Local Notes

The Hynson Beck personalty sale will take place next Tuesday, Aug. 12.

A. Lindell Beaston will discontinue farming on the Cochran farm, near Galena, and Roger Williams, of Cecil, will tenant this farm next year.

Needed repairs are being made to Chester bridge by State Engineer Austin F. Shure. The State road in Chestertown also is having a dressing of tar and stone.

R. Frank Elburn has purchased from Eli Elliott the dwelling situated on College avenue and adjoining the property of William Elliott. Price private. Mr. and Mrs. R. S. G. Clift have rented same and have taken possession.

John E. Dent, a well-known colored citizen, of Chestertown, died on Saturday last, aged about 79 years. Funeral services were conducted on Monday from Janes Church.

Proprietor Eshman is having the interior of the Voshell House repainted and decorated throughout. F. H. Howard is doing the work. Mr. Eshman will also enlarge the dining room and install running water service in every bedroom, and make other improvements to the hotel.

At the opening of the guesses on the shelled corn contained in crib for which a prize of half barrel of flour was offered by P. M. Brooks, Charles M. Vickers, of Broad Neck, proved the winner, his guess being 411 lbs. coming within two pounds of the actual amount, which was 409 pounds.

The public have been warned by the press and by the officials as to procuring dog licenses and yet there are scores who pay no attention to it. This week Sheriff Carter and his deputies have made forty or more arrests and in each case the cost was nearly ten dollars.

C. L. Jarrell got 20 bushels of wheat per acre off the Boggs farm, near Crumpton.

Red, ripe strawberries were in market Tuesday at 30 cents per quart, grown in Queen Anne's.

J. Thomas Parsons has bought of the J. W. Russell Realty Company the Wickes farm near Worton. Price said to be $14,000.

F. D. W. Pippin has lost three horses during the past ten days. It is claimed that eating rotten wheat caused their death.

J. S. Vandegrift sold watermelons at $1 each last week. This week Queen Anne's growers forced the price down to 35 cents.

At a meeting of the guarantors of Chautauqua held Wednesday evening in the Kent County Savings Bank the officers of last year were re-elected. The Chautauqua this year will commence on Tuesday, September 2 and continue one week. On another page of the News will be found some of the features. The full program will be published next week.

James. D. Davis, Jr., of Galena, has bought the Crockett farm of 223½ acres in Cecil county.

While plowing on the farm of Matthew Anton, near Galena, one day the past week, Howard Baker noticed a pocket book being covered up in the furrow. After opening the purse Mr. Baker found it contained $26.50, the same amount being lost by an aged colored man while shocking wheat for Mr. Anton. As soon as Mr. Baker had finished his day's work he drove to the home of the colored man and delivered the lost money. We sincerely congratulate this young man for his honesty.

Bayard Parsons has returned to his home in Rock Hall having received his honorable discharge from the U. S. military service about two weeks ago.
