LOCAL NOTES

The Hell Point Club killed 600 ducks this season. There are ten members in this club.

Geo. W. French, insurance agent, was surprised last week when a resident of Kent called on him and asked for $50,000 life insurance. He quickly granted his request and is ready for others for smaller or larger amount.

Fair and Warmer—no, not a weather prediction, but the title of a delightful photoplay, featuring May Allison, at Lyceum Theatre, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

A mock trial was held last Saturday in the Adelphia Literary Society, Chief Judge, Frank Ayres, Jr., Associate Judge, Alwood C. Gordy and August Werner; Lawyer for the defendant, H. Dwight Morris; State's Attorney, W. David Straughn. The charge was brought against Carlton Walls by the Adelphia Society, Mr. Walls was acquitted.

At the annual re-organization of the board of directors of the Kent Building and Loan Co., held on Monday night the present officers were re-elected as follows: President, L. Bates Russell; Vice-President, Fred G. Usilton; Secretary, and Treasurer, Charles N. Satterfield; Counsel, John D. Urie; Member Executive Committee, Thomas S. Bordley.

Substitute R. P. O. Clerk Roscoe Wharton of the Philadelphia terminal is making the run on the Massey and Chestertown line this week in place of regular Clerk Ford, who is enjoying a week's vacation.

Read the flattering tribute paid to Bordley & Son's clothing and prices by two men living in Baltimore city. You will see it in their adv. of this issue.

The residents of Georgetown and Galena enjoyed the skating last week. The children skated to school and home again, the men skated to work and to business, the young people have regular skating parties right on the public highway between Galena and Georgetown.

The Noland-Bennett-Russell Co., received a car load of Fordson tractors this week. Farmers will do well to place their orders now while the tractors ore available.

Kent's representatives in the Maryland Legislature were given a "post card shower" by their constituents, in advocacy of the ratification of the constitutional amendment providing for Woman Suffrage.

Reports from Washington are to the effect that it is now almost certain that the price of wheat for 1920 will be considerably higher that the Government price of $2.26 a bushel. Crop reports show that the acreage is considerably smaller than in 1919. Wheat is now selling in some places at 80 cents and $1.00 above the Government price.

The Literary Society of Crumpton, under the directorship of Dr. J. W. Stack, held its first meeting in the hall Saturday evening. The attendance was good and considerable interest manifested.

William Ford, the faithful superintendent of the county almshouse, is the proud possessor of an old-time "hay copper," which was coined in the year in which he was born, 1831, just 89 years ago. Mr. Ford carries the coin as a pocket-piece, and has had it for years.

Arlington L. Sparks, who recently took in exchange purchase the present bank building belonging to the Third National Bank, is preparing plans for remodeling the entire building, adding a second story, which will be used by himself and family as an apartment, and rearranging the front of the present structure in order to make it a modern store.

Be sure to look for A. S. Turner & Sons attractive advertisement on page 5 in this issue and watch their space each week. Don't forget to stop at the Dodge, Velie, and Auburn space at the Automobile Show in Baltimore next week.

The Directors of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland on Wednesday last elected Ernest Strong as bookkeeper at the bank in place of Robert Ayres, who has resigned to take place with the Adkins Lumber Company. The change will take place February 9.

The press of Alleghany County announces that their Judges will hereafter wear gowns when presiding in court. This decision was recently reached by the judges and is to be carried into immediate effect. The gown adopted will be black and it is felt that wearing it will add to the dignity of the county.

Some of the Rock Hall fishermen have been catching fine rock and perch these winter days. Walter Scoone and Herman Jacobs carried an automobile load of fish all the way to Baltimore on Thursday and got good prices. Fred. Williams shipped about 1700 pounds by express from Chestertown this week. Winter fishing is both an expensive and dangerous business. Nets are frequently entirely lost and poles are ofter broken off by the ice. The men have to go out on the ice in sleds in many cases to get their nets which is dangerous work.

Love Point, on Kent Island, is to be transformed into one of the most beautiful summer resorts in the East, according to well formulated plans which were made public Wednesday, when announcement was made that N. D. Smith, President of the Peninsula Ferry Corporation, has purchased Hotel Love Point, together with the spacious grounds and bathing beaches. Associated with Mr. Smith in the purchase of the Love Point property are some of the best-known and mose experienced amusement people in the country, and they plan to transform the beautiful site on Kent Island into a resort that will prove one of the most attractive bay side summer places in Maryland or any near-by state.

By card published in this issue, the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company requests the tax-payers and citizens of the town to attend a public meeting to be held in Firemen's Hall next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Matters vitally affecting the permanancy and efficiency of the organization, and the town's fire protection facilities, generally, are to be discussed. The officers of the Fire Company feel that they are not receiving the moral support and co-operation of our citizens to the extent justified by the importance of their organization as a public institution. It is earnestly hoped that our citizens will manifest a deeper interest by their presence, in large numbers at the meeting called for next Wednesday.

Real Estate Sales.—C. F. Parks has purchased of R. Hynson Rogers, Esq., three houses on College street, near Blyman's Corner.

J. Waters Russell, who purchased the double dwelling on High street owned by James H. Sides and occupied by Mrs. M. E. Frazier and Howard I. Reed, has sold the same to Miss Lucy and Susie Frazier and Randolph Waddell, the former paying $1,500 for the South side and Mr. Waddell $1,400 for the North side.

Howard I. Reed has purchased from Thomas G. Wroth, the Morris property on Queen street, now occupied by J. Hall Denny; possession given about August 1st. Price private.

