SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1919

The resignation of former Governor Edwin Warfield as president of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, is announced. Continued ill health has pursued Mr. Warfield for some time.

The exhibit committee for the great Grange meeting in Chestertown this week included Horace B. Derrick, James T. Anthony, Wm. G. Smyth, Edgar Pennington, P. M. Brooks, Miss Susan Hill and Mrs. A. L. Harris. To these is largely due the credit for the success of this big affair. The News offers its congratulations.

Governor Harrington h appointed Dr. Henry M. Fitzhu f Carroll county, a member of tate Board of Education to succeed Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, who recently resigned. The Governor also appointed Thomas H. Chambers, of Federalsburg, Caroline county, on the same board to succeed Judge James Alfred Pearce, who also resigned a short time ago.

We are sorry the weather man could not do better for our guests, the Grangers, this week. Their presence, however, in large numbers proves that they do not allow a little mud and rain keep them from enjoying such a fine assembly. It has surely been great. The addresses have been splendid, the music enjoyable, the exhibits unsurpassed, the sociability of all hearty and genial spirit most admirable. Dr. Gould and the Visitors and Governors did a most commendable act in opening the college to this organization and words of approval have been heard on all sides.

The exhibition in the Chestertown High School this week was most attractively arranged and would compare most favorably with those held elsewhere in the State. The exhibitors deserve praise for making it such a success but to our County Agent Derrick is due a large share of the credit for his energy and patience which succeeded in assembling such a grand exhibition. In another column may be found the awards.

The Grange is a non-political organization. This was forcibly proven recently when the lecturer of the State Grange and secretary of a local Grange, near Baltimore, were both defeated for election to a county office by tremendous majorities.

We wish to correct an annoying mistake made by Miss Mitchel in the industrial booklet just published, in representing a cut of the large fountain in the central square as a memorial of Senator James A. Pearce by his son Judge Pearce, when the cut should have been of the small drinking fountain on the Cross street side of the square. It is well known that the large central fountain was a gift of the town, much earlier made by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, Mrs. Hope H. Barroll and Fred. G. Usilton. It is due to Judge Pearce that we should sa that no proof was sub- m of this cut and that he are of the error until the booklet.
