Karo

Thick, rich, delicious and full of flavor. Four good reasons why Karo is preferred everywhere.

Karo is pure. It is splendid energy producing food—practically predigested. Mothers give children Karo and sliced bread because it satisfies nature's craving for sweets, and takes the place of candy.

There Are Three Kinds Of Karo

"Crystal White"—in the Red Can
"Golden Brown"—in the Blue Can
"Maple Flavor"—
the new Karo with plenty of substance and a rich Maple taste
—in the Green Can.

IMPORTANT NOTICE—Every can of Karo is marked with exact weight in pounds of syrup contained. Do not be misled by packages of similar size bearing numbers only, and having no relation to weight of contents.

Drawbacks Of Farmer's Life

While the people in the city are complaining about the high cost of living and trying to bring down the prices what is the farmer doing? He rises in the morning at 5 o'clock which by the way, means 4 o'clock now since the clocks are changed, while the city people are enjoying their last 40 winks, probably for two more hours.

The farmer is the only business man on earth who is not allowed to set the price of his own commodities, with cost plus a fair porfit if he happens to get a profit one year out of five everybody kicks about the prices but how about the years when he absolutely works for nothing but enough food for his family.

People not experienced in farming do not realize the tremendous risk the farmer takes when he is at the mercy of the weather and outside marauders of all kinds, including bugs and lice of every description

The winter of 1918 not only ruined the fruit crops in the Northern States but killed thousands of trees besides. Last week we had a freezing and a severe wind, with the fruit trees out in full bloom. What the consequence will be no one can tell. Peas have already been planted twice in some sections and perhaps are ruined again by the high wind, and the price of seed is very high. Machinery of all kinds is about double what it used to be. Fertilizers are much higher, and labor is inefficient.

The farmer begins his spring work very much in debt for fertilizer, seed, ets., with the hope that some how or some way he may make enough money to square up his debts, and perchance have a little left to pay on the mortgage. He has no voice as to say what his products will sell for, but is at the mercy of the market and supply and demand.

It takes brains, common sense, experience and patience to be a good farmer, just as much as it does to be the head of any other business, and yet he is not allowed to fix the price on anything he has to sell, perhaps if the farmer was allowed to fix the price on his own products he might be able to live, working only eight hours per day. He can't even afford to hire a skilled man as foreman because of the uncertainty of the business and price at the market end.
