VOL. 80 — CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, FEBRUARY 21, 1920 — No. 36

A Better Civilization

When the producing member of a family dies, the children are usually deprived of an education and forced out at an early age to help support the family.

As a result, physical vigor is impaired and intelligence retarded. With these handicaps, the child grows up to found a family of its own. The handicaps of the parent are likely to be perpetuated in the next generation, and so on from one generation to another.

Life insurance stops that process. It steps in and provides for the family and educates the children. These advantages tend to be perpetuated in the next generation, and an even higher type of civilization tends to envolve.

A single generation, adequately insured, would raise the whole country to a position of happiness and well-being that may easily be imagined when it is remembered that life insurance not only provides a home for the family and an education for the children, but also makes old age comfortable and care-free, strengthens credit, protects business enterprises from disaster, and meets and provides for financial emergencies of every kind.

It is little wonder that so distinguished an economist as Dr. Simon N. Patton should have observed recently that "the American people have ceased to be a nation of savers and have become a nation of life-insurers," and that "this makes for security and increased happiness."

The above is absolutely true, if this generation will carry enough insurance to make all these things possible. 16c a day is all that each $1,000 of insurance money at 6 per cent interest would yield for a widow and children. A $10,000 policy would provide the magnificent salary for a widow of $1.60 a day. Just think of a widow with children living on $1.60 a day, and supposed to educate the children at this time. Buy another "TEN" and be on the safe side.

It is not generally known, but 85 per cent of the adult population die without leaving any estate to probate, one-third of all widows are left without the necessities of life, and 75 per cent without the comforts. Most men live up to their income and some exceed it, which accounts for not leaving any estate. How can a man on a salary with the H. C. L. looking him in the face save anything? If he can save a hundred or so, sickness or something else comes along and takes it away from him. Then if he lives 20 years, he won't have enough saved up to take care of his family for a year. Why not let your small savings buy you a decent protection for your family. $200 a year will come very near buying a $10,000 contract.

Now read this over again, for I want every word to sink in.

PEERLESS FERT. PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

Chestertown's Big Industry Takes Fire At Midnight Sunday—Mercury Down to 8 Degrees—Loss Covered By Insurance—To Be Rebuilt.

The citizens of Chestertown were awakened shortly before midnight Sunday by the fire alarm and at once a great blaze near the river could be seen. It proved to be the Peerless Fertilizer Company's plant. The fire was discovered in the main building about 11.30 when Lawrence E. Duyer daughter saw the blaze from her window. Mr. Duyer is the construction engineer and lives near the factory. He gave the alarm and soon a score or more persons were present to help.

The Volunteer Fire Company arrived but could get no closer than the basket factory. It was seen that the main building was gone and efforts were made to save the wharf built several hundred feet out into the river on piles, and in this they were successful by heroic efforts. Lawrence Duyer, J. T. Hadaway, M. P. Brooks, Sheriff Townsend and others deserve special credit for this work. They not only saved the pier and pier warehouse, hoisting rigs and engines thereon, but some little material in the pier house.

The main building, machinery, materials and everything else was a mass of ruins by 2 o'clock. The mercury was down to 8 degrees with a strong west wind, and a colder place would be hard to find.

The Peerless Fertilizer Company, though not as large as some others in this state, was one of the oldest concerns in the United States and was practically owned by Wilbur W. Hubbard, of Chestertown; his father established the business in the early seventies under the firm name of T. R. Hubbard & Son, and in 1896 Wilbur W. Hubbard bought out his father's interest and prosecuted the business at Chestertown as Wilbur W. Hubbard, but in 1907 Mr. Hubbard'sinterests had grown so large in the Hubbard Fertilizer Company of Baltimore city and demanded so much of his time and attention that he incorporated his business at Chestertown as the Peerless Fertilizer Company.

Wilbur W. Hubbard is president; D. B. Ford, vice president; Jesse Medders, treasurer; H. B. Strong, secretary; W. H. Elliott,acting treasurer; George T. Peacock, superintendent.

