CAN'T TAX POWER BOATS

Those Used In Making Livelihood Are Exempt.

Fishermen of Kent are in a quandary over a recent decision from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with reference to many residents of the river towns and villages.

The revenue bill passed by the Sixty-fifth Congress embraces an item taxing motorboats, the tax on boats not over five tons being $10. The internal revenue officials interpret this to apply to all the little working boats along the seacoast and various inland waters used by baymen generally—fishermen, oystermen, clammers, etc.

Commissioner Roper, this week interpreting the law says:

"Any boat which is primarily used in connection with any serious activity which constitutes the business, occupation, profession or means of livelihood of the owner, is not subject to tax. Where a tax has been collected covering boats of the class herein mentioned the taxpayer has the privilege of filing a claim for refund."

A local authority, when asked about the interpretation, said that whenever a man earns his entire living from his small boat that the craft is not liable to tax. If the man fishes, however, for three or four months of the year and then engages in some other work the remainder of the year, the local collector rules that the tax must be paid. If the man earns his living wholly from his boat he is not liable to the tax."

It is this distinction that evidently has been missed by most of the fishermen and it is believed that Commissioner Roper's latest ruling will clear the entire matter up to the satisfaction of all concerned.

STRINGENT RULES WILL GOVERN BOOSE "SCRIPTS"

Stringent regulations governing the sale of alcohol for medicinal purposes were issued Monday by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

"Physicians may prescribe wines and liquors for internal uses, or alcohol for external uses," the regulations said, "but in every such case each prescription shall be a duplicate and both copies be signed in the physician's handwriting. The quantity prescribed for a single patient at a given time shall not exceed one quart. In no case shall a physician prescribe alcoholic liquors unless the patient is under his constant personal supervision.

"All prescriptions shall indicate clearly the name and address of the patient, including street and apartment number if any, the date when written, the condition or illness for which prescribed and the name of the pharmacist to whom the prescription is to be presented for filling."

Similar detailed restriction on the sale of alcohol by drug stores were promulgated. All prescriptions must be preserved and once a month a list of physicians prescribing alcohol, the name of the patients and the total quantity dispensed to each patient during the month must be transmitted to the collector of internal revenue.

Pharmacists were advised to refuse to fill prescriptions if they has reasson to believe that physicians were dispensing for other than strictly legitimate medicinal uses or that a patient was obtaining through several physicians quantities in excess of the normal amount.

Liquor dealers, wholesale and retail, having stocks on hand may sell to pharmacists holding permits until the present stocks are exhausted.

Alcohol for internal use must pay the tax of $6.40 a gallon, while alcohol medicated to render it unfit for beverage use will be taxed at $2.20.
