Prompt Insurance Settlement

The following letter is self-explanatory:

Chestertown, Md., April 20, 1920.
Mr. James G. Beck,
Chestertown, Md.

Dear Sir—I wish to thank you, and your adjuster, Mr. Rogers, for the prompt and satisfactory manner in which you handled the insurance on my personal property. Just a few hours after the fire on Sunday afternoon, without being notified, you were on the scene and had gotten permission from Mr. Rogers for me to remove the carcasses. Two days later Mr. Rogers arrived and adjusted same, and three days later the draft was here.

I certainly appreciate the very courteous manner in which I have been treated and take pleasure in recommending "The Continental" to the insuring public.

Very truly yours
ROBERT J. McWHORTER.

WEDDING NOTES

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season took place at Chestertown, Wednesday, April 21, when Miss Bessie Perry became the bride of John Thomas Kibler.

The Reverend Henry B. Martin, rector of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church performed the ceremony.

Miss Perry, who is the third daughter of John Mackey Perry of Centreville, entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Her gown was a French creation of white embroidered satin, made with a court train and trimmed with rose point lace brought from France by the groom. She wore a crown of rose point over her tulle veil and carried a presentation bouquet of orchids and white lilacs with a shower of lillies of the valley. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Frances E. Perry as maid of honor, and Miss Isabel Perry, her sister, Miss Mary Leonard Tripe, of Royal Oak, Md., and Mrs. John S. Wilson, Jr., of Philadelphia, all of whom wore gowns of cream filet lace, with girdles of old blue satin, and hats of brown maline trimmed with wreaths of old blue wheat and pink rose buds. They carried pink sweet peas.

The flower girl, little Miss Ellen deR. Skinner, of Philadelphia, a neice of the bride, was charmingly dressed in a ruffled blue ordandy frock with hat to match, and carried a basket of sweetheart roses. Two nephews of the bride, S. Scott Beck, Jr., and John W. Perry, Jr., were ribbon bearers.

Mr. Kibler's brother, Charles W. Kibles, was best man, and the ushers were Andrew C. Otto, of New York City; Joseph A. Molloy, of Lowell, Mass.; Marion R. Bailey, of Baltimore, Charles G. Hines, of Philadelphia; S. Scott Beck and Thomas Massey, of Chestertown, and John W. Perry, of Centreville, brother of the bride.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and spring floewrs. Long condles twined with running cedar fastened to the entrance of each pew, formed an unusual aisle and a profusion of candles all over the edifice made a scene of brilliant beauty.

Mrs. Jesse Medders presided skillfully at the organ rendering appropriate music before and during the ceremony.

Mr. Ballard sang "Oh Perfect Love" during the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. S. Scott Beck.

Miss Perry is prominent socially, in Philadelphia, Swarthmore and the Eastern Shore of Maryland. She was engaged in Red Cross work during the war, belonging to the Pennsylvania South Eastern Chapter, Canteen.

Mr. Kibler was a Captain in the 23rd Infantry of the 2nd Division and served two years in France, having been wounded twice. He is Athletic Director of Washington College.

After an extended trip North, Mr. and Mrs. Kibler will reside in Chestertown, having taken apartments in the home fo the late J. A. Wickes on High street.

Among the many presents was a silver dish from the students of Washington College a clock from the High School, three $5 gold pieces from the Elementary School, a check for $500, etc., etc.

April Court

The April term of the Circuit Court for Kent county convened Monday morning last with Judge Lewin W. Wickes on the bench, and court officers as follows: Clerk A. Parks Rasin; Sheriff, Wm. C. Townsend; Crier, Charles P. Hodgkin; Baliff to Grand Jury, James P. Parrott; T. V. Simpson and Thomas Meeks, baliffs to Petit Jury.

After the usual formality of calling and adjourning of the January non-jury term the Court ordered the drawing of the juries for the present session, which resulted as follows:

Grand Jury—James W. Stevens, foreman; H. Clay Hendrickson, Geo. M. Glenn, Hyland P. Smith, Arlington L. Sparks, M. Miller Strong, Chas. H. Skirven, Theodore H. Wood, Thomas C. Roe, J. Frisby Newcomb, Julian Jones, W. Edward Loud, Joseph Downey, Archibald Ramage, Geo. P. Hendrickson, Samuel G. Caldwell, George Howard, Geo. W. Owens, Eben F. Perkins, Wm. P. Durding, Walter B. Barnes, Richard C. Leaverton, Isaac Gibbs.

