Fairlee. Condideration private.

H. T. Jewell representing the Strout Farm Agency sold on Friday last the farm owned by Mrs. Alice J. Moore, of Millington, and known as Ford's Landing, to H. L. Graham, of Chester, Pa., Price private.

It is reported that F. H. Cornelius has repurchased his farm at Lynch.

Auto Notes.—Walter King has purchased a Ford Sedan from the Noland-Bennett-Russell Motor Company.

A. S. Turner has received a shipment of Dodge cars. See adv. in this issue.

An automibile driven by Henry Richardson collided with a team driven by Wm. Anderson, on High street about midnight on Saturday. Mr. Anderson was thrown from his carriage and slightly injured.

On last Saturday afternoon, Harry Lafferty, of near Sudlersville, while driving a Dodge belonging to a Mr. Weist, in an effort to stop the same near the curb in front of W. S. McDonnell's the breaks refusing to hold, he struck Grover Coleman's Ford and rammed it into a Paige belonging to Mrs. Samuel Roseberry. The fenders on all three cars were somewhat damaged and the Ford sustained an ugly dent in the rear of the body.

George Irskins while on his way home Saturday night with his push cart was run into by some autoist and slightly shaken up.

Mrs. Richard Grayson and two boys, of Easton, in an Oakland car, collided with a team driven by Edw. Homely on College hill Sunday afternoon. Homely's carriage was wrecked but no one was hurt. Mrs. Grayson's car was damaged somewhat by the collision and she had to be driven home by A. S. Turner's chauffeur.

J. Watson, Joseph Brice, Norman Jefferson, L. U. Skirven, H. D. Hendrickson, G. H. Wilson. Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

John Copper Jerome died at his home in Quaker Neck Wednesday after a long illness, aged 62. He leaves a wife and two children and a brother, James D. The funeral was held yesterday interment in Chester Cemetery, Rev. Edwin Gardner officiating, C. L. Dodd undertaker. The bearers were C. C. and W. T. Brown, W. R. Startt, R. R. Walbert, W. J. Stant, George A. Carroll. Rev. Mr. Gardner in his address at the funeral paid a beautiful eulogy to the dedeceased. Among other things he said "With the passing away of Capt. John Copper Jerome, Kent county loses one of its honored and most highly respected citizens, while Quaker Neck seems sadly stricken because his genial manner and smiling countenance are to be seen no more. Perhaps no one, young or old, who had the pleasure of his acquaintance could ever forget his greeting, or part from his company without feeling he had met and enjoyed the fellowship of an unusual friend. Some people possess this peculiar endowment, but they are very few. Of some men, the least you know of them the better. They hold even their daily associates aloof. They court no fellowship. They seem content to be to themselves and live only for themselves. But Captain Jerome was far different. He literally gave himself for others. So strong were his attachments that in his last illness his friends gladly sacrificed their time, rest and money that they might do something to contribute to his comfort. Day and night they watched by his bedside, and when the last spark of life was expiring he was literally surrounded by those he loved.

"To say that he will be missed is stating the truth only too mildly. From the emerald fields of Kent to the wharves of the State metropolis he was well-known and always a familiar personage. Now that he has departed, he will be missed on the river, on the bay, on the shore, in the neighhood in which he lived, among his sailor associates, and in the village where he had lived since boyhood.

"But nowhere will he be missed more than in his home and among those to whom he was faithful until the last moment of his life. Truly, it can be said of him as of one of old! "Thou shalt be missed because thy place is empty."

"His friendship was always true as the needle to the pole. What it cost him in self-denial, sacrifice or suffering for another, he never for one moment gave consideration. He was characterized by a tenderness not often found in one so ruggedly constituted as was he. His civic pride and patriotic virtue were pronounced as his love for his home. He has gone, and all that remains of him is a memory. Death has won nothing more than a puny victory. He still lives, and loves and acts well his part in the memory of those he has left behind. To those who stood near in his closing moments it seemed not unlike an Indian summer scene with rosy clouds going down the horizon shell-tinted with the glories of the setting sun."
