Service

It is a Service to you, when a life insurance agent solicits your application.

It is a Service to you, when you are persuaded by the agent to do your duty and sign the application.

It is a Service to you, when the Company's examiner looks you over.

It is a Service to you, when your application is pronounced first class by the Company.

It is a Service to you, when a clean, conservative Company issues you a policy.

It is a Service to you, when the agent delivers the policy.

It is a Service to you, when the agent still continues to look after your interests by informing you when your premiums are due.

It is a Service to you, when during your financial difficulties the agent helps you to carry your policy by arranging a loan.

It is a Service to you, when after you are gone the agent is again in evidence making up the proofs to collect your policy.

It is a Service to you, when the agent takes a check to your widow and orphans.

It is a Service, that begins with your first meeting and ends only at death. The agent is your agent as well as the Company's.

In choosing that Service select an agent in whom you can place every confidence.

If you are looking for real Service, see FRANK SIMPERS.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Do you know that 95 per cent of the men and women in the United States who live to be 65 are DEAD BROKE? They haven't two silver dollars to rub together. Think this over.

The man who dies now with a family without adequate life insurance doesn't die, he ABSCONDS. What is a few thousand dollars now to leave your family, when a dollar is only worth forty-seven cents, and we haven't hit the high spots yet?

You hear people say that it certainly costs money to live now, did it ever occur to you that it costs real money to die now? What you are looking for now is Service. Make your money buy every thousand of insurance it will buy. Instead of buying a thousand twenty year endowment, buy twenty-five hundred whole life.

WEDDING NOTES

Marx—Boyd

The marriage of Miss Helen Lucile Boyd and Carle Andrew Marx was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

The nuptial ceremony was performed by Rev. Father M. Maher and was witnessed by relatives and a large number of friends of the couple.

The church was decorated in bamboo, ferns and cut flowers, white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers being effective on the altar.

Miss Genevieve McMurray at the organ, rendering a program of music while the guests assembled, and before the entrance of the bridal party E. O. Ohlson sang O Promise Me.

At the appointed hour the bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding music. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, B. Friel Boyd, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Boyd, acting as matron of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. Norman D. Suttles and Miss Caddene Montgomery.

Mr. Marx had as his best man his brother Neyle F. Marx, the groomsmen including his uncle, William Sollee, and his cousin, Bryan Marx.

Little Miss Margorie Hirons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hirons, and little Miss Marie Marvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Marvin, were flower girls. The former wore a frock of white chiffon over blue, the latter wearing chiffon over pink. Both children carried French baskets with pink rose petals, which were strewn in the pathway of the bride.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin with overdraperies of white georgette crepe, embroidered in pearls. Her bridal veil was of tulle and was caught to her coiffure with a band of pearls. She carried an armful of brides roses with a shower of valley lilies.

Mrs. Boyd wore a gown of Nile green georgette crepe, combined with maline. Her hat was a green georgett picture hat to match, and she carried pink roses.

Mrs. Suttles was attired in pink crepe meteor with silver trimmings and wore a picture hat to match. She also carried pink roses.

Miss Montgomery wore a gown of orchid and carried bridesmaid roses.

During the early evening Mr. and Mrs. Marx left for a wedding trip down the East Coast, the bride traveling in a suit of blue velour with accessories to match. Her hat was a spring model in blue georgette crepe and braid.

On their return they will make their home with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. A. Marx, on Second St., Springfield.

The bride is a charming young women and since making her home here with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Boyd, has made many friends who will wish her happiness. She is originally from Chestertown, having come to Jacksonville a year or two ago.

Mr. Marx is a successful young business man of Jacksonville, and also has a host of friends who will extend congratulations.—Jacksonville Times.

Kennedy—Othoson.

The wedding of Miss Nelle K. Othoson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Othoson, of Kennedyville, to John Rodger Kennedy, also of Kennedyville, took place last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride. The Rev. Frank S. Cain performed the ceremony.