Mr. Hubbard, who was in Washington, when the fire occured, stated that the loss of his plant hurt him very much, as it was there he commenced in the fertilizer business as a young man 45 years ago and, whereas, he owns 32 buildings in Chestertown, this was the first fire he ever had here.

Mr. Hubbard further stated that he did not know how much insurance was carried on the plant and stock, but it is somewhere around $100,000. Mr. Hubbard says that he knows that the factory, machinery and stock could not be replaced for less than $175,000 to $200,000, and he has not decided as yet, but the probabilities are it will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

Stable Burned.—The stable belonging to Richard Smyth at Fairlee was burned Wednesday evening together with about 50 bushels of corn, wheat, hay, etc. "Dixy" had fed his horse and returned to the house when shortly afterward the fire was discovered. Only about $113 insurance in the Kent Mutual was on the property.

Argus Robinson shipped four pair squabs to New York last week on which he cleared $8. The squabs weighed a pound each. Another record breaker.

AGGRESSIVE ACTION

Committee Appointed At Citizens' Meeting Take Steps Leading Toward Better Fire Equipment, Better Sidewalks And A Garbage System.

The committee named at the citizens' meeting held a conference in Firemen's Hall Monday evening and took definite action looking toward better sidewalks and a garbage system. It was decided to introduce a bill in the Legislature asking for a bond issue of $10,000 for fire apparatus and that a referendum be attached thereto. There is a divided opinion as to whether a pumping engine is required or whether a truck, with chemicals, to carry hose and ladder is required. The Bill provides that the expenditure be left with the Volunteer Fire Company in whom is the greatest confidence.

It was also decided to ask for an enabling act by which the Town Commissioners can add 10 cents to the tax rate for improved sidewalks and 5 cents to install and operate a garbage system. It is hoped to have the hearty co-operation of all to the inauguration of these needed improvements to our town.

NEW HOME COMPANY

Several of Kent's young men have organized the Kent Construction Company. The president is Walter Wright; vice president, Ollie Estes; secretary and treasurer, Robert R. Ayres; engineer, H. I. Christopher; attorney, Rufus W. Applegarth. The capital is $50,000 and office is located on Kent Square next door to Jos. N. Wheatley & Co.'s. Engineer Christopher resigned his position as assistant under Capt. Applegarth so as to devote all his time to this work. Mr. Estes will resign as deputy treasurer in a few weeks and become active in this company. They will do a general business in the construction of roads, bridges and sidewalks.

The County Commissioners on Tuesday took up the matter of State-aided roads with Engineer Applegarth and the States Roads Commission. They expect to get busy on the road from Massey to Ireland's Corner, the road thru Betterton, road thru Still Pond and the road from Still Pond Station to the village.

Three small boys, aged 10, 12 and 14, were given a hearing before Justice Rogers this week for various misdemeanors. They admitted their guilt and their parents paid the losses. They got into the railroad depot and took quite a lot of cigarettes and tobacco. They entered Blackway's Bottling Works, stole soft drinks, and after emptying a number of bottles sold them to the owner who keeps a store in another part of the town.

Exercises celebrating Washington's Birthday will be held in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School next Monday afternoon, and will begin promptly at 1.15

Patrons and other friends of the school are cordially invited to attend.

HAND OF DEATH

Entered into rest February 19th, 1920, at her home in Chestertown, Mrs. Mary Amanda Oldham, wife of the late Dr. C. H. B. Massey, and daughter of George W. and Susan Biddle Oldham, of Cecil county, and a descendant of Augustine Herman, of Bohemia Manor. A truly Christian character of high ideals, a love of true friendship and a deep appreciation of those friendships. A mother, whose long life was of incalculable value to her family and well may be said,

"Her children shall rise up and call her blessed."

She is survived by four children, Mrs. P. A. M. Brooks, Miss M. E. Massey, Herman B. and E. Thomas Massey, six grandchildren and one great grandchild. Services at St. Clements Church, Massey, Md., on Monday, February 23rd, at 3.30.

