DR. CARPENTER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Was Driving To Baltimore With Dr. O. O. Trice When His Machine Turned Turtle Near Town.

Dr. James H. Carpenter, of Salisbury, lies in the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, suffering with a fractured collar bone and fractures of both arms as the result of an automobile accident which happened six miles from Chestertown at the turn in Locust Grove while he and Dr. O. O. Trice were driving to Baltimore. Whether or not Dr. Carpenter sustained other injuries is not known. The accident happened on Tuesday. The machine which Dr. Carpenter was driving turned turtle just as he tried to make the turn at a fast pace, throwing the car completely over. Dr. Carpenter was pinned beneath it. Dr. Trice was thrown from the machine but was uninjured. Fortunately the accident happened close to the garage and assistance was given. J. A. Stouffer's car was borrowed and the injured man carried to the hospital.

SAYS WE FACE FAMINE

D. Fred Shamberger, vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, Monday sounded a warning that unless stringent measures are immediately taken to help the farmers of the country secure labor and money, the public would starve before the new year.

"I have just returned from Chicago," said Mr. Shamberger, "and the dire need of the farmer for manpower and money has been borne home. I passed thousands of farms on my way back where the production is 50 per cent behind normal.

"If something is not done, and done quick, to induce young men to go back to the farm, the country will face the situation of starving to death. Country boys, who have been earning about $45 a month, are deserting the farm by the wholesale, seeking employment in the city, in shipyards, in factories and on the railroads. I know of a case where a boy left the farm and secured a position on a railroad. He was making $45 a month. Now he is drawing $96 for two week's work."

Big business interests ought to get together and study the farm situation, asserted Mr. Shamberger.

15 TRUCKS VISIT TOWN

Ship By Truck Good Roads Left Baltimore May 17th — Baltimore's Participation In National Tour Week Got Under Way Last Monday.

On Monday morning at 9.30 o'clock a caravan of motor trucks left the City Hall Plaza, Baltimore, Md., for a tour of the Eastern Shore. A number of leading commercial cars were in line and accompanying them were several trucks belonging to the Army Navy and Marine Recruiting Services. They were bedecked with banners and bunting and presented an attractive array to go forth as the representatives of Baltimore. They reached Chestertown Tuesday and were warmly received.

This week of May 17-22nd is being celebrated throughout the country as National Ship By Truck-Good Roads Week. It is a week to educate the people throughout the various states to the possibilities of the motor truck and to arouse a national cry for more and better highways. On last Monday caravans of trucks streamed forth from every leading city in the country to carry this message of quick and economic transportation and better highways.

This is a movement of national scope in which the AAA's the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Automobile Dealers' Association, the Federal Highway Council, the National Grange and other kindred organizations are not only lending their moral support but are giving physical support to further this movement.

The tour is running on a scheduled time and is covering the following principal cities: Belair, Elkton, Chestertown, Denton, Hurlock, Salisbury, Pocomoke City, Princess Anne, Cambridge, Easton, and return by way of Centreville. They will spend the entire week on the road and large demonstrations will be given at the larger night stops.

Commander Weems of the Naval Recruiting Service took a portable moving picture outfit on the tour with a number of films dealing with motor trucks and better roads. There is a Ship By Truck real and a Crooked Roads reel of especial interest.

TOMESTONES AND MONUMENTS

FERRY TO START JUNE 15TH

President Stieff and General Manager S. A. Tubman, of the Rock Hall Ferry line, were in Chestertown on Tuesday. They had been to Rock Hall inspecting their terminus and were greatly pleased at the progress being made. They stated that the first trip of the Ferry would take place Tuesday, June 15th. Preparations are being made for a big celebration upon the opening of the line. Rock Hall residents are agreed that the management are building a strong and substantial wharf. Land at Rock Hall has jumped up 100 per cent.

