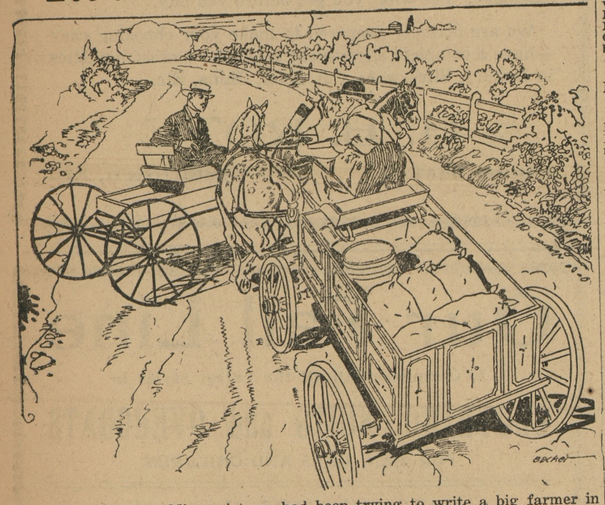
VOL. 80 — CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, NOVEMBER 22, 1919 — No. 25

Let the Roan Pull the Load Alone



An agent in a Missouri town had been trying to write a big farmer in the neighborhood whose farm was encumbered by a considerable mortgage, but the farmer would not listen to him.

One day the farmer was pulling a heavy load with his team up a steep hill, when the agent drove his buggy directly across the road in front of him and stopped his horse, so that the farmer could not proceed.

The farmer was furious "What do you mean by going in front of my team right at the steepest part of the hill and stopping me?" he shouted.

The agent eyed him coolly and remarked. "Why don't you just take the white horse out and let the roan pull the load alone?

This, of course, made the farmer madder than ever. "How can the roan pull the load all alone when it is all that both of them can do, even without a blind fool driving in front of you and stopping you? he yelled.

The agent, lifting a deprecating hand, calmly said. "See here, my friend, some day OLD MAN DEATH is going to step in front of you and your wife, just as I have done to your team today, and is going to stop you, you will be taken out of the harness, and your wife, at just the steepest part of the hill, is going to have to pull the load of that mortgage on your farm alone. If you will buy my policy it will supply your wife with a horse strong enough so that she can go back and sit on top of the load and he will pull it up over the hill alone.

This article was written for the farmer, but don't you know it fits the feet of every man in Kent county in every walk of life. If you don't care for me nor my Company, then buy insurance elsewhere, but by all means provide for your people while you are living. Don't be from Missouri, and have to be shown. 50 per cent of the people born are dead before they are 38, and more than 90 per cent of men die at the wrong time. If they died at the right time you bet they would buy all the insurance they could get, and would have every thing else in tip top shape. FRANK SIMPERS has a policy for every man. Let me talk the situation over with you,inquiry doesn't obligate you in the slightest.

DOLLARS ON SAND BANKS

The business men of Millington have become impressed with the opportunity of farmers for growing crops other than wheat and corn and are bringing to the attention of farmers the strawberry industry. There are no reasons in the world why the Kent and Queen Anne's farmers should not realize thousands of dollars out of growing strawberries.

Do you know that Caroline countians have become rich by raising strawberries?

Do you know that some have received over five hundred dollars an acre for their crop clear, and have had as high as ten acres?

Do you know that the land you are on has several acres that will produce as good berries as grown on the Shore?

If enough berries are grown then will come the factory to preserve the delicious eatable and everybody will have a share in the prosperity.

Don't stay in a rut. Study the situation and "strike."

The Millington Board of Trade advises you to immediately start planning to raise that wonderful berry.

The city prices last year per quart was 25 to 35 cents.

A WONDERFUL PREACHER

The preaching of Dr. Dow in the Methodist Protestant Church this week has been of an exceptionally high grade. He is a man of large statute, big brain and tremendous thought. He has discoursed each night for at least an hour and Monday night preached for one hour and thirty minutes on "dancing." He convinces the most obstinate and holds the attention of his audience every moment of the hour. The sermon Thursday night proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that it is hard for men to go to Hell.

These are union evangelistic meetings and are well attended by church folks, but very few "outsiders" venture under the influence of the great speaker. These meetings will continue all next week in the M.E.Church and all who have not heard this wonderful preacher should make an effort to do so. Prof. Lawton, the singer, is a great success as a soloist and has been giving his best service to the campaign.

