After the Moult—EGGS

REMEMBER, going through the moult is like going through a long spell of sickness. To force out the old quills and grow new feathers saps a hen's vitality.

If you expect your hens to be fall producers and winter layers, then feed them Poultry Pan-a-ce-a during and after the moult.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a will start your pullets and moulted hens to laying

It contains Tonics that put your moulted hens in fine condition—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulted, run-down hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains internal antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. It pays to feed Pan-a-ce-a regularly.

It brings back the singing—it brings back the scratching—it brings back the cackle. That's when you get eggs; and it's eggs you want—fall eggs, winter eggs—when eggs are eggs.

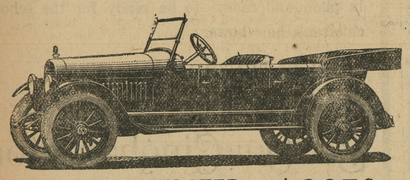
ESSEX MOTOR CARS

HUDSON SUPER SIX



HUDSON SPEEDSTER—$2350
Delivery Price . . . .

The automobile issues which stand uppermost today are the same which four years ago made Hudson the largest selling fine car. They have kept it in that position ever since.

Let us not confuse them.

It is not speed, not power, not hill climbing ability—though Hudson holds those stock car records.

It is the fact that those records were won through endurance, made possible by a patented motor invented and controlled by Hudson, known as the Super-Six.

And those records, after many attempts to match them, still belong to Hudson, because equal endurance has not been established in any other car.

Funeral was held at her late home on Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment in Crumpton Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Rolenson officiating. C. L. Dodd undertaker.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas Wallis Schutt, only daughter of the late Francis Ludolph and Emily Thomas Wallis, and widow of Francis Granger Schutt, died Saturday evening, Oct. 11th, 1919, at her home, Cherrydale, Va., near Washington, D. C., in her 81st year of her age.

Mrs. Schutt was a very remarkable lady and retained her wonderful intellectual faculties to the very last. Born in Kent county, Md., December 13, 1838. She was sent to Friend's Female Seminary at Sharon, near Darby Pa., just outside of Philadelphia. In 1861 on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Sophia Wallis Boyer, in New York she met her husband, a descendant of an old Knickerbocker Dutch stock, who as early at 1658 settled at Kingston on the Hudson river.

They were married at Chestertown October 15, 1862, and after a year spent in Dunkirk, N. Y., came to Washington, D. C., and settled on the homestead farm called "Oak Grove," Virginia, where their seven children were raised. On October 15, 1862, Mr. and Mrs. Schutt celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and two years later he died and Mrs. Schutt spent her winters in Florida till failing health prevented the trips, she remained in Virginia till her death.

Mrs. Schutt ancestors were of earliest colonial times, Cornelius Comegys coming in 1656 to New York and in 1661 to Kent county, Md.; Nathaniel Everett who came about the same time; William Thomas who owned "Thomas Hill" and "Mt. Herman" in 1738, grants from Lord Baltimore and which latter farm descended through her aunt, Elizabeth Thomas, to Mrs. Schutt and to her children after her, and Samuel and Ann Wallis who came to Kent in 1700.

She has survived all her family—her brothers Francis Adolphus Wallis, Wm. Thomas Wallis, Robert Emmett Wallis, C. Ludolph Wallis, John B. Wallis and Cornelius C. Wallis.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Smythe Wallis, Elemwood Cherrydale, Va., October 13, 1919, interment was at Oak Hill Cemetery, Washington, D. C. She is survived by her seven children, Frank G. Schutt, Mrs. Blanche S. Tarreyson, Mrs. Stella S. Roe, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Wallis, Mrs. M. S. Daughtery, Mrs. Ellen S. Wallis and Wallis Schutt.

WAR RECORDS WANTED OF ALL SERVICE MEN

All the counties of Maryland are earnestly striving to make a war history for future generations. Kent county is no less proud of the record her sons have made than are the other counties, so let us not fall behind, but be in the front ranks of history, as we were in war. Come, boys, a few only of the hundreds from Kent county who served their country, and served it well, have given their service record.

BURKE AND HIGNUTT CASES

In the Circuit Court at Chestertown on Monday the case of James E. Hignutt, of Denton against Miss Elizabeth P. Petters and William R. Peters was argued by Mrs. Hignutt and T. Alan Goldsborough for the plaintiff and H. R. Lewis and J. Owen Knotts for the defendants. The question of validity of a mortgage given many years ago by the plaintiff to his brother, the late Dr. John W. Hignutt, is involved, the claim being made that the mortgage was not legally made, the plaintiff being ill at the time it was executed. Another argument before the court was on a motion for a new trial by Henry R. Lewis, counsel for the M. D. & V. Railroad Company, in the case of Burke against the railroad in which the plaintiff was recently awarded $6,000 for injuries received at Love Point. T. Alan Goldsborough made the argument for Burke. The motion wes denied.

GAME REPORTED PLENTIFUL

Indications point to an abundance of game in Kent county this fall, and unless severe weather should kill the birds sportsmen in this county will have one of the best seasons for years. Rabbits and quail have not been so plentiful.

There is only one obstacle that may prevent gunners having a good time and bagging much game when the quail and rabbit season opens, 10th of November, and that is the running at large of dogs owned by rural folks and townspeople. Many Kent county sportsmen contend that in the early fall, when dogs are permitted to roam the woods day and night in search of game, more rabbits and quail are killed than during the gunning season. Birds and rabbits usually have their beds in clumps of grass along ditches and edges of woods, and at night the dogs steal upon them and devour them. They are unable to get away because of darkness.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my sister, GLADYS HESSEY, who parted this life one year ago today, October 28th, 1919.

The month of October once more is here,
To me the saddest of all the year,
For her memory is as dear today
As in the hour she passed away.
Oh, sister, could you speak to me, and could you live again.
My broken heart would then be healed,
but this I wish in vain.
Though this world is full of trouble, full
of sorrow and of pain.
Yet to me it would be heaven, were my sister here again.
Oh, could I open wide the grave,
And see thy face once more,
And hear thy voice as I crave,
As in the day of yore.