Miss Nora Bowers, daughter of J. Raymond Bowers, died Sunday at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, of pneumonia, aged 22 years. Besides her father she is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Wm. Edw. Greenwood, Violet Bowers, Mrs. Mary Mast, wife of Lee Mast, of Baltimore, Howard, Raymond Lester, Vickers and Hilden Bowers. The remains were brought by train on Monday evening and rested at the home of her father near town. Funeral services were held at 10.30 a. m. Tuesday, conducted by Rev. Avery Donovan, interment in Chester Cemetery. Her brothers and brother-in-law acted as bearers; C. L. Dodd undertaker.

Mrs. Leonora Hutchinson died at the home of her son in Wilmington, last Friday, just two days after the passing away of her sister, Mrs. John R. Bennett, whose death was noted last week in the News. Mrs. Hutchinson was 71 years of age. Her burial took place at Smyrna, on Sunday. John N. Bennett, Mrs. J. L. Smyth and Mrs. E. E. Hudson, of Chestertown, nephew and neices of the deceased attended the funeral.

Wm. H. Robinson died at the home of his son-in-law, E. T. Graham, on Flatland, Thursday, February 18th, aged 85. The funeral took place yesterday, Rev. Avery Donovan officiating. The body was carried by train to Laurel and there interred, C. L. Dodd, undertaker. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. E. T. Graham, Mrs. Florence King, and four sons, W. H., Handy, J. Frank and Elmer Robinson.

Charles Rigby died at his home near Easton on Wednesday, aged 75 years. He leaves large family of whom J. Ivon Rigby, of near Worton, is one of the sons.

Mrs. Rebecca Erskine died at the home of her son, Samuel, near Church Hill, Thursday aged 79. She leaves a husband and the following children: George, of Chestertown; Samuel, of Church Hill; John, of Wilmington; Will, of Talbot; Mrs. S. W. Grantlin, of Kennedyville; Mrs. Edw. Schwatka, Mrs. Harvey Davis, Mrs. Chas. Gilbet, of Wilmington. The interment took place in Chester Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

The many friends of J. Frank Baker were shocked last Thursday when the news reached them of the death of Mrs. Baker. Dangerously ill for the past two weeks with double pneumonia, the end came suddenly at 3 p. m. She is survived by her husband and two small children, one of who is ill with scarlet fever. On this account the funeral services were held at Spring Hill Cemetery Sunday morning at 11 a. m. The home is quarantined at present. Mrs. Baker was the daughter of John A. Tschantre, of Cambridge. Rev. J. L. Ward, of Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, officiated, being a former pastor of the deceased.

REAL ESTATE SALES

"Riverside," one of Kent county's most desirably located water front estates has been sold to E. Cordray Loud, of Baltimore. The report of the sale was confirmed by Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., attorney for his sister, Mrs. Jane Vickers Robinson, owner of the property. It is reported that the purchase price was around $45,000. "Riverside" contains about 310 acres, and is beautifully located on Chester river, about three miles south of Chestertown. In the sixties and seventies it was the home of the late Col. Edward Wilkins, the pioneer peach grower of this community. It passed to his son, B. N. S. Wilkins, who sold the property to the late William B. Usilton, of Chestertown, for about $12,000; the latter in turn sold it to the late Cecil R. Atkinson for $16,000; Mr. Atkinson sold it to the late Col. S. L. Wright for $18,000, from whom it was purchased by Mrs. Robinson, last previous owner, for about $27,000.

T. G. Wroth sold on Saturday last to Arthur Coleman, of Chester, one of his dwelling houses on High street extended, and at present occupied by Oliver Stoops and family.

Rosaro Strvazzi has bought a farm near Lynch Station and will go there March 1st.

Capt. W. H. Cooper has sold to Henan Hurd a small tract of land on Worton Creek adjoining the old public landing upon which Mr. Hurd will erect a home.

Purchase Of A Fine Lot.—A. H. Covey has purchased of C. L. Jarrell and wife the elegant building lot on Washington avenue consisting of nearly two acres. This lot fronts on the State road 165 feet and was formerly occupied by one of the handsomest homes in Kent. Mr. Covey expects some day to build a home on this site, but not at present.

It is said the Flatland road is simply awful.

Green Spring Valley hunters will visit Kent March 18th.