STRAWBERRIES GALORE

One Hundred Car Loads Of Strawberries Flowing Through The Streets Of Millington.

The talk of this wonderful fruit will soon take root on all lands of upper Queen Anne's.

This great stretch of light land from Millington to Pondtown and Double Creek that can bear as nice a berry as any land on the shore soon will be doing its duty.

The farmers in this section haven't realized hardly anything for their labor for the last fifteen years while in Caroline with no better land the farmers only last year sold their strawberries for $10.00 a crate to buyers.

One of the supporters of this strawberry idea claims that he has picked from 75 to 100 crates to the acre.

Two hundred acres had already been planned within one mile of Millington and if more farmers will follow it will be the biggest boom they ever had.

You want to take notice that prohibition has caused the demand for this fruit flavor for soft drinks and you can't tell how high the price of this fuit will reach when more manufactures of pure flavor extract get into the business. Boys start to grow them now.

WEDDING NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Friel Boyd announce the engagement of their sister, Helen Lucile, to Carle Andrew Marx. The wedding to take place early in January.

The engagement of Miss Nellie Gertrude Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Willis, of Kent County to Charles Leon Davis, of Baltimore, was recently announced at a dinner given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Poley at their home in Irvington. The wedding will take place in Baltimore on December 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Urie, of Chestertown, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Lilian Urie, and Albert Leffingwell, of New York. The ceremony was performed last Saturday by the Rev. Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, rector of Old St. Paul's Church, Baltimore.

Adams—Fallowfield

Miss Anna May Fallowfield, one of Centreville's most popular and attractive young ladies, gave her many friends a suprise last Saturday when it was learned that she had been married at noon in Philadelphia to Alfred Milton Adams, of Allentown, Pa.

Mrs. Adams' wedding gown was a becoming tailored costume of taupe, trimmed with fur, and she wore hat and gloves to match. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Sadie Fallowfield and the late Marion Perkins Fallowfield, of Centreville, and is popular among a large circle of friends. Immediately following the ceremony they left for a wedding trip to the mountains, after which they will reside in Allentown, Pa., where Mr. Adams is connected with the Keystone Publishing Company.

Walls—Wallace.

Thursday evening of last week Norman A. Walls, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Walls, of Centreville, and the late Chas. R. Walls, for many years a prominent resident of the sixth Distroct, and Miss Mary Josephine Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, of Barclay, were quietly married at the parsonage of Ingleside Church at 8 o'clock Thursday of last week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Rood. The bride wore a smart tailored brown suit with hat to match. According to the custom of the Walls family, Mr. Walls will reside for some time on the home farm of his parents, near Ingleside.

A pretty wedding took place at the Union Square Methodist Episcopal Wednesday evening, November 12th, the Rev. Dr. F. J. Heisse, pastor of that church, officiating. The contracting parties were Miss Anna Mae Ayres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Ayres, of Rock Hall, and Carroll Elmer Willson, of Camden, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Willson, of near Rock Hall.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of dark blue velour with hat to match and carried white chrysanthemums, while the maid of honor, Miss Marguerite Hersh, of Baltimore, wore blue messaline and carried pink chrysanthemums. The groom wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony the happy couple left for Buffalo, Syracuse, Niagara Falls and other northern points, making a short excursion into Canada. On their return they will reside at Camden, N. J.

The bride graduated at Rock Hall High School in 1908 and taught in the public schools there since that time. A talented musician, she was ready to help in church and school work and gave much time to the M. E. Church where she had been organist for 15 years. She is also a teacher of piano and violin, having twenty pupils at the time of her marriage. The groom was a popular Rock Hall boy.

HAND OF DEATH

Miss Linda Lusby, formerly of Lynch, but for some years past a teacher in an Episcopal Seminary in North Carolina, died very suddenly on last Saturday of lobar pneumonia, gaed 55 years. Her remains were brought to Black station on the train on Monday evening and rested at the home of her uncle, Levinus Graves. Funeral services took place at Shrewsbury P. E. Church on Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock, the Rev. S. S. Hepburn officiating, with Undertaker W. H. Krusen in charge of the funeral arrangements. The bearers were Frank and Edward Hepburn, Alwyn and Roth Stavely, John Sutton and William Graves; interment was in the cemetery adjoining.

