VICTIMS OF COAL STOVE GAS

Monday a child, who had been accustomed to carry milk to the home of Captain Daniel Friel and Thomas Friel who lived alone near Centreville went to their residence just before noon to deliver some milk. The child found the door locked, and receiving no reply from repeated knocks, informed the neighbors, who immediately began an investigation. Upon entering the house, which was done by force, they went to the second story and found there the two men lying in bed, unconscious.

Dr. J. Lane Finley was immediately summoned and stated that the unconsciousness of Captain Friel and his brother was caused by coal gas escaping from the stove. How long the two men were unconscious before the discovery is not known, but at a late hour neither had regained consciousness.

It is expected that Thomas Friel, the younger brother, will recover from the effects of the gas, but the condition of Captain Daniel Friel is serious.

T. J. VICKERS KILLED BY TRAIN

Former Pilot And Policeman Meets Death In Tunnel At Baltimore.

Thomas J. Vickers, former pilot on the Tolchester boats and ex-policeman of the Southern district, was killed early Saturday morning when struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train in the Pennsylvania tunnel near Pennsylvania avenue. The body was found beside the track by Frank Libby, a track-walker, and taken to Mercy Hospital, where indentification was made by Mr. Vickers' family. The family is unable to explain how Mr. Vickers came to be in the tunnel, but it is presumed he became bewildered and wandered into the shaft.

Mr. Vickers was 36 years old and was born in Kent county. For a number of years he was employed by the Tolchester company. He entered the Police Department about 10 years ago and was stationed in the Southern district until he resigned in 1917. For a short while, after leaving the police force, he returned to his work as pilot. His health then failed and he had been at the State Sanitarium at Sabillasville since last summer. He returned before the Christmas holidays for a visit and left home Friday night, saying he was going to visit his physician on Light street.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Sarah E. Vickers; two daughters, Margaret and Marian Vickers; a son, Morris Vickers; two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Fletcher and Miss Clara Vickers, and a brother, Kent Vickers.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the home, 2304 East North avenue, the Rev. C. E. Wise, of North Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial in Loudon Park Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Brice and son, Kenn, Mrs. Charles Gooding and daughter, Bernice, Miss Mary Taylor, of Wilmington, Rev. T. G. Owens, of Smyrna, Del., and brother, Rev. H. C. Owens, of West Minster, Miss Martha Rasin, Misses Elsie and Lillian Owens, of Philadelphia; Miss Grace Tull, Miss Ethel Wilmer, Miss Louise Crew, of Baltimore; Harold Crew, Merritt Sutton, of Chestertown; Norman Crew, of Wilmington; Mrs. Steve Shipley and children, of Baltimore, spent Xmas holidays with parents and relatives in Betterton.

License Clerk—George I. Harrison, of Crumpton, has accepted the position of license clerk in the office of Fire Insurance Commissioner Thomas J. Keating.

This is an important and responsible position, but not one that will require Mr. Harrison to move to Baltimore. He will, however, have to devote several days each week to the duties of his office.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

A Prosperous New Year

THE Holidays are with us—Christmas the day of good cheer; New Year, the day of good resolutions. We use our allotted space this week in wishing our patrons in particular and the community in general "A Merry Christmas." This wish comes from the warmest corner of our hearts as we fully realize that our efforts to please our rapidly increasing patrons has been fully appreciated Who is there among us too old to remember the Christmas of his childhood? Is there one who does not look back upon it as the happiest day of his life? Probably the next day, to many at least, is the day they made their first deposit in our bank. Your increased prosperity begins at that time and at this happy Yule-tide you have been enabled to make your family and friends presents of real value from the interest money your idle dollars have made for you at our bank while you have slept. Beautiful and right it is that gifts and good wishes should fill the air like snowflakes at Christmas-tide. What better wish could you have for your friends and neighbors than that they do as you have done—deposit their idle money in our bank so that next Christmas they too, can make presents from the interests their small deposits have made for them. Would it not be a Christian act for you to suggest this to any of your friends in whom you feel an interest. Come to the bank with them and help to start them on the road to prosperity before the New Year begins.

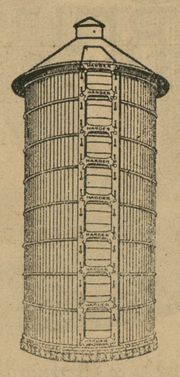
It's what you fork out from a Silo that counts more than what you "fork up" for it!



Mr. W. C. Terry, of New London, Ct., purchased a Harder Silo in 1914 and kept an accurate account of the receipts from 22 cows for the nine feeding months of the following year and compared them with the receipts from the same herd of cattle for the nine months of the previous year with the following results:

Sold with the Silo $243.40 more cream.
Sold with the Silo $72.53 more skim milk.
Sold with the Silo $125.00 worth of hay.
Bought $245.39 less grain.
Total proceeds of the season with the silo over those of the season without the Silo, $667.32

The Harder Mfg. Co., Cobleskill, N. Y.

Gentlemen—Am pleased to report that the two 14x32 Silos which you sold me last year are eminently satisfactory, and are unquestionably money savers for me. Am still using the one you sold me about ten years ago and that is, so far as I can see, as good as the year it was erected.

We are extending our farming projects and will probably need one or two of your Silos this fall, because we appreciate the necessity of greater food production throughout the country; this means more cattle and more cattle mean more Silos.

Very truly yours, SAMUEL RUSSELL., Jr.

IF YOU INTEND TO PUT UP A SILO IN 1920 INVESTIGATE OUR PURCHASERS CARLOAD CLUB PLAN! Write or call and let me explain how you can save money by placing your order now for future delivery. One carload for 1920 delivery already sold. Am now booking orders for second carload.