IMPROVED SERVICE

Postmaster Thornton and Mark Mullen, of the Philadelphia postoffice, were in Chestertown Thursday afternoon in conference with Postmaster T. D. Bowers in reference to the motor truck service from the Chestertown postoffice. It is quite probable that the Easton-Middletown motor truck will be made a standard Star Route, and that the mails from Baltimore, Washington, and points south will be brought regularly by ferry to Love Point thence to Chestertown and other parts of the county along the route. The motor truck service on this route has been so successful that the Government will reward its patrons with greatly improved mail facilities as well as with convenient and safe transportation facilities for produce. Messrs. Thornton and Mullen were enroute to Love Point to confer with officials of the Ferry Company with a view to starting the route as soon as possible. When this service is inaugurated Chestertown will receive its first mail about 8 o'clock in the morning, giving the daily papers several hours in advance of the present train schedule. It will also have an early afternoon mail out for Baltimore, Washington, and points south, besides the regular train service. We urge the farmers and produce growers to continue to use the motor truck service, for the great service it is rendering the general public.

SOME BEAUTIFUL AIR FLIGHTS

Lieut. Phillips Give The People Of Chestertown Some Samples Of Stunts In A Airplane—Recruiting.

The U. S. air service in order to procure young men to enter that branch is making a drive this week. A camouflaged airship has been placed in Kent Square all the week on exhibition in charge of Corporal Reese, of Kentucky, and Corporal Honicher, of West Virginia, both of the 258th Aerial Squadron. Corporal Reese says every opportunity will be given for learning any trade in the service and it is also the highest paying branch. These two men will gladly give any information needed.

In connection with this drive Lieut. Phillips, a native of Virginia, with his machinist, Corporal Davis, of Missouri, sailed over Chestertown from Aberdeen Monday and after a series of hair curling stunts gracefully landed in Wm. A. Bell's field. At noon Tuesday the people of this vicinity were astonished to see another wonderful exhibition of flying. Lieut. Philips will return Saturday for another exhibition. He promises to take the first five who enlist from Kent to camp.

Dr. GALPIN TO VISIT KENT..

The Kennedyville Grange through the Home Demonstration Agent has arranged for an open meeting Tuesday evening, May 25th, when Dr. C. J. Galpin, Economist in Charge Rural Life Studies, will deliver a lecture.

Dr. Galpin was formerly connected with the University of Wisconsin and after services abroad during the war was put in charge of a new office which was created in the Department of Agriculture known as the Bureau of Farm Management. This department in co-operation with the Maryland Extension Service and the Inter-Church World Movement are making a farm survey at Kennedyville under Miss Emilie Hoag.

Kent county should feel highly honored that one of her rural sections should be selected for this survey and it is hoped she will show her appreciation by giving Dr. Galpin a large audience on Tuesday, May 25th, at 8 p. m. This meeting is open to the public and every progressive person should be there.

Kent county now presents a scene which is unsurpassed for beauty anywhere and we know of no better way to describe it than by paraphrasing from Folger McKinsey:

Kentland, the beautiful—yonder she lies
Under the light of her beautiful skies;
Kentland, the wonderful, smiling away
Over the blue of her broad, blue bay,
Out of her valleys and far on her hills,
Kentland, the beautiful, sings in her rills.
Phantoms of laughter go dancing apace
Over her meadows, with every young face
Smiling and wonderful, glad of the light
That decks every dream of her, daytime and night,
Glad of her loveliness—Ah, her dear eyes,
Kentland, the beautiful, yonder she lies!
Kentland, the beautiful, wonderous and sweet,
With Chesapeake wandering there at her feet;
the mists of the morning, the shadows of dusk,
The spring with its perfume of balsam and musk,
The summer, the autumn, the winter time, too,—
Kentland, the beautiful, hats off to you!

CLARENCE SHEPPARD KILLED

An Automobile Accident Near Chester Bridge Friday Night — Herbert Brown In Jail Charged With Manslaughter.

