Washington Defeated. — Washing-College basketball team was beaten Saturday by the University of Pennsylvania Freshmen, 37 to 14. It was the fastest game on the home floor this season. The Chestertown quint did not play as well as against Loyola.

Penn jumped off to a quick lead and early in the first period ran the score up to 11 to 3. Washington braced, however, near the end of the half. Gordy caged two goals and several free tosses, bringing the count to 16 to 9.

The visitors also started the second period with a rush. The home team put up a desperate defense, but could not hold down the scoring.

The game was fast and hard and was marked by considerable foulng. Ramonat boosted his team's score by accurate foul shooting, while Robins was a little off color in that department. Gordy's work at center was gilt-edge and he promises to give Washington one of the best centers in the State this year.

Before the big game Chestertown High School beat the Washington Freshmen, 13 to 3.

Congress Andrews says, "The Government has issued its third edition of a book entitled "Prevention of Disease and Care of the Sick," a number of which I have for distribution, but only want to send them to those who will be interested, which I will be glad to do, upon request for same, directed to me at Washington. I have read the book and think it should be in every home. If by reference to it you are able to prevent or cure one little ache or pain, you are more than repaid for the trouble of asking."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, We are thankful that we have been so privileged, as to have known such an honorable and upright character. We appreciate his value to the community and his service to our country. We realize that when he answered his country's call, he believed "Greater love hath no man than this, than a man lay down his life for his friend."

Resolved, Second, That we extend our loving and heartfelt sympathy to the father and brothers who were in the service and to the mother and sister who knitted and worked so faithfully in our behalf.

Resolved, Third, That a copy of these resolutions be sent the family of the deceased. Also that they be placed upon the minutes of the Post. Also that they be sent to the county papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
