The Retailer's Invitation

This is my home, here where you come to buy
My business home, you are my guest, and I
Your cordial host. Let not alone the erade
Possess your thoughts. In you I hope I've made
A lasting friend; and that if you recall
This little visit and our deal at all,
It may be only as the means we found
To meet and mingle on a common ground.

This is my house, thrown open to my guests,
While I with joy comply with their requests.
Daily I hold reception, eight to six,
Striving to please the ones with whom I mix,
Hoping to fill each several, varying need
With courtesy devoid of sordid greed.
The thought of "getting" I would put away
And concentrate on "giving" all the day.

This is the house my business built for you
To visit; and if my house can do
A service for my valued list of friends
It will have served my fondly-wished-for ends.
Forget that you are "patron" or that I
Am called a "dealer," as the days go by
Let neighborly relationship prevail,
And this, my home and yours, can never fail.

SCHOOL NOTES

The following are the details for the contest now going on in the Chestertown Elementary Schools for the Local History Pageant:

Pupils should learn the history of Chestertown.

Ideals—Civic pride in our achievement; better understanding of present conditions; greater interest in our future development; mutual understanding, appreciation, and forbearance.

Correlations — History, Reading, Oral and Written Language, Spelling, Writing, Geography, Arithmetic, and Hand Work.

Rules of the Game—Each grade shall work as a grade, independently of any other grade. The teacher shall direct the work, but the work itself shall be done by the pupils. Under the inspiration of the teacher, the ideas as far as possible should come from the pupils, the teacher' part being to keep up the interest and to guide the work in the correct channel. The incentive for the pupil may be "the prize for our room." The incentive for the teacher should be the ideal of excellent work performed under the impelling force of interest and co-operation. Much stress should be put upon the word, "our;" the teacher should see that the pupils obtain all the joy and helpfulness from co-operative work.

Pupil incentive—Two prizes will be awarded to the two rooms making the highest and next highest scores.

Time Allotment and Method of Scoring—Two weeks to get historical facts—facts in connection with the growth of Chestertown (from earliest record to present day. 5 points for greatest number worthwhile facts; 3 points for second; 5 points for best wording of facts; 3 points for second. One month to arrange episodes—10 points for most artistic conception; 7 points for second; 20 points for most interesting development; 15 points for second. One month to prepare for presentation.—20 points for best portrayal; 15 points for second; 15 points for cleverest costuming; 10 points for second.