A Great Convenience.—Frank Coleman, living near Fannels Branch, arose one morning last week to find his water supply exhausted, and after repeated efforts to start his engine, he was compelled to abandon this means of replenishing his supply. His horses being unshod and, of course, unfit to travel over the sleety roads, he found himself in an unfortunate predicament; and as a last resort he called his brother, Grover, on the adjoining farm, who owned a little Fordson, and asked that he bring the ever-ready helper over. This he did. To the Fordson they coupled a farm wagon, loaded with barrels and to the branch, nearby, they went, soon returning with ample supply for the whole farm. Being a little shy on feed the tractor was sent for fodder and a bountiful supply of provender was soon provided.

School Notes.—The heating of Elementary School has been very poor. Scholars should not be compelled to remain when there is not sufficient heat. Health is of first importance.

Miss Jennie Bogner, of Washington, D. C., has been appointed vice-principal of Millington school.

Mrs. Howard Newnam is teaching at Quaker Neck school.

Because of the unusual storm of sleet the Elementary School had one session on last Friday. A good idea. The "hot-lunch" was much appreciated and nearly every scholar in the school had a share. About one hundred and twenty-five pupils were served with cocoa and crackers during the noon hour.

Miss Harley has been detained at home by reason of illness of her mother. Mrs. Hope Malin is substituting for Miss Harley.

Miss Inez Russell is also at home sick and Mrs. Bonnetti from College hill is substituting for her.

The Daughters of America observed the 19th anniversary of their organization in Fraternal Hall, Chestertown, Monday night.

A survey of the new wharf property for the Bay Shore-Rock Hall ferry at Rock Hall was made Monday and work on the erection of the pier will begin as soon as ice conditions will permit.

Kent Post No. 36 American Legion beginning Friday, February 6, 1920, will meet every other Friday night at 8 p. m., at the office of Mr. Applegarth, in the Court House. All former service men are urged to join and attend.

The St. Paul's Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. Earle Nicholson on Thursday evening last. One of their famous suppers was served to a large company and thoroughly enjoyed.

A meeting of the Federated Charities of Chestertown will be held next Monday afternoon between 4 and 5 at the Red Cross Chapter rooms.

Captain Thomas Hogans, star route mail carrier between Chestertown and Rock Hall, was stalled in the road near DeCorse's Hill on the night trip to Rock Hall, Friday, and was compelled to spend the night at the home of George V. Hatcherson, a nearby farmer. Captain Hogans did not reach Rock Hall until 9.30 o'clock next morning, and says he has never seen roads in worse condition. The big mail truck got down in a ditch on the slippery roads and had to be hauled out. The motor truck over the Easton-Wilmington route failed to make its trip, Friday. The College Basket Ball team started to Elkton but the auto turned around like a turn table and the trip was abandoned.

The ice has greatly interferred with the trappers. Winnie Powell caught 16 rats in one day.

Robert Moffett & Son paid a trapper, one day last week $72 for 13 muskrat pelts and one raccoon hide.

Capt. W. C. A. Thompson and a companion bagged a number of wild geese one morning last week in a wheat field near the bay. At this season of the year these birds use the wheat fields quite extensively, but they are so wild that it is difficult to get within gunshot. Capt Thompson made a blind of cornstalks in the field and was able to get a good shot.

Maslin & Davis, of Quaker Neck, sold 58 hides one day.

—During the month of January Clerk of the Court A. Parks Rasin issued the following marriage licenses: John Rogers Kennedy 27, and Nellie Katherine Othoson 25; Henry Bernard Willson 28, and Alice Drage Wodd 24; Charles Edward Hudson 25, and Mary Etta Dowling 21; Ralph Geary 24, and Alta Hurlock Price 23; Alexander Jarrell 23, and Mollie S. Dixon 20; Ola Andrew Sutton 32, and Grace May King 24; Harry D. Hendrickson 42, and Jessie M. Crew 35; Charles C. Ivens 40, and Elsie Bedwell 30; L. Shreeve Stevens 23, and Isabel Jacquette 25; Orson Hydie Wiltbanks, Jr., 23, and Blanche McKnett Grantlin 22.

New Park.—Baltimore is going to haveanother amusement park and according to an announcement made Saturday morning, the plans for the resort which will be located at Sandy Beach, below Bay Shore Park. The name for the place, it was stated, will be left to the selection of the people. and will be taken from the choice of the public through a prize contest.

Among the features announced to be installed are a one-mile pier extending into Chesapeake Bay, connecting with ferries to Rock Hall and other points; a midway, restaurant, etc. R. F. Grigor, of New York, is in charge of the park, work upon which will be started immediately.

Appointed On Anti-Weller List.—Announcement was made Monday of the Republican Committee which will be called into session to select a Republican candidate for the United States Senatorial nomination to oppose Ovington E. Weller. Former Governor Phillips Lee Goldsborough has been rabidly opposed to Mr. Weller, ever since the latter announced his candidacy several months ago. He called an anti-Weller meeting, and stated that a committee would be selected, composed of one Republican in each county, to bring out a man who should be the party's nominee. Howard F. Owens is the Kent county member of the committee.

A Flattering Tribute

TWO men, living in Baltimore, after having priced Clothing in every representative clothing house in Baltimore, finding the price so high in the city, made the trip to Chestertown and bought of Bordley & Son nearly $300.00 worth of Suits, Overcoats and Furnishing Goods, declaring they had saved $50 00 on their purchases. No greater proof is needed that our prices for the same grade of clothing is far less than can be found in the city. For further proof come in and convince yourself of the truth of this statement. Respectfully,

BORDLEY & SON.