Petit Jury — W. Thomas Jones, Robert G. Nicholson, Harry F. Jefferson, Wm. M. Wagner, A. Earle Nicholson, Harry R. Nicols, E. Thos. Masse, Franklin B. Harper, Carson W. Harris, Clifton L. Jarrell, Geo. E. Leary, Edward A. Loud, Harold M. Baker, R. Wesley Moffett, Samuel G. Roseberry, Geo. W. Watts, Wm. G. Smyth, Elmer S. Jarman, Linwood Redmile, Frank V. Simpers, John C. Wilson, Harry Holt, Wm. J. Hepbron, Ralph W. Barnett, John E. Hadaway.

The morning session was occupied in reading the several dockets, entering motions and assignment of cases.

The first case called for trial was that of the State gainst J. Hero Kelley, fined by Justice R. V. Moffett for failure to pay dog license tax, and appeal taken. The evidence showed that after warrants was served on the defendant he came to town and was issued a license by the father of the J. P. in the latter's absence which the defendant believed exempted him from the penalty of fine. The trial was by jury and after several hours deliberation of that body without agreement the Court dismissed the case.

The grand jury returned presentments against Lewin Davis for violation of the local option law; Earl Green for assault with intention to kill; Wm. G. Seward for desertion.

Court excused E. Thos. Massey and Wm. G. Smyth from jury service.

TUESDAY—Judges Wickes and Hopper on the bench.

Case of Emma Wiggins for larceny of chickens from S. T. Johnson, was tried, verdict guilty and prisoner paroled.

Grand jury returned presentments against Levi Jones for perjury; Joe Wilmer for violation of local option law and Joe Bonner for larceny.

The case of Ollie and Chas. Gland against the Baltimore Life Insurance Co. for $120 occupied the Court and Jury all day Wednesday and on Thursday was, upon petition of H. H. Barroll, attorney for defense, non prossed. R. G. Parks represented the plaintiff.

Earl Green, a well-known Chestertown colored man, was tried for shooting Cornelius Murray, carrying concealed weapons and disorderly conduct and convicted. He was sentenced in each of two indictments to 6 months in House of Correction. S. S. Beck for State, H. W. Vickers for defense.

Wm. Clough charged with larceny, plead guilty, and sentenced was suspended.

The Grand Jury finished their work Wednesday and brought in the following report:

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

Chestertown, Md., April 21, 1920.

To The Honorable, The Judges of the Circuit Court for Kent county.

Gentlemen:—We, the members of the Grand Jury for the April 1920 Term of Court, having finished our present labors do respectfully make the following report:

We have been in session three days, have examined four constables and forty-six witnesses.

We have made eleven presentments and eleven true bills.

We have inspected the jail and found the same in very good condition and nothing needed but a few minor repairs.

We found twelve prisoners in jail, four of whom, namely, Wm. Barlow, Lewis Cripper, James Townsend and John Jones we recommend placed in some institution more suitable for men in their condition.

We recommend that a flagman be placed at the railroad crossing at Kennedyville.

Our attention has been called to the violation of the law pertaining to License for Traders, Real Estate Brokers and Cigarettes, we recommend that the proper authorities see that they are enforced.

The attention of the Grand Jury having called to the violation of the Sunday Laws governing the sale of ice cream, ice cream cones, cigars, tobacco, etc., we respectfully suggest that the attention of the various town and county officers be called to the repeated violations, that they may be checked.

We wish to thank the Court for its courtesy to us, and for the clear, straight forward charge given us by Judge Wickes.

Also we thank our State's Attorney, S. Scott Beck, Esq., for his courteous and able assistance during the session.

We also extend our thanks to all other officers for their kindness to us.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES W. STEVENS,
Foreman.

True Copy—Test:
A. PARKS RASIN, Clerk.

All the Petit Jury was discharged Thursday morning and the remainder of the cases tried before the Court.

Leonard Johnson, a colored boy of Still Pond, was tried for having carnal knowledge with a girl 15 years old, found guilty and paroled in custody of his father, Daniel Johnson.

Levi Jones was convicted of perjury, sentenced suspended and paroled in custody of Robert R. Hill for 12 months.

Joseph Brown was convicted of steoling a turkey. Sentenced was suspended and he was paroled in the custody of F. B. Harper for twelve months.