The bride had no attendants, with the exception of her flower girls, who were Miss Bessie Jette Cain and Miss Elizabeth Hurlock, and the ringbearer, little George Kennedy. A reception was held at the home of the bride after which Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left for Millington, where they will make their home.

Mr. Kennedy is the son of Mrs. John D. Kennedy and the late Mr. Kennedy. He served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. The bride took a prominent part in war work.

Hudson—Dowling

On Monday evening at six-thirty o'clock the marriage ceremony of Miss Mary Elizabeth Dowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowling, Sr., and Charles Edward Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hudson, was solemnized by Rev. T. C. Smoot at his home in Rock Hall. The other members of the bridal party were Miss Addie Hudson, sister of the groom, and Claude Bryden. The party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dowling for a short time then proceeding to their residence which is in Piney Neck, where they were received by Mr. Hudson's parents. A number of young friends were waiting and immediately instituted a serenade. This popular couple are starting on their wedded life with many hearty wishes for a long, happy journey.

Baugher—Hines

The marriage of Miss Jane Elizabeth Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Hines, and William F. Baugher, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baugher took place Wednesday afternoon at Wilton Heights Methodist Protestant Church. The chancel was banked with palms and the bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was met by the bridegroom attended by his brother, Lindsay Baugher, as best man. She wore a gown of taupe satin, self trimmed, and a close-fitting hat to match and carried Bride roses. She was attired by Miss Martha Rewings as maid of honor, who wore a brown silk gown and a large black hat and carried pink carnations. Miss Thelma Marian Hines, little sister of the bride, was flower girl, and wore a dainty white frock with blue ribbons and carried a basket of pink maidenhair fern. The ushers were John Crawther and Newell Graham. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. George Clayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Baugher left later for Norfolk, where they will spend their honeymoon and will be at home after January 20 at 5015 Beaufort avenue, Baltimore.

Willson—Wood

The wedding of Miss Alice Wood daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wood, of Piney Neck, to Bernard Willson, son of Capt. James Willson, took place Wednesday, at 11.30 o'clock at the home of her parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Elderdice, pastor of Oxford M. P. Church.

Geary—Price

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Price, Betterton, on Thursday, January 8th, at 5.30 o'clock, when their charming and talented daughter, Alta Hurlock, became the bride of Ralph Geary, a young farmer between Still Pond and Kennedyville.

The feature of the elaborate decorations was an arch of laurel and white lilies, with a wedding bell suspended from the centre; under which the happy couple were joined as one by Rev. Ransom P. Nichols, of Smyrna, Del. The home was beautifully trimmed with holly and laurel also pink candles burned from candlelabras placed among the green, while baskets of pink and white carnations and ferns added charm and fragrance to the beauty of the scene. The bride, tastefully attired in white satin trimmed in white georgette and crystal beads, her veil being caught with orange blossoms around her hair, carried a shower bouquet of Bride's roses and helitrope. Her sister, Mrs. Ralph Shallcross, of Still Pond, was matron of honor, wearing a pink tulle dress trimmed in silver lace and carrying pink carnations. Her neice, little Elizabeth Shallcross, dantily attired in white tulle, carrying pink and white carnations, acted as flower girl. The groom was dressed in conventional black while Goldey Warren, of Chestertown, acted as best man. Mrs. Anna Smyth Brice, presided at the piano and rendered the strains of Lohengrin in fitting harmony with the occasion. Immediately following the wedding ceremony a sumptuous supper was served to the immediate families and a few friends, after which amid an abundant shower of rice, the happy couple left for their home near Turner's Creek.

Tyler—Kernan

After a courtship of three months, William Tyler, manager of Lubin's Theatre, 404-6 East Baltimore street, was married to Miss Mae K. Kernan, of Worton, on Wednesday, January 7. The marriage of Mr. Tyler and Miss Kernan came as a pleasant surprise to their many friends in the moving-picture circle of Baltimore The Couple went to Ellicott City, Md. on Wednesday afternoon without saying a word to anyone and were married at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church in that city, of which the Rev. Dr. Harrison, Jr., is pastor.—Baltimore Sun.
