TELPHONE RATES GOVENED BY COST OF PROUCING SERVICE

IT IS AN UNANGEABLE law of trade that the price at which anrvice can be continuously sold is governed by the cost which it can be continuously produced.

THERE NOTHING IN THE TELEPHONE BUSINESS AT EXCEPTS IT FROM THIS LAW.

IT IS GENEL KNOWLEDGE that this company has been subjec for the last several years to constantly rising costs. Paularly from the date this country entered the war our cany, like practically every other public utility, has been ggling under this steadily increasing burden.

THE MATEALS WE NEED have been scarce and expensive the of labor has been going up; and in the face of suc ramons the demands for service have reached the poi ere our resources and facilities are strained to the utn

WE C OT DO AS a private industry might—arbitrarily ra rices or suspend operations until conditions become mnearly normal. We must stand ready at all times to se the public, to make needed extensions to our plant and ement and to meet the demands for more and more sce.

WE ELCOME THESE obligations, but we have now hed a point where it has become our duty to ask the lic Service Commission for such rates as will enable us ontinue doing business and to provide sufficient revenue he operations of the future.

BISHOP ADAMS

The Rt. Rev. William Forbes Adams, Bishop of the Diocese of Easton, who died at his home in Easton, at 2 o'clock Friday morning, following a ten days' illness of influenza, was 87 years of age, and for the past thirty-thee years was head of the Protestant Episcopal Church, having been made Bishop of the Diocese in 1887.

He was born in Ireland, January 2nd, 1833. He was consecrated Bishop on January 7th, 1875, and in 1876 was serving as Missionary Bishop in New Mexico. He was the sixth Bishop in the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in order of precedence. In 1912 at the Convention of the Diocese of Easton, held in Elkton, the twenty-fifth anniversary of Bishop Adams' charge in the Diocese was celebrated. A large reception was given him and addresses made by the late Dean Rich and Judge James A. Pearce, representing the clergy and laity of this diocese.

Funeral services were held at the Trinity Cathedral, Easton, Monday, March 8, at 2 o'clock p. m., at which Bishops from the adjoining Diocese officiated.

MILK PORDUCERS ASSOCIATION

The Plan Of How The Present Price Of Milk Is Determined — Prices To Continue Until July.

H. D. Woodall, vice-president of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association in Philadelphia, said the price of milk had been too low since the middle of November and farmers had lost money. He advised the farmers if they wanted to get better prices they must pay more attention to the condition of it when brought to the cooling distributing station.

H. D. Alleback, vice-president of the association in Philadelphia, makes clear how the present price of milk is determined. The prices agreed on at this time are to continue until July 1 for what is known as the basic quantity of milk. This basic quantity of milk was determined by the milk delivered by each producer through October, November and December. Suppose that a farmer delivered 2,100 pounds of milk in October, 2,000 pounds in December, making a total of 6,000 pounds for the three months, or an average of 2,000 pounds per month. This is known as the basic quantity. For January, February, March and April he is allowed to bring in 100 per cent of this basic quantity; for the months of May, June and July he is allowed to bring in 110 per cent and for August 105 per cent. In September he is only allowed 100 per cent of the basic quantity. Now, if we suppose that this farmer's basic quantity is 2,000 pounds of milk, and if during the month of February he produced 2,200 pounds of milk, he then has a surplus of 200 pounds of milk. The basic quantity is paid for at a regular set price, which will continue in effect up to July 1, 1920. This basic price varies at different cooling stations, depending on the freight zone in which they are located. The price at the Easton cooling station for 4 per cent milk is $3.47 per hundred pounds, the price varying 4 cents for each tenth of a point in test up or down.

Taking the case above, where the farmer had 200 pounds of surplus milk, this is paid for on the basis of the price of 92 score butter on the New York market plus 20 per cent, which means that the price for surplus milk will vary from month to month during the present year, but that of the basic quantity is definitely established and agreed upon as $3.47 up to July 1, 1920. New shippers in the business receive pay on the basis of 50 per cent of their milk at the maximum price and 50 per cent at the computed price. It is now very well understood generally and insures this price of $3.17 per hundred pounds milk during the spring and early summer months.

CHESTERTOWN MAY HAVE A BOARD OF HEALTH

Under the provisions of a measure which was introduced in the Legislature last week, sponsored by the State Board of Health, Chestertown may be required to have a Board of Health for the purpose of enforcing health laws of the State and to regulate the operation of conditions calculated to be beneficial to the public health.

The measure provides that the Mayor or the City Council or President of the Board of Town Commissioners shall name a physician to act with him on the Board, and the two in turn will select a third member to comprise the Board.

All matters affecting the public health will be in their hands, and they will be required to keep in close touch with the State Board, to see that all regulations and edicts are strictly obeyed.

Formerly the Board of County Commissioners has acted as the county Board of Health, and the County Health Officer, a physician, has cooperated in maintaining an observance of health laws.