Wm. G. Seward, of Church Hill, was tried for desertion of his wife, Mrs. Edith Dodson Seward, and two interesting children. The Court rendered a verdict of guilty. Sentence suspended in No. 1 but in No. 10, he was ordered to pay Mrs. Seward $6 per week for one year and to be held in his own recognizance in the sum of $325 as security. S. S. Beck represented Mrs. Seward, while Harrison W. Vickers appeared for Mr. Seward.

Lewin Davis and Joseph Wilmer were each tried for violating the local option law and convicted. Each was fined $100 and costs and confined in House of Correction for six months. Lewin Davis paid his fine.

John Wesley Cotton was convicted of stealing blankets from Rev. S. S. Hepburn and selling them to gypsies and sentenced to House of Correction for six months.

Court finally adjourned yesterday at noon.

HAND OF DEATH

Miss Mollie Anderson, aged about 60 years, died at the home of her brother-in-law, William Coleman near Church Hill, last week. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Rood, of Ingleside, and interment was made in Church Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte E. Greenwood, wife of the late Henry Greenwood, died at her home, Fairlee, Thursday, aged 68. She leaves one son, Wm. E. Greenwood, and one daughter, Mamie C. Greenwood, and a sister, Miss Emma Smith. The funeral will take place Sunday at 1 p. m. from her late home. Interment in Chester Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Starling will officiate; C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The bearers will be W. B. and Carson Greenwood, W. G. and R. A. Smyth, C. S. and Owen Smith.

James T. Matthews, aged 68 years, living near Golt, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Addie L. Peacock, early Thursday morning from a complication of diseases. Mr. Matthews was a well-known and highly respected citizen of that community, and leaves one son, W. T. Matthews, besides Mrs. Peacock, to mourn his death. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, at Golt, on Saturday morning last, 10.30 o'clock with interment at St. Peter's Protestant Cemetery, near Smyrna.

Charles Wood died at the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington Wednesday, of pneumonia, aged 53. Funeral will be held this Saturday morning at Union Church at 11 o'clock, interment at Union Cemetery.

Kennedyville Farms Favored By The State Authorities

One hundred and fifty farms in the vicinity of Kennedyville have been selected by the State College for special community study. Kennedyville is one of two sections in Maryland picked out for this careful review by the State agricultural authorities co-operating with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Back of this governmental inquiry is the wish to see how far agriculture in Maryland is on a basis satisfactory to the farm population. It is felt by the State and Federal authorities that the frequently repeated opinion that farming in the United States offers small inducement to people to stick to farming as a business or to take up farming as a life occupation should be sifted down to the truth of the matter. The fact that many farmers do sell out and quit farming requires some search into the causes for such action. The further fact that many young men and women leave their farm communities for city work needs probing to find out whether the reason for this cityward movement is prejudicial to the best interests of the State and Nation. A search into the working and living conditions of a few typical farm communities of the State, it is believed, will throw light upon these questions for Maryland.

Very shortly a visit will be made to the Kennedyville farms, farm by farm, by Miss Emily F. Hoag, a specialist in rural conditions. Miss Hoag, representing the State College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will make the acquaintance of the Kennedyville farm families and seek to establish relations of friendship and understanding with them. It is hoped that the social economic conditions surrounding the occupations of farming in the vicinity of Kennedyville will prove to be such as favor a sound agriculture in Maryland.

OPEN FARMERS MEETING

The Chestertown Grange will hold an open meeting on Thursday, April 29th, at 7.30 p. m., in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School. Two subjects will be discussed at this meeting which are of interest to most Kent county farmers, namely, "Turkeys," and "Seed Corn."

H. W. Rickey, Poultry Specialist of the Maryland Extension Service, will be present to address the meeting on "Turkeys." The Chestertown Grange recognizes the fact that the raising of utrkeys is a very difficult undertaking to the average farmer or his wife and has, therefore, chosen this subject and secured the able service of Mr. Rickey to lead the discussion.

The Grange is trying to have F. W. Oldenburg present at this meeting to discuss the subject of seed corn. County Agent Derrick will address the meeting on seed corn provided Mr. Oldenburg cannot attend. One or two successful seed corn growers in Kent county, probably Josiah Massey, Tom Bryan or Arthur Harris will also speak on the subject of seed corn.

Several musical numbers will be included in the program. All Kent county farmers, their wives and families, and all others interested in agriculture are cordially invited to attend this free open meeting.