Three Chestertown colored men in a Ford automobile, out for a joy ride, about midnight Friday ran into a telephone pole near Rumsey Anthony's farm gate, a short distance from Chester bridge, with fatal result. The driver was Herbert Brown while Clarence Sheppard and Lewin Davis were his companions. The auto evidently was going at a rapid pace and in making the turn got away from the chauffeur and crashed into a pole. Sheppard got the blow crushing the back of his skull while the other two escaped with slight wounds —one a cut lip while Davis did not receive a scratch. Sheppard was carried to Easton Hospital where he died Saturday afternoon. He was an industrious carter and seldom got into trouble. His father, John Sheppard, works for J. D. Bacchus. Herbert Brown was arrested on the charge of manslaughter and is now in Centreville jail awaiting a hearing.

A WONDERFUL PAGEANT

The teachers of the Chestertown Elementary School, Miss Stuart, principal, have been working faithfully for some weeks on an exhibition to be given on Washington College Campus at 3 o'clock next Friday, May 28th. It will be one of the most interesting and elaborate undertakings of this school.

Some months ago the children entered a contest to see who could glean the most facts pertaining to the history of Chestertown. The result of this effort was so gratifying that the pageant was decided upon to present some of the most important events. The teachers and parents are working hard to put inta action these different episodes and their efforts will no doubt be rewarded by an appreciative audience.

The recent statement of Kent county banks show the following amounts on deposit:

Chestertown Bank	$886,573.91
Kent Savings Bank	702,550.54
Millington Bank	172,883.73
People's Bank	481,689.24
Third National Bank	1,440,763.55
Total	$3,684,460.97

Another interesting item in these statements showing the condition of the money market is the bills payable as follows:

Chestertown Bank	$40,000
Kent Savings Bank	35,000
Millington Bank	34,500
People's Bank	47,500
Third National Bank	175,000

The people of Kent are fortunate in having such well managed institutions.

Auto Notes.—An Overland Model 4 touring car passed thru Chestertown Wednesday at noon on a 7,000 mile non-stop test under the auspices of the Overland Harper Co., of Philadelphia, Pa. In making the turn at Brown's corner, over the bridge, they ran into the bank and broke a wheel off but the motor never skipped. A new wheel was gotten at Clendaniel's garage and they continued their trip.

Robert A. Shallcross, of Rock Hall, has purchased a Norwalk truck and the Kent Construction Co. has ordered two 1½ ton trucks from the Noland-Bennett-Russell Co.

More Stock Killed.—In addition to the five heifers belonging to Lloyd T. Boyce, of near Centreville, which were found dead by the road side last Friday morning, presumably from eating grass that had been treated with an arsenic solution, a number of other valuable animals have fallen victims to the same poison during the week.

Saturday morning the following farmers reported that they had lost stock in a similar manner:

Charles H. Jarman, of near Centreville, two lambs.

Mrs. H. D. Massey, of Church Hill, one cow.

Edward D. Leiby, of near Centreville, two cows.

Henry Smith, of Rich Neck, three sheep and two heifers.

To Help Fishermen.—It has been announced from Washington that the Navy Department will co-operate with the menhaden fishermen, who plan to utilize aeroplanes to assist them in spotting huge schools of the fish, to the extent of allowing the planes of the fishermen to use the aviation field of the naval base at Hampton Roads. No naval airmen will be employed in the work of scouting for the fish, but all of the Government's data collected on hundreds of flights off the Virginia coast will be placed at the disposal of the fliers who will be employed by the fishing concerns.

The menhaden fishing industry is one of the largest on Chesapeake bay. There are 15 or 20 large factories engaged throughout the year in converting the catch of a fleet of 25 or more trawlers into oil and fertilizer. Hundreds of men are employed, including experienced fishermen and seamen, who annually catch scores of thousands of menhaden.

Mrs. Annie L. Glasscock, 1823 Bolton street, Baltimore, was granted an absolute divorce in the Circuit Court Thursday from Dr. Arthur B. Glasscock, with $10 a month permanent alimony. They were married November 14, 1888, at Fairlee, Kent county, Md., and separated December 16, 1915. Mrs. Glasscock said her husband left her without cause while they were living at 1623 Eutaw Place and went to board on North avenue. She also said that since then the only money her husband gave her was what the court allowed, adding: "He said he would not give me enough to buy a bucket of coal to keep me warm all winter." They have four children, all grown, except an 18-year-old son, who is married.