Charles H. Allen, familiarly known as "Dicky", for several years past employed as blacksmith by Davis & Satterfield, was found dead in a ditch near the Marvil Package Co's. factory, Tuesday afternoon. The position of the body indicated that he had fallen face down in the mud and died of suffocation. Coroner Dr. H. L. Dodd deemed an inquest unnecessary and the body was removed to the home of his brother, Jacob F. Allen. The deceased was 34 years of age, and is survived by his father and mother, and two brothers, Jacob F. and Wester Wood Allen, of Chestertown; and one sister, Mrs. Ira Leager, of Ridgely. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock interment in Chester cemetery, undertaker C. L. Dodd in charge, the Rev. Dr. J. L. Ward, officiating clergyman.

The following were the bearers: C. N. Satterfield, Geo. Latham, Geo. Patrick, Clarke Davis, Highly Crew, Jno. Barnes.

Mrs. E. Pearson, widow of the late Prof. Pearson, died at her home near Rolph's wharf, last Sunday, Nov. 16, of acute indigestion, aged 69 years. She leaves one son, Charles Nickerson, and one daughter, Mrs. Bertha Coleman, wife of Charles R. Coleman, Jr. Funeral was held Tuesday the Rev. Mr. Rowlenson officiating; interment in the family lot adjoining her late residence. The pall-bearers were Thomas Dewberry, Henry Tucker, Joseph Baxter, Joseph McGinnes, Roger Jester and B. F. Potts. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd had charge of arrangements.

After three attempts to ratify the peace treaty had failed, the Senate Wednesday gave up the attempt and laid the treaty aside. All compromise efforts to bring ratification failed, the three resolutions of ratification all going down by overwhelming majorities Lodge and his partners are to blame for this condition.

GRAVEL ROAD BEGUN

A Scheme Advocated By The News Put To Test Near Caulk's Field Monument — Gravel Banks Needed By County — Spring Is Time To Work Roads.

We do not claim to be engineers nor road workers but our experience in public affairs has impressed us for a long time that there was room for improvement in the policy mapped out for working roads in Kent county. For instance, the county levies each year over $20,000 for upkeep of roads and bridges and each year a gang of men will clean out the ditches and throw the mud in middle of the road. A rain comes and within a few weeks or months the same work is to be repeated. This has been going on for years and years so that the county with exception of State roads is no better off now than heretofore. Let's reconstruct our system and make more progress in this matter in which all our people are interested.

Certainly a sum could be set aside each year with which to buy gravel banks and thus start a plan by which some permanent roads could be built. Stop plowing the roads in Fall, fill up the holes with gravel, shells or stone and note the big ipmrovement.

Engineer Applegarth on Monday started to build a 14 foot gravel road from Caulk's Field Monument to Tolchester lane. The gravel was found in the hill which is being cut down and Mr. Applegarth estimates the cost very low. The public will watch this improvement with interest.

LEG SHOT OFF IN GUNNING ACCIDENT

Irving States, of Crumpton, Suffers Serious Injury When Gun Is Discharged—Leg Amputated At Hospital—Second Accident of Hunting Season.

Irving States, of Crumpton, was the victim of the second serious gunning accident of the season. It occurred Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock when the young man shot himself through the thigh while rabbit hunting.

Young States, who is sixteen years old and the son of James States, of Crumpton, had gone to the farm of Fred Stevens, just over the bridge in Kent county, in search of game. In an attempt to drive a rabbit from a pile of brush, by beating the brush with the breech of the gun, the shell exploded, entering the front part of his left leg about half way between the knee and hip, coming out in the upper part of the leg in back. Not a shot was left in the leg, but the bone was shot in two, and the leg nearly severed from the body.

The gun was single barreled, and carried a No. 12 shell. A physician was called, and the young man hurried to Elkton Hospital, where the injured member was amputated. It is not expected that he will recover as he suffered considerably from loss of blood and shock.

The great need of Chestertown is a Garbage System. Now is the time for action.

It seems red tape stands in the way of speedy action with the agitators who admit trying to overthrow the government and bring about in this country a reign of terror. It is an odd situation if the law must protect the very men who are trying to wreck it.
