SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1919

Has it been carefully observed that no one has yet taken Senator Borah's dare to quit the Republican party?

On another page of the News will be found the county levy and the school budget, two most interesting reports.

Reactionary Senators who are "against" the League of Nations will learn before long that the League of Nations is also against them.

The Senatorial "Robins" are trying their best to personate American eagles, but they are too small to deceive any one but themselves.

The city courts report the number of arrests Saturday as falling off greatly. In Baltimore there were only 3 compared to 50 the previous week.

President Wilson received an ovation upon his arrival in New York from a four-months trip to France. He has crowned America with the wreath of Victory by his conduct abroad.

It was a good deal easier to get the nations of the earth into a league than it will be to obtain agreement among Republicans in the Senate as to how they should oppose it without offending a vast majority of the American people.

Some Republican Senators evidently would like to talk the League of Nations to death as they did the various appropriation bills in their filibuster last winter—but it can't be done.

Elihu Root provided for the Senatorial "robins" a plan for amending the League of Nations covenant, but no one has been found to supply the courage required to execute it.

As an evidence that New York has accepted prohibition with fervor or that its citizens, for one reason or another, were exceptionally thirsty July 1, the chief statistician of the Water Department Bureau announced Thursday that 23,000,000 more gallons of water were consumed on the birthday of the great drouth than on June 30. The figures for the municipal water supply were 637,000,000 gallons June 30 and 660,000,000 gallons July 1.

Announcement was made Thursday at the summer school at Delaware College that Pierre S. Dupont, president of the du Pont Powder Company, has created a trust fund of $2,000,000 for remodeling and modernizing of the public schools of Delaware, outside of Wilmington, to be expended during the next four years. The only stipulation is that each district shall raise by taxation an amount equal to the sum apportioned to it. Four hundred thousand dollars will be applied to the improvement of schools for colored children.

Mr. du Pont already has given a million and a half to the betterment of Delaware College at Newark. Isn't it fine to have such men as Mr. du Pont. He knows what money is made for.

Great Britain's super-dirigible, R-34 the first lighter-than-air machine to cross the Atlantic Ocean, anchored at Rossevelt Flying Field, N. Y., at 9 a. m. Sunday after an aerial voyage of 108 hours and 12 minutes, which covered 3,600 miles.

When the super-Zeppelin arrived she had left only enough petrol to keep her moving 90 minutes longer. Her crew, almost sleepless for four and a half days, were weary almost to the point of exhaustion, but happy at the successful completion of their epoach-making trip.

Passing through dense banks of cloud, with the sun and sea visible only at rare intervals, the R-34 was forced to cruise 2,050 knots to reach Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, from East Fortune, Scotland, and 1,080 knots thence to Mineola. There were 30 men on board.

ARMY REDUCED TO PEACE TIME BASIS

Orders for the demobilization of the army by September 30th to the peace-time strength of 233,308 officers and men authorized by the National Defense act were issued last Thursday by the War Department. By that date all officers of the Regular Army must be returned to their permanent grades and officers holding commissions only for the emergency, including applicants for permanent appointment, must be discharged.

Announcement that the army would be reduced to less than 243,000 officers and men by September 30th was accepted to mean that definite plans had been made to withdraw practically the entire American Expeditionary Forces before many weeks.

OWN YOUR HOME

The wave of sentiment for owning one's own farm or home now sweeping over the county and country is certainly a good thing. In this county over sixty-five per cent of the farms are carried on by the tenants. For a community to be up to date and progressive practically all the farms should be owned by those who carry them on. From every standpoint this is most desirable. The farms will be much better, and there will be more money put into circulation.

Someone writing on this subject the other day makes the following rather startling statement:

At Des Moines, Iowa, every year, there is a baby show at the State fair. Babies are entered from all parts of the state and judged by score cards They are classified as coming from cities, small towns and from the country—i. e. from farms.

And each year the farm babies, both boys and girls, no matter what age, average the lowest in health. The town babies beat them every year. Yet Iowa is a typical farming State and a prosperous one.

And at a meeting of the National Educational Association, held in February, 1919, a chart was presented showing what percentage of school children are afflicted with various diseases, both in the city and in the country.

There were fourteen kinds of disease tabulated, and the country children were found to be the greatest sufferers from each of the diseases. The disorders listed were tonsil defects, teeth defects, weak eyes, adenoids, ear troubles, enlarged glands, malnutrition, breathing defects, spinal curvature, anaemia, social disease, lung disease, heart trouble and weak mentality.

It seems almost increditable, but it is so true that experts have been giving the matter anxious consideration. They have decided that the disease rate among country children is caused by the unhealthy condition of tenant farm homes. As a tenant knows he may be leaving before long, he is not disposed to improve living conditions for the benefit of the next tenant. Bad ventilation, absence of screens, insanitary fixtures, leaky roofs—all continue from year to year. The landlord will not make improvements, because he feels that the next tenant will want it done all over again anyhow.

And there are more than a million tenant farmers who move every year. In Summer county, in the State of Kansas, over 54 per cent of the farms are held by tenants. And there is more typhoid per capita than in any other county in the State.
