On Washington Field last Friday afternoon the High School foot ball team met in friendly rivalry the one from Centreville High, the score being a tie—6 to 6. Had it not been that there was a misapprehension of a technicality at one point of the game, on the part of Chestertown players, Centreville would not have scored. These formed the team: Left end, Armstrong; left tackle, Crow; left guard, Estes; center, Seney; right guard, Schrieber; right tackle, Tucker; right end, Hatcherson; quarter back, Harry Russell; left half back, Emerson Russell; full back, Townshend; right half back, Strong.

The first car load of Florida oranges was on the market Thursday; the quality and condition was fairly good and sold at $4.25 and $4.50 per box. Grape fruit was somewhat scarcer but the demand was poor because of scarcity of sugar with no change in prices. William T. Duyer began his new home in Queen Anne's county last week. Eli Elliott will begin the erection of his home upon the completion of Mr. Duyer's. These new homes will add considerable to the appearance of that section. The location on Chester river is hard to excel.

$30,000 Hog.—Thirty thousand dollars was paid by a local Omaha breeder for "Desiger," a yearling Poland China boar. This is said to be the record price for a single hog. When a few weeks old "Desiger" was sold for $5,000. This sale makes a profit of $25,000 for the orignal purchaser in less than a year.

Gunning Season.—The gunning season opened in Kent Monday with 1277 licensed hunters. This number is being increased and will likely reach 1350 before end of the year. J. Hall Denny and son likely win first laurels so far having bagged 16 partridges and four rabbits. Capt. William H. Public Service Institution

Washington College is planning a new department that should prove of great interest and benefit to this community. So far as the resources of the college permit, extension classes will be offered on any subject and in any community in which a demand exists. If ten or more persons desire lessons in any subject that the college faculty is equipped to handle a class may be formed to meet at some point convenient to all concerned. Such classes can be formed in Citizenship, Economics, Education, English, Foreign Languages, History, Mathematics, Music, etc.

This work will be of a grade that can be given credit toward a college degree, and it will be recognized by the State Board of Education toward the renewal or advancement of teachers' certificates. By this means teachers may meet all requirements of continued study without the expenditure of time and money involved in attendance at summer schools. It is thought that many ladies of this community may look upon these courses as an opportunity to study public questions in preparation for the duties that equal suffrage may soon impose upon them.

A beginning class in French to meet at the college for two hours every Saturday afternoon has already been applied for. As soon as a few more applications are received this class will begin its sessions.

A fee of ten dollars per course (30 lessons) will be charged for extension classes meeting at the college, or fifteen dollars a course for classes meeting elsewhere. The College does not guarantee to conduct an outside class for less than ten stndeuts or in any place not accessible over reasonably good roads.

Such work as this will bring the opportunities of Washington College within the reach of a great many people of the neighboring counties, and will vastly increase the public service of the institution.
